

JOHN S. ARMSTRONG SEVERELY BURNED

Taken Unconscious from His
Duke Street Home as Fire
Grips the Structure.

John S. Armstrong, an aged resident of the city, was painfully burned in a fire which occurred at his home, 174 Duke street, this afternoon and is now lying in a serious condition at the General Hospital. Soon after the fire was discovered, Mr. Armstrong was found by Harry McNeill, Little, Chief George Blake and Detective Saunders that it was a serious case. The four men were in the dining room with a hose lighting the house. Mr. Little was breaking a window when he heard heavy breathing and, calling the others, discovered Mr. Armstrong lying near the sideboard, where he had apparently fallen, overcome by smoke while attempting to escape through the back door. He was rushed to the street and, unconscious, taken in the Salvage Corps motor car to the hospital. He was revived with oxygen and the task of removing his clothes begun.

An alarm was rung in from box 32, and the fire department hurried to the scene, where dense clouds of smoke were seen pouring out of the windows facing the street. Entry was effected by the back door and by the windows on the front, where the firemen could work. The house, belonging to the Gilmour estate and in occupation of the first floor by Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Francis, on the second by Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong.

An oil stove and some burning bedding were found in the front part of the flat. The second floor was practically gutted by the flames, and the third floor was damaged considerably by smoke.

Mr. Armstrong is eighty-two years of age. During his early life he was a member of the grocery firm of Armstrong & Macdonald, but had retired from business some years ago. P. G. Syme is a nephew. Mrs. Armstrong was in the house when the fire first seen but she managed to make her escape.

A report from the hospital at 2:30 this afternoon said that Mr. Armstrong was semi-conscious and that he was badly burned about the head, face and neck.

Aches and Pains Of Rheumatism

Sometimes They Are Unbearable

There are weather conditions that make rheumatism worse. They are not the same in the cases of all persons. Some rheumatism is more in dry, warm weather than in moist, cold weather, but all suffer more or less all the time.

The cause of rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints, causing aches and pains. Hence the blood must have attention for permanent results in the treatment of this disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla has given entire satisfaction in thousands of cases. Do not fail to try it.

Reported Big Revelations

After meeting with the sport promoters and athletes on the island of Cape Breton, Mr. Covey will make his evidence, attach strings to his witnesses and call the meeting at Halifax.

"I am actually frightened at the condition of affairs," he said last evening. "The evidence that has been presented reveals a condition that no one has hitherto suspected."

The money-matching habits that have been in vogue can be stopped only by a summary ruling that will make every man think and ponder before the signs an affidavit for amateur application.

A letter was read at the meeting of the executive of the Halifax City Hockey League, which heard the protest, from the president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, Montreal, in which he expressed the opinion that the disputed game should be replayed. The league executive decided that in furtherance of players during a game can be made only when play has ceased, either because of a score or infringement of the rules.

CLYNES DEFENDS THE LABOR PARTY

British Leader Also Fires a
Shot at Minister of Agriculture.

London, Jan. 25.—(Canadian Press)—Right Hon. John R. Clynes, British labor leader, speaking before a gathering of London commercial men yesterday declared that the parliamentary labor party was often misunderstood through industrial and trade disputes for which the party was in no way responsible. He personally believed that some trades union revolt acted to the detriment of work people. Any labor government would descend to the greatest folly if it attempted to check wholesome enterprises.

Referring to Sir Arthur Griffiths' speech on Monday evening, Mr. Clynes said that if such a score crew as this had been planned to frighten timid people, it was appropriate that it should be planned by the minister of agriculture. The extremist, said Mr. Clynes, diminished in influence and power directly he reached a position of responsibility.

The Joy of a Well Furnished Home

Every bride begins married life with a firmly fixed idea of what her home is to be—"some day." But how many of them realize their ideal?

Brides' homes are generally furnished more or less temporarily. Odd pieces of furniture are added from time to time as necessity arises. But the years go by. Other expenses come along. Habit accustoms the family to things as they are, and ideals fade.

It is one of the great mistakes of married life to allow the ideals and hopeful aspirations of youth to fade away unrealized.

We can aid you to "Realize Your Ideal."
