BELGIAN ARMY NOW REDUCED TO 60,000

(Associated Press Correspondence) Fumes, West Flanders, Dec. 29.—Sixty thousand worn soldiers strung along the Yser, where they checked the rush of the German invaders toward Pas de Calais are all that are left of the Belgian army of 230,000 men under arms when Germany invaded Belgium. However, one of King Albert's staff officers who has been with the army since the siege of Liege, asserts that the small Belgian force today is a far more efficient machine than that which met the first German attack.

He said to the Associated Press correspondent: "When we reached the Yser we were a beaten and demoralized army. Fighting for weeks without adequate support from our allies, and with most of our men believing that we had been left to our fate, the chance of ever again making a fighting force of our army seemed remote. That we did so was due to the highest and lowest factors in our civilization, the inspiration and spirit of our king, and the fighting spirit of our men."

"The king's aristocratic regiment of guards is a thing of the past. They have been disbanded and their places taken by two regiments made up of Flemish peasants and commanded by active young officers in Belgium."

"Today the army is an efficient fighting force, too small of course, for we are unable to give our men leave from the trenches such as the French and English now enjoy, and this has caused some natural complaint, but in spite of this, as you can see for yourself, the spirits of the soldiers could not be better. They are all veterans now and most of them are young in years."

"The officers are picked for their work without regard to their former rank, and many of the highest officers of the army have been relegated to posts where they are doing useful work, but where they cannot repeat any of the blunders which marked the first part of the war."

"We have no apologies to make for our artillery. This service was the really professional branch of the army, in which officers went for pure love of their profession, and from Liege to the Yser they have been doing their duty worthily of the cause for which they are fighting. Some idea of the value placed on our artillery is indicated by the fact that a Belgian captain of artillery was placed in command of 200 French guns directed the fire continuously for thirty-six hours, in one of the fiercest artillery duels of the campaign."

Cyclist and Motor Forces.

"Only second to our artillery are the regular cyclist corps and the motor corps. The cyclists were well trained and the Uhlans will long have cause to remember their relationship. The automobile drivers volunteered from what might have been called the butterfly class of society youths, but they have proven as tough as the best of the regulars. They have endured incredible hardships and many of them occupy unmarked graves, the sole reward for some desperate scouting venture."

"We have only a few square miles of our country left and practically all of this is subject to artillery fire, but our army will continue to hold West Flanders until the advance on Brussels begins."

The Best Thing For Dyspepsia

Why Pepsin, Pancreatin, Etc., So Frequently Fail

An international specialist whose articles on stomach trouble have been printed in nearly every language, recently stated that to treat the average case of stomach trouble, indigestion, dyspepsia, etc., by doctoring the stomach, killing the pain with opiates, or by the use of artificial aids to digestion such as pepsin and pancreatin, was just as foolish and useless as to attempt to put out a fire by throwing water on the smoke instead of the fire. He claims, and facts seem to justify his claim that nearly nine-tenths of all stomach trouble is due to acidity and food fermentation; and that the only way in which to secure permanent relief is to get rid of the causes, i. e., to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation. For this purpose he strongly recommends the plan now generally adopted throughout Europe of taking a teaspoonful of ordinary bisulphated magnesium in a little water immediately after eating or whenever pain is felt. This immediately neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation and permits the stomach to do its work in a normal manner and thus by removing the cause, enables nature to quickly restore the inflamed stomach lining to a perfectly healthy natural condition. For the convenience of travelers it may be noted that most druggists are now able to supply bisulphated magnesium in 5 grain tablets, 2 or 3 of which will almost instantly relieve the most violent attacks of indigestion.

ST. JOHN MAN ON THE FIRING LINE IN FRANCE

Mrs. Clark of 107 Britannia street, was made happy yesterday by the receipt of Christmas greetings from her husband, Sgt. Fred Clark of the Army Service Corps at the front somewhere in France. The letter contained souvenirs from the king and queen given to all the soldiers at Christmas, besides Christmas regimental cards. It also contained news of an interesting nature from the sergeant, who said he was well though they had come through much fighting and suffering.

Had Heart Trouble FOR YEARS.

Weighted 87 Lbs. Now Weighs 138 Lbs.

Miss Beatrice Loughhead, Staples, Ont., writes: "I feel it my duty to tell you what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I had heart trouble for quite a few years. I doctored for it, and altogether my bill amounted to $400, and still no cure. One day when very sick I was lying on a couch close to where some almanacs were hanging. I took one down, and was reading about what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured, and thought I would try them. I got six boxes to start with; have only taken three boxes and I never felt so well in my life as I do now. I only weighed 87 pounds when I started to take them, and now I weigh 138 pounds. I hope all poor sufferers will be benefited by them as I have been."

Wherever there is any weakness of the heart, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will strengthen it and build up a strong healthy system.

Price, 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price, by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it. Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is especially for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.
