Fashion Hints for Times Readers

LACE FRILLS MUCH USED ON SUMMER HATS

This charming "little girl's hat"—a model for midsummer—shows the use of lace frills, a feature of the summer millinery. Black chintilly and white valenciennes edgings, pleated in small side pleats, encircle the crown while the brim is covered with closely shirred white net drawn into a band of azules pink ribbon. Pink rosebuds in the same rich shade, set in a cushion of pleated black net, are placed at one side of the crown, and tiny ribbon roses in two shades of pink are set, like buttons, at intervals around the brim.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

OUR neighborhood is buzzing with disapproval of one of its members. And I am in a perfect agony. I refuse to buzz and insist instead on approving.

The cause belli is this—Mrs. M. has decided to send Eleanor to a co-educational college.

"We don't mind education for most girls," buzzes the neighborhood, "but for Eleanor we think it is perfectly insane. Aren't there enough girls' colleges in the country where a girl like Eleanor would be very much better."

Eleanor we think it is perfectly insane. Aren't there enough girls' colleges in the country where a girl like Eleanor would be very much better."

Every one who knows her thought her mother—a most sensible woman—would send her to a girl's college to get over it.

On the contrary, Mrs. M. is going to send her to a co-educational college, and in defiance of the neighborhood, I am ready to cheer for Mrs. M.

If you want a girl to have common sense ideas on the subject of boys, it is better to shut her away from them in a boys' place where she will learn and idealize and think about them most of the time, or to let her live in daily contact with them where she may find out that they are just ordinary human beings like herself.

"You will notice that the children of co-educational schools walk home together and meet quite easily at their homes with no thought of 'hearts' and that sort of nonsense. It is the little girl unaccustomed to meeting and studying freely with little boys who meets them on the street corners after school," says a well-known lecturer on education.

And it is the same way in college. The college woman unaccustomed to meeting and studying freely with men is probably too well bred to meet them on the street corners after class, but the effect on her is to make her take an extravagant and unnatural interest in anything masculine quite different from the simple natural attitude of her co-educated sisters.

Perhaps so.

But let me give you the opinion of a woman who, having been educated at a co-educational college and then been president of one of the greatest girls' colleges in the country, ought to know both sides of the question.

The woman is Alice Freeman Palmer, the great president of Wellesley College. Of her feelings on the subject of coeducation her husband writes in his book about her.

"The natural association of girls with boys in interests of a nobler sort, she believed, tends to broaden their vision, to solidify their minds and TO REMOVE MUCH THAT IS HECTIC AND UNWOMANLY FROM THE AWAKENING INSTINCTS OF SEX."

And she made her husband a good and pleasant companion to take the place of goodness and sentimentality. She used to say that CO-EDUCATIONAL MARRIAGES SELDOM APPEAR IN THE DIVORCE COURTS."

Daily Hints for the Cook

BLUEBERRY CAKE.

One tablespoon butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 1/2 cups milk, 2 eggs, 2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 cup berries added last.

PICKLED BEETS.

Boil them until tender in a porcelain-lined kettle, and when cold slice them thinly; put in jars and pour on a hot rich syrup of vinegar, sugar and spices to taste.

SPICED BLACKBERRIES.

Take 1 cup of vinegar, 2 cups of sugar, and 1 tablespoon each of allspice, cloves and cinnamon; add 2 1/2 lbs. blackberries, bring to a boil, skim out the blackberries, and boil the balance for 1 hour; put back the berries and boil 15 minutes; then put in jars and cover tightly.

SCALLOPED POTATOES.

Parboil white potatoes and slice them thin. Melt in a saucepan a generous tablespoonful of butter, and fry in this two sliced onions. When they begin to brown, take them out and stir into the melted butter a tablespoonful of flour, and when blended add a cupful of milk.

When you have a smooth sauce season with salt and white pepper, and, if a strong flavor of onion is liked, add a few drops of onion juice. Put the potatoes into a greased pudding dish, in layers, sprinkling each layer with bits of butter. Pour in the white sauce, put with crumbs and bits of butter, and bake to a light brown.

BAKED SALMON.

About an hour before beginning to cook the salmon mix on a plate two tablespoonfuls of olive oil, two teaspoonfuls of vinegar, two of chopped parsley, one of chopped onion and a dusting of salt and pepper. Select two slices of salmon, lay with a clean cloth dipped in hot water and trim them in shape by passing a string around the outside skin. Cover them with the salad mixture and place them in a buttered dish. Cover with buttered paper for about half an hour. Serve with or without sauce. The slices should not be more than an inch thick.

REMEMBERING THE BOYS.

If baseball magnates only were philanthropists, they'd play with cane to build the fences round their parks. With knotholes scattered here and there.

The warmest friends of Red Rose Tea are those who have tried some other brand said to be "as good as Red Rose" and for which they paid the same price. Very easy to say a thing is "as good" but not so easy to "make good."

Prices: 30c., 35c., 40c., 50c. and 60c.

WATER AND SEWERAGE BOARD

City Engineer Will Receive $750 Damages — Douglas Avenue, Public Sanitaries and Other Matters Receive Attention

At a meeting of the water and sewerage board yesterday afternoon it was agreed to recommend to the council that the sum of $750 be paid Engineer Murdoch in full of all claims against the city for damages in connection with the Loch Lomond campaign. This includes three and a half acres of ground at $88, which was Judge McLeod's valuation; $100 for the right of way for a new road that has been built, and a valuation of twenty cents a ton for the material earth in the dry lake which cannot be taken on account of the pipe line. The unanimous opinion of the present was that the claim was a moderate one, especially as it had been removed that it would amount to anywhere between $5,000 and $15,000.

SEEING THINGS AT NIGHT

Peculiarities of Vision and Impressions Made on the Senses in Dim Light

Every one must at times have asked himself why familiar objects in the dim light tend to assume fantastic and often times alarming appearances says the British Medical Journal.

The explanation is to be found in the special conditions of night vision. The pupils are widely dilated, and, as in the photographic lens with a large diaphragm, the apparatus of accommodation can only focus for the plane. As the faculty of estimating distances is in great measure lost in the obscurity we cannot focus with precision, and a blurred uncertain outline is thrown upon the retina.

Then, too, colors viewed in a fading light, lose until a point is reached at which everything becomes of one uniform grey tone.

It follows that the images which are transmitted to the visual centres are profoundly modified in color and outline, and as they enter the eye through the widest dilated pupil at an altogether unusual angle the movement of locomotion gives them a peculiar mobility.

Now, one relies on experience for the interpretation of sensory impressions, and when these present themselves suddenly in an unusual form they create a feeling of insecurity which finds expression in mental perturbation and more or less violent motor impulsion. In fact, the subject finds himself in the position of a horse which sees a rapidly advancing automobile for the first time and does not know what to make of it.

Imagination adding these blurred, mobile and uncertain images are susceptible of the most phantasmagoric interpretation, and in persons who are not accustomed to control sensory impressions by the exercise of the intelligence the impressions are accepted as realities and acted upon accordingly.

Ghosts and other things who are accustomed to night work make allowance for phenomena of this class and correct the visual deficiency by the aid of other senses such as hearing which are not dependent on light.

WEDDINGS

Reed-Vanwart.

Hugh H. Reed agent for F. W. Bird & Co., in this city, was married yesterday in New York to Miss Fanny Tibbits Vanwart, daughter of Sheriff Vanwart, of Calgary. After the wedding trip, which will include a visit to Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Reed will return to St. John to reside.

Kennedy-Reynolds.

Yesterday afternoon at the residence of Herbert A. Reynolds, Rockland Road, Miss Eva Gertrude Reynolds was united in marriage to William Leslie Kennedy of Debec Junction. Rev. H. D. Mart performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy left last night for Boston and New York and other places of interest. They will reside in Debec.

Hampill-Lee.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rodrick Lee, Carleton county, on Wednesday, July 27, their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Lee, was united in marriage to William Wallace Hampill of Knowlsville. Rev. F. W. Alway, of Gloucester, performed the ceremony.

Stinson-MacPherson.

On Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock a quiet and pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David MacPherson, Sr., of South Bay, when their daughter, Jennie St., became the wife of George M. Stinson, of Lorneville.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. William Townsend, of Fairville, assisted by Rev. Mr. MacKinnon, of Lorneville.

The bride, most becomingly attired in white mull and carrying a handsome bouquet of roses and carnations, was given away by her father, and was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret P. MacPherson, while the groom was supported by Stephen A. Schofield, of Fairville.

The numerous wedding presents were both useful and beautiful, the groom's gift to the bride being a gold watch and chain and to the bride a handsome gold bracelet. A sumptuous supper was followed by an evening of social enjoyment, after which the guests dispersed and the happy couple drove to their future home in Lorneville.

TIRED FEET

It's not the job of society that tires women out. It's the shoes. You just put a pair of Scholl's Foot-Easies in your shoes and note the difference. You just imagine the weight that bears directly on the arch of the foot. The shoe man is blamed for business and foot troubles. But it isn't the shoes at all. Wear a pair of Scholl's Foot-Easies and headache, backache, tired limbs and a hundred other distressing ailments will disappear.
