The Fans Will Always

Remember These Three

Gentlemen Sluggers

Consider for a moment three men whose names shine bright in the history of swat as far back as the memory of swat as far back as the memory of swat as far back as the memory of the average man runs—Hans Wagner, Nap Lajoic and Sam Crawford—the Flying Dutchman, the Graceful Frenchman, the Mauking Tiger.

They have all probably seen their last full season under the big tent. Wagner that is extremely doubtful. Lajoic seems satisfied that his big league days are over. Hugh Jenndings is building up his team with the idea that Cobb, Hellman and Veach will be his regular outfield this season. The most feared combination of fritters in the history of swat—the Cobb-Crawford duo—is broken up.

Wagner, Lajoic and Crawford—alt who have all ways shown the control of states and the history of swat—the Cobb-Crawford duo—is broken up.

Wagner, Lajoic and Crawford—alt which the company of the regular outfield this season. The most feared combination of fritters in the history of swat—the Cobb-Crawford duo—is broken up.

Wagner, Lajoic and Crawford—alt who have the honors cinched; as the series it is declared, the series at Seattle it is declared. The series at Seattle, it is declared, and the third encounter last night saw players standpoint since the annual clash was inaugurated. The first two defeats chalked up against the total the most period batkman in the technique of bitting and the most period batkman in the technique of bitting and the most garded of the winning team will take down in the technique of bitting and the most period batkman in the technique of bitting and the most garded of the winning team will take down in the regular objects of the winning team will take down in the neighborhood of $324, and each of the loser's end will be $216. And its all velvet.

And the beauty about their records is that not a blot appears against that of any one of the trio. They have always given their best to the team and to the fans and to the promotion of the popularity of the game. They were mixed up in no scandels, no fights and no rows with undres. with umpires.
They played baseball. They are gentlemen. The game will not forget them.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

According to advices from Athens, Ga., where the Louisville Club is training, Manager Bill Clymer and Roxey Roach, two erstwhile bosom friends, have fallen apart. Clymer is manager of the Louisville Club, and induced Roach to join his team last year. Roach, it will be recalled, flopped from Clymer's Toronto team to the Buffalo Federals in 1915, but when the Feds went out of business Clymer forgave Roxey's action and put him on his Louisville nine. Roxey declined to sign a Louisville contrarct thus far, and only yesterday reached Athens. On his arrival he said it was a question with him whether or not he would play baseball again. He is sore because, he says, Clymer had the chance to let him go to two big league clubs during the winter, and turned both majors down, to the injury of Roach. It is quite probable, however, that Roxey will be in Clymer's lineup when the season opens.

A gentleman much interested in Montreal hockey has received a letter from a man connected with the Brooklyn lee Avenue Riding School, to the effect, that in the expectation of becoming part of a professional or amateur international hockey circuit with Canada, the management will spend a hundred thousand dollars during the summer in enlarging and remodeling the ice palace, which is to have a skating surface of 85 by 200 and is to seat five thousand people.

A Montreal paper refers to Newsy Lalonde as the "fined" of the world's hockey series. Referee Irvine looks upon Newsy as the "be-numb" of the cup games.

jury of Roach. It is quite probable, however, that Roxey will be in Clymer's lineup when the season opens.

Under plans tentatively arranged. the Northern League will start the 1917 season with only four teams, for the first time in its history. A reorganized circult, which now seems assured, includes Warren, Minn., a place of 2000 inhabitants, where the $1000 guaranty required already has been raised. The other three clubs are Winnipeg and Fargo-Moorhead, which have maintained franchises continuously, and Thief River Falls, Minn.,

Old-Timers Remember Duncan Ross, Athlete

Duncan C. Ross, the well-known Caledomian athlete, supposed to have passed over, is still alive, and at latest accounts, in the Franklin Square Hospital in Baltimore recovering from a severe illness. Ross and Hugh McKinnon, a former Chief of Police of Hamilton, took part in all the big athletic meets, and both men captured many championships, and, in 1876, when the Centennial was held in Philadelphia, Ross was contemporary with McKinnon when that party, won the championship of the world. Shortly after this he took up his residence in Baltimore, and was employed in that city as director of physical training at the Young Men's Christian Association. He married while there a Miss Gerke, and they had been married a short time, and he left Baltimore, and during his absence his children died. Ross went to Alaska, and remained there until a short time ago, when he learned thru friends that his death had been apnounced in Baltimore, and, being part owner of valuable property in that city, he hurried back to investigate the rumor. In addition to holding many athletic championships, he is the possessor of a donian athlete, supposed to have passed In addition to holding many athletic championships, he is the possessor of a Victoria Cross, won on the field of battle while fighting for Britain in the famous Scots Graves
