

4. Respiratory System.

Certain sensations are referred by the patient to this system:—

- (a) nasal irritation, nasal discharge, dryness, discomfort, and pain in the nostrils, blocking of the nasal passages, alteration or loss of the sense of smell, offensive breath,
- (b) post-nasal discharge,
- (c) cough, with or without expectoration, painful throat, alteration or loss of voice.
- (d) difficult inspiration or expiration, or both, pain over the sternum or between the shoulder blades, asthmatic attacks,
- (e) rapid breathing, with or without difficulty or pain,

Certain symptoms may or may not be referred to this system:—

- (a) cyanosis,
- (b) loss of weight,
- (c) night sweats,
- (d) hæmoptysis.

5. Urinary System.

A. Certain sensations or occurrences are referred by the patient to the kidneys, bladder, or urinary tract:—

- (a) Pain and tenderness in the back, painful micturition.
- (b) Frequency of micturition. Does he have to get up at night?
- (c) Scalding on micturition.
- (d) Difficulty in micturition (dysuria).
- (e) Difficulty in retaining urine (dribbling).
- (f) Alteration in the appearance of the urine.
- (g) Alteration in the amount of urine.
- (h) Urethral discharge.