RECENT WEDDINGS

Frederick, July 2.—At the Brunswick street Baptist parsonage, Wednesday evening, Rev. G. C. Warren married Mrs. Amanda M. Garvie, of this city, and James Speight, of St. John. The bride received many pretty gifts. The groom is a returned soldier, having gone overseas with the Second Divisional Ammunition Column from this city, and had four years' service in France. After a short honeymoon they will reside in St. John, where the groom is employed with the Canadian National Railways.

On the afternoon of Wednesday, June 30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fear, Springhill (N.S.), their daughter, Miss Ethel R. Fear, was united in marriage to Charles H. Johnston, of St. John (N.B.). The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Wilson in the presence of friends and relatives. The bride, who was given away by her brother, was attired in a suit of brown gabardine with hat to match and carried a white prayer book. The groom was supported by his brother-in-law, F. R. Crawford. The gifts to the bride were numerous among which was a substantial check from the bride's parents and cabinet of silver from the employees of W. H. Thorne & Company, Limited, where the groom is employed. After the ceremony the company sat down to a dainty wedding repast and later Mr. and Mrs. Johnston left on a wedding trip through the province of New Brunswick. On their return they will reside in Newman street.

St. Stephen, N. B., July 1.—A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hall, Milltown (N. B.), on Tuesday afternoon, June 29, when their daughter, Miss Beatrice Faith Hall, became the bride of Edward Lewis Keene of Milltown (Me.). The wedding march was played by Miss Grace Dolin, cousin of the bride.

A pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Small, Mercer Settlement, on Wednesday afternoon, June 30, when their youngest daughter, Edna R. and Otis Willard Colpitts of Parisville, N. B., were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Shank, of Bellefleur Station, in the presence of several relatives and friends. Frederic Harold Graham and Miss Lena Alden, St. John, were the bridesmaids. The bride was supported by her sister, Miss Edna, all of this city. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Richard Ople of the Methodist Church.

RECENT DEATHS

The death occurred yesterday in the St. John Infirmary of Gerard G. Gormley, son of Richard and Mary Gormley, of Spar Cove road. The young man, who was only in his eighteenth year, was taken ill with appendicitis last Sunday and entered the infirmary on Monday. He was very popular in the North End and was a member of St. Peter's Y. M. C. A. He had been employed as a clerk with Z. J. Dickson in the city market. He leaves to mourn besides his parents, three brothers Joseph, Douglas, and one sister, Isabelle, all of this city. The funeral will be held on Monday morning at 8.30 at the home of his parents at St. Peter's church for requiem high mass.

Many friends in the city will regret to learn of the death of Joseph Archibald McArthur, which occurred at his parents' country home, Gleanavon, Pandemic, N. B., on July 2, after an illness of four months. He was associated with his father, Douglas McArthur, King street, for several years. He was twenty-seven years of age. He leaves his parents, a loving wife, formerly Miss Lena Borden of Sheffield Mills, N. B., two brothers—Douglas Duncan of Montreal and Ronald Fraser, St. John, and two sisters, Mrs. Lorne C. McFarland of East St. John and Mrs. S. Roy Robinson of Pandemic, N. B. The sympathy of the whole community will be extended to the bereaved family.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon from Knox church, service at 2.30 o'clock.

A DENIAL.
(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Montreal, July 2.—A denial of the rumor that its plant was closing down was today issued by the Ames, Holden, McCready Company, through T. H. Rieder, president. Mr. Rieder said that the company had temporarily suspended manufacture of certain types of which it has an ample stock. Mr. Rieder said that production on certain lines much in demand could be enormously increased if labor was obtainable.

A 17-Pound Tooth.
Paris, July 2.—Workmen have discovered near Chagny fossilized bones, which are those of a mid-European elephant, existing before the mammoth. The animal, according to Professor Mayet, stood more than 18 feet high, while the tusks were eight feet long and 20 inches in circumference. One of the tusks weighed 140 pounds, while each tooth weighed 17 pounds.

"Camp Galahad," a Story in Rhyme

Some of the incidents of the first day are described in rhyme in "The Round Table," the daily journal of the St. David's church boys at "Camp Galahad" at Holderness, as follows:

THE TUXIAD.

One day this year, a day in June,
My brother got up much too soon
And started off for Holders Point.
He bumped my poor bones out of joint
Upon the stones along the road,
I said the boat would sail at eight
Then, in a bosky dell we spied
A breathless lad who to us cried:
"What shall I do, alas, alas!
I'll murdered be by Mr. Mac.
The tuxis boys will be late!
I am the boat would sail at eight
By daylight time—and now I'm told
That they and Mr. Mac are sold
And sooner than it takes to tell
I know I shall be much abused."
The camp itself we soon did reach,
A lovely spot upon the beach,
And found good Mr. Punter there
Directing with a kindly air
The building of a cook house grand,
The noblest spot in this fair land.
An hour passed and on the breeze
Dimmed by the stately sheltering trees,
A cry was borne which made us think
A boat was coming up the dink.
The cry was followed by a yell,
And to our gaudiest eyes there came
A vision—surely that's the name
Of Tuxis boys, a goodly pack
In charge of Mr. Mac.
But Douglas could not help a shiver,
He sensed a quick duck in the river.
The building of a cook house grand,
The noblest spot in this fair land.
The most capricious could not equal
And after that they got to work,
No single member thought to shirk:
The wood from off the beach was sent
And then up went the largest tent.
Then up rose 1, 2, 3 and 4,
I guess they're glad there were no more.
Next came a swim and before tea
We heard the toot of the Ocoee.
This was important for 'twas said
The camp was nearly without bread.
The Parson rushed down to the skiff
And from the beach pushed in a jiff.
And hailed the steamer loud and clear
But the captain did not seem to hear.
And carried by in a haughty way
And spilt our little boat with spray.
The Parson thought of the hungry souls
And bent the oars against the tholles,
So the skiff went on at a terrible pace
And gave the Ocoee a race.
The boys soon lined along the shore
And sat on high a lusty roar.
As the little boat and Mr. Mac
Hit the Ocoee a nasty smack.
So the good ship stopped and the Parson said,
"Give me a basket filled with bread."
And the captain said it's ashore you bet.
But the first mate cried, "Don't talk so yet."
We got bread here for the Tuxis boys
Please take it and stop that awful noise!"
For first mates, always, I am told,
Are jumpy and nervous, though very bold.
Then supper with beans and jam so good,
I never thought there could be such food.
A bonfire big that we sat about
With chatter and song and many a shout.
And soon it was time to go to bed,
To the joy of many a sleepy head.
Thus ended a most successful day,
I think there are none to say me nay.

M'ADDOO LEADS IN EARLY VOTING

Yesterday's Sessions of Democratic Convention — The Battle Over Prohibition.

San Francisco, July 2.—William Jennings Bryan lost his fight today to write a bone-dry plank into the Democratic platform, the convention showing him under on a roll call which followed a dramatic debate.

Mr. Bryan presented five planks. One was his "bone-dry" prohibition; another called for publication of a government bulletin to deal with profiteers. There was a plank opposing compulsory military training in times of peace. His league plank asked for an amendment to the constitution for ratification of treaties by a majority vote of the senate.

For the wets, W. Bourke Cockran, New York, offered a plank permitting home consumption of cider, light wines and beer. Edward L. Doheny, California, brought in the Irish plank. It was in part the measure for which an unsuccessful fight had been waged by organized Irish sympathizers in the convention, but as it read it did not contain a declaration for recognition of the Irish republic.

Following is the declaration of four planks which are of particular interest to Canadians:

League of Nations.
The Democratic party advocates the ratification of the treaty with out reservations which would impair its essential integrity, but does not oppose the acceptance of any reservations making clearer or more specific the obligations of the United States to the League of Nations.

The Tariff.
We reaffirm the traditional policy of the Democratic party in favor of a tariff for revenue only and confirm the policy of baring tariff revisions upon the intelligent research of a non-partisan commission rather than upon the demands of selfish interests, temporarily held in abeyance.

Inland Waterways.
We pledge ourselves to the further development of adequate transportation facilities on our rivers and to the further improvement of our inland waterways and we recognize the importance of connecting the Great Lakes with the sea by way of the Mississippi River and its tributaries, as well as by the St. Lawrence River.

The Second Ballot.
Following is the result of the second ballot for candidate for the presidency: Palmer, 264; Cox, 159; McAdoo, 209; Cummings, 27; Gerard, 12; Edwards, 34; Owen, 29; Davis, 35; Marshall, 36; Hitchcock, 16; Bryan, 1; Clark, 6; Daniels, 1; Murr, 4; Smith, 10; Harrison, 7; Simmons, 25; Glass, 25/2.

The motion to adjourn was then adopted after the count.

POULTRY NOTES.

The presence of male birds in the flock during the summer months has a decidedly detrimental effect upon the quality of eggs and poultry producers are urged to remove them from the flock through the presence of partially incubated and bad eggs in the produce they market. Reports are now being received from all parts of the country of the number of partially incubated eggs appearing in current receipts. Producers do not realize that it is unnecessary for a fertile egg to be placed under a broody hen to cause the germ to grow; a temperature of seventy degrees is sufficient to start incubation. If the heat is constant the development of the chick will continue, but if it ceases or is intermittent, putrefaction at once sets in and the egg becomes bad. Such eggs have no place or value in shipments, and should they get to the consumer the consumption of them is a serious economic waste. The male bird is not essential in egg production, and its presence is over when the supply of fertile eggs for the season has been secured. The hens will lay just as many eggs when the male bird has been removed and the eggs will be more suitable for consumption, packing or storing. Further, there is a distinct financial gain to the producer who markets infertile eggs, because the best price for live and dressed fowls is from one to five cents a dozen for infertile eggs.

Then there is the question of feed. It costs money to feed poultry, and with feed at its present value, the consumption of feed by males kept for no particular purpose is a serious economic waste. The reason for this is that the male bird consumes a great deal of feed in the spring and early summer. During the summer the price declines, and by the early fall when many producers decide to market their male birds, a lower price than prevailed in the spring has to be accepted; the producer thus losing the amount per pound the market has declined, plus the value of the feed consumed by the birds during the summer months. This financial loss takes on a more serious aspect when it is coupled with the amount charged back by the wholesaler for the bad and partially incubated eggs that have been marketed.

Farmers and others selling eggs for market should, therefore, need no urging to kill off, dispose of, or at least remove the male birds from the flock after the breeding season.

PROVIDENCE RESISTS REQUEST FOR MODEL YOUNG WOMAN

Providence, July 2.—The common council by unanimous vote has concurred in a recommendation of Mayor Joseph H. Gainer rejecting a request to the city by the late Count Paolo Bajonotti of Turin.

Count Bajonotti's will contained a provision creating a trust of $10,000, the interest of which was to be devoted annually to a young woman of Providence, who, "being twenty years old, marriageable and a daughter of the common people, will best deserve it by her conduct and family virtues."

Mayor Gainer, in his message to the council, suggested that in a city of almost 200,000 people the "most painstaking study and research" would fail to disclose a young woman "more worthy of the prize than perhaps a hundred others."

"In all probability," he said, "the young woman who would most deserve the gift would be too modest and retiring to apply for consideration."

German Sings Tourists.
Berlin, Germany, July 2.—All foreigners at German hotels will have to pay their bills in the currency of their home country or in German money with a surtax of 800 per cent.

Had Leg Cut Off When Forced From Freight Train.

Franklin H. Bullis of 942 Glenmore avenue, Brooklyn, who sued the Erie Railway Company for damages for injuries suffered when he was forced off a swiftly moving freight train on which he was stealing a ride, was awarded a verdict of $35,000 by a jury before Justice Callaghan in the supreme court. The incident occurred on Nov. 29, 1916, at Waverly, N. Y. Bullis's right leg was cut off at the knee. His counsel contended that even though he had no right on the train the railroad employees should have allowed him to alight in safety.

PLEA OF A MOTORIST.

To the Editor of The Times:
Sir,—I am not a motor car owner, therefore have not been summoned to court for speeding, but I would like you to give me a few lines in your paper in justice to those who are fortunate enough to own a car. Why is it that the proper authorities cannot place signs along these highways stating the speed limit so that every motorist local and visiting, may be able to know just what is expected of him. It is done along every good road in every other place even in some of the back districts of this province that can only support a cinder road. It is up to the authorities to play fair with automobile owners as they are paying dearly for what they are getting. Thanking you for your space.
