Great Suffragette Pageant Procession

Inauguration Parade at Washington Tomorrow To Be a Feast of Color.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The suffragette pageant procession, to be held in Washington Monday, is to be a symphony of color which will take on the scheme of a rainbow.

The Hon. Mrs. Patricia Street of Australia is the designer for the procession. Every color will have its meaning.

First will come Inez Milholland, as a herald, on horseback, dressed in yellow, then fifty ushers in pale blue and gold. Then will come the artist of the pageant proper, with the variegated colors of the four countries that have given the ballot to women—Norway, Finland, New Zealand and Australia, and each nation will be represented by women in the colors and bearing the flags of their country.

Then will come the foreign marching contingents, countries which have partial suffrage—Sweden, Denmark, Iceland, Great Britain, Canada, Austria, Hungary and Belgium; next the countries where women are working for suffrage. One big float will represent Turkey, Persia, China, Switzerland, Greece, Italy, Holland and Germany. These will be followed by Gen. Rosalie Jones and her ambassadors of justice, dressed in gray cloaks, knapsacks and staves. The Baltimore division will wear purple saddle capes.

Four floats representing the development of the suffrage movement will come next. On the first float will be pioneer women in light purple capes, three figures in black representing obstructions, and scorners dressed in dark purple. The third and fourth floats will be the same as No. 1, except that the purple of the scorners' dresses will grow lighter.

Then will come the beautiful float showing suffrage as it is today. It will contain a human bouquet of violets, beautiful girls clustering in all shades of purple, lavender and palest violet. Each girl will carry a small green branch. The tall pioneer woman in the centre will carry a young girl, sapling in her right hand. The branches of the sapling signify equality of suffrage.

Brigade of Horsewomen. Next will come the Virginian horsewomen with green saddle capes, heading the floats showing men and women working side by side in the field. The women farmers following the float will be dressed in brown. The housewives will follow in gray and green, and afterwards another float showing a soldier and a nurse in appropriate uniforms. They will serve the country side by side on the battlefield. Afterwards will come the college men and women in caps and gowns, and then the women lawyers in caps and gowns with purple decorations.

Women doctors in caps and gowns, with green decorations will follow, and then will come wage-earners in blue. Here there will be a float showing Greed, Tyranny and Indifference. Next will come the "Government Float," showing a man bearing the burden of state on his shoulders, with a woman in blue with her hands bound. Then will follow the fourth section of professional women, social workers in dark blue, teachers in light blue, business women in still lighter blue and librarians in very light blue.

The artists will dress in pale rose, the actresses in deeper rose, the musicians in very deep American beauty rose. They will follow the state delegations. First will come the "First Bill of Rights Congress," with a leader and nine girls in hoop skirts and rose-bud bonnets. Next the "Banner float," with a map showing nine States of light and thirteenth of darkness. The suffrage State delegations will follow, each dressed in their State color.

Men's League. Last in the line will be the National Men's League for Woman Suffrage, followed by a delegation headed by Representative Richmond Pearson Hobson of Alabama. The last float will be a State car with nine women dressed in white, representing "light," and others walking around dressed in black, representing the 32 States which have no suffrage. This float will carry a banner with the words of Lincoln, "No country can exist half slave and half free."

The campaign and the procession will be brought to a dashing close with a grand mass meeting on March 3, at the Columbia Theatre, with Dr. Anna H. Shaw, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, and Miss Mary Johnston, as the principal speakers.

Feature Programs at the Garden Theatre

The word feature as nowadays applied to motion pictures is often misleading, half of the so-called features are that in name only. For the coming week the "Garden" Theatre, which specializes in animated photography only, offers to its patrons two real feature productions. Monday, Tues-

YOU wear your collars out. You can do this fast enough, goodness knows, without assistance from the laundry. Taber Treatment for collars and cuffs means frictionless washing, abundance of toilet soap, clean water for washing and rinsing. (It is rubbing and friction that puts raw edges on collars and cuffs.) When we do your laundry work your shirts come back snowy, clean, and wrapped in oil paper. Your collars have a spotless, dull finish. This is the treatment you want your linen to get. This is what we promise you. It is the service our patrons receive.
