Marshall, Spader & Co. (J. G. Beaty), King Edward Hotel, reported the follow-ing fluctuations on the Chicago Board of Trade;

Wheat market has clearly shown the effect of conflicting influences—a theoretical shortage of supplies, neutralized by economy of millers, and emphasized by lack of demand for flour, high prices for the nearby options, neutralized by lack of demand for flour, high prices for the nearby options, neutralized by alsike clover, No. 1, per bush. 12 30 Alsike clover, No. 2, per bush. 13 80 Alsike clover, No. 1, per bush. 13 80 Timothy, No. 1, per cwt. 7 75 Timothy, No. 2, per cwt. 7 25 naturally nervous and erratic subject to rapid price changes, and in the absence of definite leadership and general specu-lation is subjected to the operations of professionals and scalpers. An adjustment of wheat values to a level consistent with this situation seems inevitable, and this adjustment is likely to be accentuated as long as no unexpected depreciation occurs in the present crop prospect. In other words, we are still bearish on wheat.

Ennis & Stoppani wired to J. L. Mitchell Ennis & Stoppan wired to J. L. Mitchell at the close:

Wheat—Wheat to-day was again irregular and generally lower. Local sentiment has been inclined to be bearish. Early in the session there was good selling by commission houses, which caused declines of %c to lc. As in previous session, the pit crowd oversold themselves, and in covering caused nearly a full cent sion, the pit crowd oversold themselves, and in covering caused nearly a full cent recovery. On this bulge there was liberal selling by elevator interests and the northwest, which carried prices back to the low point of the day. The prospects of closing down at the mills in the northwest, more favorable weather reports from the southwest and bearish statistics constituted the news of the day. Corn ruled firm thruout, and an advance was only held in check by weakness in the wheat pit. There was good buying of September and December by commission houses and considerable short covering.

CROWN WITNESSES FREED.

Two Italians Charged With Wound

opened yesterday afternoon, before Judge Winchester, Francis Appa and Vincenzo Guizzi, two Italians, were arraigned, charged with having engaged in an affray on Claremont-street on March 28. The prisoners had their heads tied up in large white bandages as they sat in the dock. Before pleading to the charge, A. R. Hassard, speaking for both prisoners, objected to the trial proceedings, because they had been used as crown witnesses in the police court and it was a breach of faith on the part of the crown to iksis upon them undergoing trial, they having served the crown, each as a of faith on the part of the crown to itsist upon them undergoing trial, they having served the crown, each as a witness against the other. Crown Attorney Drayton said that he agreed with Mr. Hassard's contention, and the judge concurred. The prisoners were acquitted with a warning to refrain from future fighting.
