A platoon of Californians, stationed on a neighboring bridge, made a hot fire en the Filipinos, but was unable to dislodge them. In the face of a terrible fusilade, Col. Duboce and a few volunteers dashed into the church, scattered coal oil inside of it, set are to the oil and retired.

A Trail of Death.

Another intensely exciting incident occurred during the engagement. The Washingtons and Idahos and companies K and M of the Californians made charges across the rice fields between Paco and Santa Ana, in the face of a terrific fusitade. The ground over which they passed was covered to-day with dead and wounded natives. The former were being buried in groups of five or six about where they lay, and the latter were brought to the hospital. It was at this poin and at Caloccan that the Filipinos suffered their heaviest losses. The 14th Regulars were in a particularly tight place near

The United States flagship Olympic went across the bay on Sunday and took up a position near the German cru'ser Irene and the British cruiser Narcissus, off the Mole. She was still there to day. The Americans are determined not to give the Filipinos a chance to recuperate.

The official list of dead and wounded has not yet been submitted for publication, and it is impossible, owing to the fact that the regiments are scattered, to obtain a reliable list, except from headquarters. Two Filipino commissioners from Iloilo and four rebel confreres were arrested here this morning after boarding the steamer Uranus Many suspects have been arrested in various parts of the city.

Despatches from Manila describe a conference between Gen. Otis and Aguinado, some days back, at which, when Aguinaldo learned of the "intention of the Americans to attack and capture Iloilo and other ports," he declared that he would begin hostilities if the United States sent arry reinforcements to the Philippines. The conference falled to arrive at any understanding. According to the same despatches, it would seem that the insurgents lack ammunition, as they have been seeking to purchase it everywhere, and have been offering high prices. They recently gave it out that Gen. Rios had delivered to them 5000 Mauser rifles and 3,000,000 cartridges in exchange for prisoners, but this Gen. Rios denies.

the United States and Spain at Paris was to-day ratified by the United States Senate, the vote being, 57 ayes to 27 nays, or one vote more than the two-thirds majority necessary to secure Senatorial concurrence in a treaty document.

The vote was taken in executive session, and, until the injunction of secrecy was removed, the result was supposed to be private, but the Vice-President had no more than announced the figures before Senators rushed out of every door, leading from the Senate Chamber, declaring that the treaty had been ratified. Some made the mistake of stating that there were three votes to spare. There was, in fact, only one vote more than was necessary.

Much Anxiety.

No vote has been taken in the Senate

No vote has been taken in the Senate since that on the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman law that has been followed with as close interest as was the vote of to-day. The anxiety was due not to the magnitude of the question at issue, but to the uncertainty which attended the matter up to the last moment. Only the elect few knew how Senators McEnerney of Louisiana and Jones of Nevada would vote half an hour before their votes were east, and not even these knew when the bells rang for the executive session at a quarter past 2 o'clock.

After a substantial supper, Hon, Clarke Wallace arose to speak. He favored the use of music in the ritual, and eulogized the training given by the lodge, The weating of aprons was also approved of.

The reason Orangemen met and paraded was because their work was not yet finished.

Georgie Said He Did.

George Fletcher, a little colored boy, was employed some three weeks ago by Dr. W. H. Pepler of 272 West Adelaide-street, to answer the door-beil and make 'himself generally useful about the house. About a week later the Doctor missed his pocketbook, and advertised his loss in the papers. No suspicion was directed towards Georgie until yesterday, when Dr. Pepler missed $13 more, and this time he called in Detective Porter. Georgie admitted taking the money on Sunday night, and the officer locked him up at police headquarters.
