

1872. more sincerely than the writer. . . . Much might with truth be said of the worth, the Christian grace, the lovingkindness, and unpretending charity of her who has gone from among us, but she needs no eulogy ; she lives in the hearts of her children, and of the friends who loved her.

“ Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord.”
