Toronto people are wondering whom the following paragraph from Town Topics refers to: "Conversations at London dinner tables are not always left among the nozzles and champagne-dress. Many little stories and personal anecdotes spring to birth with the entree, like one going the rounds now, which concerns a woman from Toronto, prominent for some years for her complexion and her gowns, which have been the subjects of amused comment and criticism at home and abroad; the first for its elaborate texture, and the second for their splendor, which on all occasions rivals the fabled attire of the Queen of Sheba. Her mother, too, serenely forgetful of her age and matronly figure, is hung at all hours of the day with as much purple and the lilac as possible, and the combined effect of the mother and her tall daughter is, to say the very least, overwhelming. The daughter, who, so far as accomplishments go, is really very clever, has been staying in London with some very influential people, and the homage from the British public and the continual basking in reflected glory has turned her blonde tresses to a shimmering extent. At an informal dinner given at the Carlton by a fashionable Canadian woman she was given over to the tender mercies of good-looking Englishmen, who escorted her in to dinner, and on finding she came from Toronto enquired if she knew a certain girl friend of his who has been in the public eye on account of her success as a singer. The woman was dubious; she perhaps quite sure if she knew her, perhaps she did, perhaps she did not. In a word, she was unable in her haste in decision to decide either way. Then, at summing up the entire social question in Toronto, she added: 'You see, Mr. So-and-so, our position in Toronto is really unique. Our house in Toronto is almost like government house, for we call on nobody and everyone calls on us.' The man unfortunately was not very much impressed, despite the explanation, and since then has had his opinions on the subject of climbing brasses an element of novelty, is received with enthusiasm. This present development is made of white habotail silk with a border of ciel blue. Made of the flowered challis, organdie or lawn, of plain cashmere, nun's veiling, or tulle, or any of the summer silks, it would develop charmingly. The pattern is in seven sizes—32 to 44 inches bust measure. For 32 bust the kimono needs 11-1/4 yards of goods 23 inches wide, or 8-1/2 yards 27 inches wide, or 6-1/2 yards 36 inches wide, or 5-1/2 yards 42 inches wide, each with 17-8 yards of contrasting material 20 inches wide for the bands. Price of pattern, 10 cents.

1930—Lady's Princess Kimono. With Skirt Joined to the Waist. Pattern No. 1930. All Seams Allowed. The kimono has come to be so much of a necessity to the woman at home, in her hours of negligence that any adaptation of the original idea which embraces an element of novelty, is received with enthusiasm. WHAT TO WEAR

"Learn Bon Ton and See the World"—Bobbie Burns.

Fichus are the latest thing now—fichus of all colors, shapes and designs of fabrics, from the plain and simple to the most elaborate and stylish. They are so charming on a summer dress. There is a touch of romance to the fichu; it has a quaint old-world air of its own. One can be made very easily by yourself at home and they are as charming on a summer dress. There is a touch of romance to the fichu; it has a quaint old-world air of its own. One can be made very easily by yourself at home and they are as charming on a summer dress.

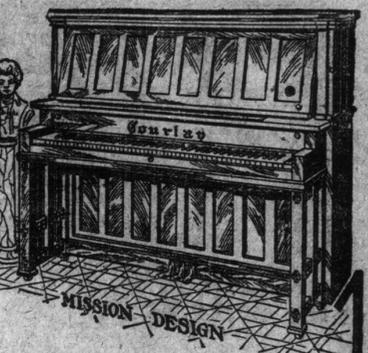

How to Make Use of Fichus. A clever woman will take advantage of this new fashion by using one or two wearable fichus for use with her house dresses and removable from the frock itself. By adding one in just the right shade to plain dress, the dress, afternoon touch can be given. The new fichu almost drapes the whole body. But for grand occasions, the fichu is destined to come in great prominence. Some exquisite frocks are shown by leading designers, both here and abroad; with fichus whose ends are drawn in to form part of the deep folds to which the fichu is attached, and thence three-quarters of the length of the skirt with fancy and elaborate lace or embroidered ends. The object of the designers is to give new ideas into ready acceptance. Except in the form of a plain shoulder drape, without frills or ruff, the fichu is not suitable for the street.

Gourlay Pianos

Add the One Charm That Perfects the Home Circle

Well-to-do homes need the joys that go with art to make culture a blessing and happiness complete. Art in the home requires no other inspiration than a piano that attracts the members of the family to itself both by its intrinsic beauty and the lovely music it yields.

Are the chief exponent of high-grade piano building in Canada. Established in design and finish, and without a peer in full, rich, melodious tone, they are the most "companionable" pianos possible, perfecting with the purest music happy home life.

Besides, if they are a little high-priced, they are worth the price, because the GOURLAY PIANOS are the MOST SERVICEABLE AND DEPENDABLE instruments—wearing well and staying in tune in all sorts of weather. East End Day Nursery

The lawn of the East End Day Nursery was well decorated for the garden party yesterday afternoon in aid of the new dining room. At night the musical entertainers made the evening one of joyous festivity. A large number of the lady managers and friends of the institution were present and were greatly entertained by the president, Mrs. McDonald. The Broadview Boys' Brigade Band supplied the music which was most enjoyed by the children. The ladies who have interested themselves in this institution are engaged in a most commendable work. Their object is to provide for the children of the day, to go to work. The object of the party was to raise funds for the day nursery. THEY WAIT FOR CERTAIN GIRLS.

UTICA, N.Y., June 18.—Young college students who for years have passed their vacations acting as waiters at the hotels along the St. Lawrence River are to be banished from that profession up that way—at least, the good-looking ones—because as the hotel proprietors say, they are too much given to flirting with the girls guests. NEW SOCIETY AMUSEMENT. PARIS, June 18.—Paris was shocked last week to learn that the chief attraction at a soiree given by a fashionable matron the other day was nothing more nor less than a cockfight. There were only two birds and one of these was killed. Several thousand francs changed hands. JEWEL CASE FOUND. LONDON, June 18.—The jewel case lost by the Dowager Duchess of Roxburghe during railway journey from London to Doncaster, June 15, was found intact in the car where it had been misplaced. BURNED TO DEATH WHILE CURLING HAIR. BINGHAMTON, N.Y., June 18.—While heating a curling iron over a lamp as she was dressing, Mrs. Earl Boarder received fatal burns by the sudden explosion of the lamp, which deluged her with burning oil. Luxurious Ocean Travel. The modern ocean steamships, and the new mammoth ships, America and Kai Iserin Augusta Victoria of the Hamburg-American line deserve the title, in fact, there are few hotels that provide a greater variety of luxuries than are to be found on these ships. Passenger elevators, a la carte restaurant, palm gardens, electric lights, baths, friseur and manicure parlors, tourist shops, gymnasiums, telephone exchanges, and now safety deposit vaults. If they could only provide golf links and tennis courts, surely they would be complete.

To Get More Strength from Your Food.

WHEN the Bowels are filled with undigested food we may be a great deal worse off than if we were half starved. Because food that stays too long in the Bowels decays there, just as if it stayed too long in the open air. Well, when food decays in the Bowels, through delayed and overdue action, what happens? The millions of little Suction Pumps that line the Bowels and Intestines then draw the Poisons from the decayed Food, instead of the Nourishment they were intended to draw. This Poison gets into the blood and, in time, spreads all over the body, unless the Cause of Constipation is promptly removed. That cause of Constipation is Weak, or Lazy Bowel Muscles. When your Bowel-Muscles grow flabby they need Exercise to strengthen them, not "Physic" to pamper them. There's only one kind of Artificial Exercise for the Bowel-Muscles. Its name is "CASARETS," and its price is Ten Cents a box. So, if you want the same natural action that a six mile walk in the country would give you, (without the weariness) take one Casaret at a time, with intervals between, till you reach the exact condition you desire. One Casaret at a time will properly cleanse a foul Breath, or Coated Tongue. Don't fail to carry the Vest Pocket Casaret Box with you constantly. All Drugstores sell them—over ten million boxes a year. Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "GGT."

Normal School Exhibit.

The work of the children of the Normal School was placed on exhibition yesterday morning. It consisted of clay modeling, basket weaving, cardboard work, drawing and the collections of the nature study class. The exhibit is most interesting, and reflects great credit on the students and their instructor, J. H. Wilkinson. It has very limited space and accommodation for this work. The exhibit will be open until Friday, and is well worth a visit by those interested in this kind of work. Principal Scott extends a cordial invitation to all who appreciate this constructive feature of academic work.

"DUKE" COLLINS A HERO.

Captures a Bear and Rescues a Woman in Distress. An amusing incident occurred at Hanlan's Point yesterday afternoon. It was while Prof. Astdale was exhibiting his trained animals. The biggest bear in the bunch had just finished one of his "stunts" and returned to his seat. In order to view the crowd he jumped around, put his paws on the back of his chair and leaned forward. He lost his balance and went over on his head. More frightened than the spectators at the accident, he started for his stable. Fortunately for a stout colored woman, she was in the vicinity of the bear and was taking. Seeing the huge animal making towards her, she at once concluded "Mr. Bear" was after her. Throwing away her red umbrella and lifting her skirts, she started to run, but instead of turning to one side she kept on in the direction of the bear's home. A rescuer was, however, at hand. "Duke" Collins was standing a short distance away. He grasped the situation, likewise his walking stick and forthwith captured the truant, led him back to Astdale, where he—the bear, not the Duke—was whipped, for running away.

TOWN ALMOST WIPED OUT.

Bad Fire at St. Philippe, Near La Prairie, Que. OTTAWA, June 18.—(Special.)—The city can pay the membership fees and the expenses of delegates to the convention of the Ontario Union of Mounties, but it cannot do so in connection with the Canadian Union to which the Ontario body belongs. This peculiar fact is given in the opinion of the city solicitor of Ottawa.

Why Pure Water Gets Office Work Done Better

BECAUSE those in the offices do not get nearly enough bodily exercise, their brains grow weary along in the afternoon, and work drags. Sedentary occupations mean livery livers, sluggish kidneys, slack digestions. These mean bodily wastes clogging the brain machinery. Water-drinking is the remedy. Office people seem to need even more water than ordinary folks. Ten glasses a day is none too much. Do you drink that much PURE water a day? Do your office assistants? Business men who have adopted this dime-a-gallon service say it pays good dividends, because it so increases the efficiency of the office force. Your own bodily good, moreover—that is worth more than York Springs Water costs, isn't it?
