

A BROAD-MINDED DIVINE

DOES NOT HESITATE TO SPEAK FOR THE GOOD HIS WORDS WILL DO.

A Scholarly Christian and a Beloved Pastor Who Believes in Training the Body as Well as the Mind.

The twenty-ninth day of April is a notable day in the history of the Memorial church in Syracuse, as it is the anniversary of the installation of the Rev. Samuel R. Calthrop, D.D., the eminent divine who so long has ministered to them spiritually as pastor of the church.

Dr. Calthrop was born in England and received his preparatory scholastic training at St. Paul's School, London. Entering Trinity College, Cambridge, he soon became a bright figure in that brilliant coterie of scholars, literary men and poets, and his associates at the university. In the middle of the century he visited Syracuse and received his first impressions of the young city that nearly a score of years later he was to choose as his home and in which his labors have been so long and effective. The masterly pulpit addresses of Dr. Calthrop have had their fundamentals drawn from the deepest research. His people have been instructed by him, not only in things spiritual, but in the elements of the broadest culture, in literature, in art and in science. His young men have been taught a muscular system of morality. In these and in many other ways he has endeavored himself to his congregation, which is one of the most highly cultured and wealthy in the city.

REV. DR. CALTHROP, SYRACUSE, N.Y.

Dr. Calthrop has a striking personality. To the eye he is a most picturesque figure. His head and face, framed in luxuriant masses of silky snow-white hair and beard, are of the type of Bryant and Longfellow. Although over seventy years old his rather spare figure is firm and erect and every movement is active and graceful. His whole life long he has been an ardent admirer and promoter of athletic sports, and even at his advanced age plays tennis with all the vigor and skill of a young man. To Syracuseans, perhaps, this remarkably virile man is most widely known, apart from his profession, as a scientist. On a bright April day a reporter followed the winding driveway that curves around the hill leads to Calthrop Lodge, an old-fashioned red brick mansion, surrounded by a grove of oaks and chestnuts. Wearing a black skull cap and a black coat of semi-clerical cut, the master of Calthrop Lodge graciously received the reporter who called to inquire about his health, for, though manfully repressing all possible evidence of his suffering, Dr. Calthrop for many years had been the victim of a distressing ailment, until by fortunate chance he was led to take the remedy which has effected his cure.

During more than half of his pastorate in Syracuse, Dr. Calthrop has been troubled with rheumatism, and at intervals he suffered with the agony from it. At times the pain was so great as to prevent him from walking. Many remedies were tried, but he took the preparation that drove the disease completely from his system. It is a letter written to the editor of The Evening News, of Syracuse, last year, Dr. Calthrop told of his affliction and its cure. This is Dr. Calthrop's letter:

To the Editor of The Evening News: Dear Sir—More than 35 years ago I was afflicted with rheumatism, and it was the worst I ever had. It was followed, and the agonizing pain kept me from the joint.

This made me, for years, and from time to time the weak knee would give out entirely and the swelling would come on, and I was always accompanied by some strain or a sudden stop. The knee gradually recovered, but always was weaker than the other.

About 15 years ago, the swelling recommenced, this time without any wrench at all, and before long I realized that this was rheumatism settling in the weakest part of the body. The trouble came so often that I was obliged to carry an opiate in my pocket everywhere I went. I had a small packet in my waistcoat pocket, but in going to a conference at Buffalo, I forgot it, and the car was damp and cold, before I got to Buffalo my knee was swollen to twice its natural size.

I had seen the good effects that Pink Pills were having in such cases, and I tried them myself with the result that I have never had a twinge or a swelling since. This was effected by taking seven or eight boxes.

I need not say that I am thankful for my recovery, but I am sure that I will add that my knee is far stronger than it has been for 35 years, three times a day.

I gladly give you this statement. Yours, S. R. CALTHROP.

Since writing this letter Dr. Calthrop has not had any visits from his old enemy and is even more cordial now in his recommendation of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than he was then. To the reporter he said:

"I am continually recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to acquaintances and those I chance to meet who are troubled with rheumatism or locomotor ataxia."

"Pink Pills," continued Dr. Calthrop, "are the best thing of the kind I know of. They are infinitely better than most medicines that are put up for sale. I know pretty well what the pills contain and I consider it an excellent prescription. It is such a one as I might get from my doctor, but he would not give it in such a compact form and so convenient to take."

"I recommend the pills highly to all who are troubled with rheumatism, locomotor ataxia or any impoverishment of the blood."

She Ought to Know. Having used Burdock Blood Bitters for 15 years I cannot keep from recommending it to others. I have sold hundreds of bottles from my store, and as I keep other medicines I ought to know which sells best. It is a wonderful medicine. Yours very sincerely, MRS. DONALD KENNEDY, Galedonia, Ont.

A NOTED PREACHER.

The Rev. Dr. Higgins of New York Coming to the Sherbourne and Carlton Street Methodist Churches.

The Board of Management of the Free Victor Mission has secured the services of the Rev. George J. Higgins, D.D., a Presbyterian minister of New York, and pastor of the Union Tabernacle in that city, for next Sunday in the Sherbourne and Carlton-street Methodist Churches. He will also address a mass meeting on the subject of Rescue Mission Work in the Metropolitan Church on Monday evening next. Dr. Higgins is a man of commanding talents, possessing the magic power of fervent oratory, and in his younger days was an infidel lecturer. After his conversion he entered the Presbyterian ministry, and while in charge of a church near Philadelphia, on the breaking out of the American war, he enlisted and during his war experiences saw much of the suffering of the Northern soldiery that he, in conjunction with some other leading citizens of New York, founded the United States Christian Commission for the purpose of arousing the people to a sense of their responsibility for the welfare of those who were fighting for their country. He was appointed by President Lincoln to lecture throughout the United States with the object of raising money for the cause, and in that capacity delivered lectures from Maine to Texas, and in a short time he had raised a half million dollars. He was subsequently appointed superintendent of city missions in New York, and in that office was brought into contact with every phase of the metropolitan life. He has probably seen as much of the vice and wickedness and misery of life as any other man, and his experiences, as told by himself, are thrilling in the extreme. He has started missions in New York and homes for outcasts and friendless men and women, and has been the moving spirit in many a benevolent work in that city for many years. He has officiated in many churches and in his course he has ministered. He has never followed any other man in the ministry, but has built up every church in which he has ministered. He has recently addressed large audiences in Montreal and has been in the city for some time, and he is expected to address the meetings in this city.

He will preach in Sherbourne-street church next Sabbath morning, and in the Carlton-street in the evening, and it is expected that large numbers will turn out to hear him and the Rev. H. A. Fitch, the superintendent of the Free Victor Mission, in the Metropolitan Church on Monday evening.

HUMBLED AND CHEATS.

Some Strong Expressions as to Religious Paraders and Professors. Owing to the storm Missioner Atkinson had a small audience in St. James' Cathedral yesterday noon when he told "How to Lead a Life Worth Living." He maintained that true religion is practical and not poetical and sentimental. He maintained that it was specially fitted for business men, and of the deepest scepticism as to its value. This scepticism was owing to the prevalent impression, which the preacher believed to be too true, that men who make great parade and loud profession of their religion are usually humbugs and mostly cheats.

If you can prove that the general tendency of a life of faith is not to make men better, then I say to you, "Don't be a Christian." Christianity has been the most beneficent and regenerating force in the world. The man who lives by faith may face all the nations of earth and hell and all adverse circumstances with the most perfect equanimity. "Commit your business unto God, with all its cares, difficulties and responsibilities. If God is pleased to send you loss it is only gain in disguise. If He sends you gain, it is only loss in disguise. Whether day or night, it is all the same to the man who lives by faith, because it is God's ordering."

There will be no address to-day. Tomorrow afternoon Mr. Atkinson gives an address to men only in Association Hall.

A GRATEFUL WOMAN.

Mrs. Caffery, of Hamilton, who Does Not Hesitate to Give Credit Where Credit is Due.

Province of Ontario, County of Wentworth, to wit: I, Ann Caffery, wife of Owen Caffery, of the City of Hamilton, in the County of Wentworth, Province of Ontario, do solemnly declare that I am forty-one years of age, and live at 227 Perry-street east, in said city. Three years ago I was afflicted with severe pains in my head, so great was this pain that I thought I was going to die. I became very despondent, my general health was poor and I was as thin as a rail. One day in the morning as when I went to bed, I was so tired that I could not get up. About a year and a half ago my left side became paralyzed, and I was unable to move. I began taking Mr. Ryckman's Kootenay Cure in April, 1895, of which I have now used two and one-half bottles, and have recovered my health. My side has been free from paralysis, numbness has left me, and I feel like a new woman. I cannot speak too highly of this medicine.

And make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is the same force and effect as if made under oath, and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act. (Signed) Ann Caffery.

Taken and acknowledged before me at the City of Hamilton, in the County of Wentworth, this 13th day of December, 1895. (Signed) W. Fred Walker, Notary Public for taking affidavits and a notary public.

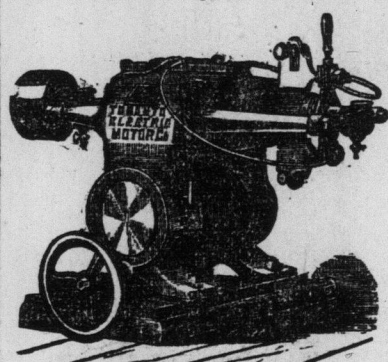

BUBBLES or MEDALS

"Best sarsaparillas." When you think of it how contradictory that term is. For there can be only one best in anything—one best sarsaparilla, as there is one highest mountain, one longest river, one deepest ocean. And that best sarsaparilla is—? . . . There's the rub. You can measure mountain height and ocean depth, but how test sarsaparilla? You could if you were chemists. But then do you need to test it? The World's Fair Committee tested it,—and thoroughly. They went behind the label on the bottle. What did this sarsaparilla test result in? Every make of sarsaparilla shut out of the Fair except Ayer's. So it was that Ayer's was the only sarsaparilla admitted to the World's Fair. The committee found it the best. They had no room for anything that was not the best. And as the best, Ayer's Sarsaparilla received the medal and awards due its merits. Remember the word "best" is a bubble any breath can blow; but there are pins to prick such bubbles. Those others are blowing more "best sarsaparilla" bubbles since the World's Fair pricked the old ones. True, but Ayer's Sarsaparilla has the medal. The pin that scratches the medal proves it gold. The pin that pricks the bubble proves it wind. We point to medals, not bubbles, when we say: The best sarsaparilla is Ayer's.

Still have doubts? Send for the "Curebook." It kills doubts and cures doubts.

A SPECIAL MEETING AT WHICH LITTLE WAS ACCOMPLISHED.

Ald. Macdonald's Motion to Bring About a Reduction of Street Railway Fares Defeated—Information Wanted Concerning the Much-Talked-of Aqueduct Company—Mr. Johnston Petitions for Financial Assistance in His Suit Against the Gas Company.

A special meeting of the City Council was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of dealing with the many notices of motion which the aldermen brought into the meeting last Monday.

The Mayor (Mr. Johnston) intended to clear out these notices as far as possible at every meeting of the council. It is the Mayor's wish that the aldermen should be prepared to deal with their resolutions without loss of time.

The meeting yesterday, it is to be hoped, is not a criterion of those that are to follow during the year. There was a lot of business wanted in the council, and two new members are somewhat of a handicap to the council. The aldermen had a great deal to say, but the Mayor's motion was defeated.

The Aldermen's Motion to Bring About a Reduction of Street Railway Fares Defeated—Information Wanted Concerning the Much-Talked-of Aqueduct Company—Mr. Johnston Petitions for Financial Assistance in His Suit Against the Gas Company.

The only discussion that amounted to anything was over Ald. Macdonald's motion to authorize the Mayor to negotiate with the Toronto Railway Co. for the purpose of securing a reduction of the fare. The aldermen were in favor of the motion, but the Mayor's motion was defeated.
