CANDIDATES OF OPPOSITION HEARD IN CITY

Say Party for Grand Falls Development Under Independent Commission

FIRST PROVE IT SOUND INVESTMENT

Col. Harrison Deals With Outstanding Matters in Campaign.

That the Opposition party stood squarely for the development of Grand Falls under an independent commission when it had been approved to be a sound and prudent investment; that Hon. P. J. Veniot was the greatest friend the International Paper Company ever had; that pasteurized milk and whole pure milk should be made optional in Saint John; that the free school book policy was announced by the present government simply as a means to catch votes, and that the books will not be as free as is thought, were the high lights of the address delivered by Col. W. H. Harrison, city Opposition candidate, in the various headquarters of the Opposition party last evening.

The Opposition candidates for the city, Col. W. H. Harrison, L. P. D. Tilley, M. E. Agar and James Lewis visited the Opposition headquarters in the various wards of the city and West Saint John.

COL. HARRISON.
Lieutenant-Colonel Harrison opened his remarks with a declaration that the Opposition party stood squarely for the development of Grand Falls under an independent commission when it had been approved to be a sound and prudent investment. If this means anything it means that this great utility will not be handed over to a private corporation, nor to any group of private interests. The Opposition does not believe, he said, in making this enterprise a political football but stands for an independent commission handling it on a business basis.

Continuing Col. Harrison said: "When we are told that Sir William Van Horne valued his interest at $1,000,000, let us remember that the province sold all its interest in Grand Falls, which was at least three quarters of the property for $60,000. This with some other rights of less value is now being bought back for $1,200,000 without any arbitration or any proper finding by an outside authority as to its value. Indeed we know the price was made up by adding every cent expended for engineering and legal fees, all salaries of the Grand Falls Company and its predecessors, and every other expense and then adding interest at six per cent. on these expenditures."

The great concession obtained by Premier Veniot, Col. Harrison said, "was that the interest was reduced from compound to simple. The International Paper Company is certainly one of the big interests and they never had a better friend than Hon. P. J. Veniot when he made this deal. Consider further that in 1924 the government of the same Hon. P. J. Veniot had declared, by order in council, that all the rights conveyed by the province to the Grand Falls Company were forfeited."

QUESTIONS
"Why did he turn around and pay the price demanded by the International Paper Company? Was it because he could not wait to have the fair valuation found? Was it because he was determined to let contracts before the day of the election," the speaker asked.

As regards pasteurized milk, Colonel Harrison asserted that neither he nor any of the Opposition candidates condemn its use. "Everyone realizes that pasteurization kills any germs in impure milk but will Dr. Roberts say that it is better than pure whole milk? He cannot say this. The British Board of Health prescribe four grades of milk as fit for consumption, namely, certified, grade A tuberculin tested, grade A and pasteurized," the speaker continued.

FOR PURE MILK.
"Of these, the first three grades are pure milk. With a farming district such as we have about Saint John, arrangements should be optional whether one wished to buy the pasteurized milk or the pure milk. Pasteurized milk will always be cheaper and will always command a market because it is cheap and safe. The whole milk from a good dairy farm will be of better quality," Colonel Harrison contended.

Dealing with the free school book matter, Colonel Harrison said that "in their dying days, the Government announce a policy of free school books up to grade five." For eight years they have been charging parents double the price the old Government charged for school books. Now, in a desperate attempt to catch votes, they announce a policy of free school books in certain grades. It appears, however, that the regulation does not cover the arithmetic and the geography books, two books which together cost $1.65. The free books are worth $1.15 so it follows that the free school books are not even half free."

WOMAN WHO SHOT BREWER IS INSANE

'Countess' Spanajowitch, Claiming Relationship With Serbian Envoy, Locked up.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Mrs. Kossara Spanajowitch self-styled Serbian countess, who shot Christopher G. Hupfel, former brewer, last February, was declared insane by a commission yesterday and was committed to the State Asylum for Insane Criminals at Matineau by Judge Cornelius F. Collins in General Sessions. Allegedly she was a victim of paranoia, a progressive form of insanity, and had exhibited maniac-depressive traits.

Mrs. Spanajowitch, who asserts also that she is a sister of the Serbian Ambassador to France, said she had lived in this country twenty-five years and had at times worked as a designer in millinery establishments. In 1922 she brought suit for $750,000 against Hupfel, Dr. Melvin Taylor and Dr. Charles Brita, once connected with Bellevue Hospital, on the ground that they had illegally caused her to be placed in an insane asylum. She was in Ward's Island Hospital for the insane a short time in 1918.

This is not a Liberal and Conservative fight. It is a fight for good government. The Opposition Party asks for your support in besting conditions in New Brunswick. Advt.

Daily Dozen Given As Suicide Cause

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Daily setting-up exercises over the radio were indirectly responsible, the police say, for the suicide of Henry L. Slaght, 60 years old, of Newark, who shot himself in the right temple.

Slaght, who had been partly paralyzed for the last six years, recently took up the exercises thinking it would help his condition. A blood clot from the strain of the exercises formed off his left side. He was being treated for it by his family physician. Police added alleged had caused him to end his life.
