There is general dissatisfaction with the plan followed this year of remitting taxes on homes owned by former soldiers and assessed for less than $3,000. Ald. John Ashton, in particular, is opposed to it on the grounds that it gives assistance where it is least needed.

"The men who own their own homes are not the ones who need assistances only able to rent a house," he said. "Under the present plan, if a man is assessed for $3,000 he gets a remission of $79. If he is assessed for only $1,000, he gets only two-thirds of that amount, and if he is assessed for only one-third that amount. If he doesn't own a home at all he gets nothing. Under that plan the men who have the most gets the most, and I certainly don't think it is fair.

Just as Deserving.

"T am in favor of some form of consultaged remittances. I think the remarks and the certainly seems threat, such as the relating taxes and adopted. Some of the soldiers are asking us to increase the exemption to $4,000. I don't know thus the can be adopted. Some of the soldiers are asking us to increase the exemption to $4,000, which is more than double the sum which soldier organizations estimated was necessary when they asked us to make the remissions. Making remissions on rented houses will increase the expenditure still further. It would be well to have something definite to work on before making a decision."

Ald, E, R. Seabrook also admitted that it was unfair to remit taxes only the council, but was not prepared to suggest one at the moment. Ald, F. R. Watkinson also favored a change.

Annexed District.

Just as Deserving.

"I am in favor of some form of equalized remittance. I think the returned man who rents a house is just as deserving as the one who owns one, and if we give a remittance to one we should do something for the other or size drop it all together. I want to see the returned men get all that is coming to them, but I don't think the system this year was a fair one."

Other aldermen hold the same opinion.

The R. Watkinson also favored a change.

Annexed District.

Soldiers living in the annexed district gained little benefit from the remission of the mission this year. The statute governing the matter allows the remission of all taxes except school and local improvement. The fixed assessment in the annexed district is only sufficient to meet the school charges and little more. Therefore, the amount which could be remitted was only a few cents in many cases.

Aldermen Recognize the Fact That Present Quarters Inadequate.

There will be no vote this year en the building of a new nurses' home in connection with Victoria Toronto in Mayor Little said today.

"There is no doubt that more accommodation is needed, but plans are too indefinite to submit to the people by January," he said. "If Trustee James January," he said. "If Trustee James Gray returns in time there might be some possibility of considering it, but I do not think it at all probable. The suggestion was merely made to the trust. There were no definite estimates or plans in connection with it. These will have to be prepared before the city can be asked to do anything."

Ald. F. E. Harley suggested today that if eight-hour shifts are to be adopted at the hospital the need for a nurses' home will be removed, as most of the nurses could stay at their own homes. Mayor Little said he did not entirely agree with this, although some such plan might be satisfactory. The hospital is a training institution, and not a money-making concern, he pointnot a money-making concern, he point-ed out. Better training can be given when the nurses are under direct sup-ervision at all times. Girls from outide places who are in training would have to be accommodated in any Superintendent T. H. "The Children's Hospital will be the next building erected and then the Nurses' Home can be built to complete that block," he said. "I think it would be impossible to have the details ready for a vote this year and that if it is taken up next January it will be quite satisfactory. DECLARES KING

Ottawa, Nov. 23.-Canadian Press.-"The result in East Elgin is but another evidence, if such were needed, of the growing demand of the people for a change of Government. It is an expression of the public disapproval of the present administration," declared Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, this morning, in discussing yesterday's by-election results. In Government circles there was evidence of some disappointment over the announced results. The victory in Yale-Cariboo had been expected here, and it was also thought recently that the Government candidate in East Elgin would have carried the day. The prime minister would make no statements as to the results, but one member of the cabinet remarked that "half a loaf was better than no bread."

Ottawa, Nov. 23.—There is a morningafter feeling in Government circles this morning. Bromides in the shape of consoling excuses have so far failed to banish it. The first defeat at the polls of Premier Meighen and the new National, Liberal and Conservative party is a defeat, the clean-cut character of which cannot be explained away. The Government, with a two to one chance in a three-cornered fight, has been beaten by a two to one ceta. beaten by a two to one vote, and satisfaction at the result in Yale, where the Government was triumphant, cannot wipe away that realization.

Allies Will See That Ex-Kaiser Does Not Stroll From Holland

The Hague Nov. 23.—Former Emperor William of Germany could go to Corfu only with the consent of the allied powers, the Associated Press was informed at the foreign office today. This information was elicited by an inquiry relative to reports that the former emperor's villa on the Island of Corfu was being repaired, and that he was expected to go there soon. The Dutch Government has given assurance to the Allies that Count Hohenzollern will be guarded at Doorn.

"Even if former King Constantine, brother-in-law of William, were to regain the Greek throne," said an official today, "and should actually invite him to resume his residence in the old Castle of Achilleion, it would be only by the consent of the Allies that we would let him leave the prescribed area at Doorn. Nothing of this kind has been taken up with the Allies."

So far as the former German crown prince is concerned, the Dutch Government is under no obligations to prevent him leaving Holland, if he wants to go; but there is an impression at the foreign office that the entire story relative to Corfu is a fantasy.

Over the week-end Government workers confidently predicted a majority of 400 for Stansell in East Eigin. At this time of writing the majority of the latter is only in the neighborhood of 400.
