Then come two bluish stamps, and we are handed our sauf-conduit, and bow and depart.

And, indeed, joyous, pleasure-loving, gay Cannes is stern and serious enough in these critical days. Most of the hotels are now hospitals. The huge "Carlton" is filled with wounded French soldiers, who are to be seen every day sitting on the terrace, sunning their maimed limbs, and perhaps imitating the old warrior of the "Deserted Village" who: "Shouldered his crutch and showed how fields were won." The "St. Charles" is also a hospital, as is the "Gallia," but the "Californie" looks grim and inhospitable with all its blinds closed.
