BURGLARY ATTEMPTED.

His Watch and Money---Beware of Tramps.

There have been holdups, burglaries, etc., galore in Newcastle during the past ten days. A number of hard looking characters we made their appearance here of late, ind in one or two cases have succeeded in the belongings of other people

About 12 o'clock Saturday night, the 28th, William Lee, an employe of Hickson's mill, was returning to his house on the Queen's Highway. When he reached the corners of Jane street and the Highway, he was accosted by a tough looking individual couple left Nowhere to spend their honey who demanded a dollar. Mr. Lee replied moon Somewhere. of Ald. Stables, seconded by that he wouldn't give him one, wheret 18, 82, H. Graham, $2, R. Fairman, who is a powerful man was getting the erdine, $2, C. Ryan, $2, D. Willisbest of it. The stranger reached for his hip pocket, evidently to secure a revolver. But, Mr. Lee divining his intention, made two freight hills $52.80 and a strenuous effort and threw his assailant into the ditch, rolling over on top of him. They struggled in the ditch for a minute or two. The footpad managed at length to break free and regain his feet. Obviously he realized he had encountered more than his equal, for he ran down street as fast as his legs would carry him. Mr. Lee reported the matter to the police. Mr. David Sinclair, being night watchman in Hickson's mill is consequently not at home nights, but the other inmates of his house were aroused Saturday night by a noise coming from the outside of the house. On looking out a member of Mr. Sinclair's family discovered two men on a shed adoining the house endeavoring to force an entrance to the house through a window. When the prowlers saw they had been di covered they hastily decamped.

Last Thursday evening Mr. Richard Howe of Rosebank was returning home from Newcastle. When he reached the Mill Cove, he was confronted by a tramp and at the point of a revolver he was forced to hand over his watch and chain and about eight dollars in cash. He gave a description of his assailant to the New castle police.

Every day of late there have been hard looking characters seen on the streets, and residents are warned to be on their guard. Although these characters are seen during the day, Policeman Hill is unable to find any trace of them at night. At 11 o'clock an Hill has the whole town to cover. But, needless to say he cannot patrol more than the business streets thoroughly.

We mention these matters in response to quite a general demand for information as to the game and fish conditions of this county and also to impress upon the minds of the citizens of Newcastle the advantages derived from the visits of these American sportsmen. We think we are safe in saying that there is not a better game or fish county than Northumberland. It offers great advantages to the sportsman who seeks fish or game amid a pleasant climate and attractive sur noundings.
