

SKIDOO IN 20 MINUTES.

Pugilistic Pretender Hustled Out of Town To-day.

Edward Brown Side Swiped the Wrong Man.

Magistrate Thought Woman to Blame In Assault Case.

Erstwhile Frank Erne, of pugilistic fame, degenerated into one Frank Gonia, whose hallucinations about being sand-bagged and robbed ultimately landed him before the bench on a charge of vagrancy, was before the bench this morning. Yesterday afternoon Frank laid aside the signs of convulsions, became rational, said he told a fake story about being robbed and being subject to illusions brought on by fits.

The hospital authorities announced he would go, so Frank left his bed and walked into the arms of Detective Coulter, who had been told off to arrest him for vagrancy. Such an indignity to an American citizen! Frank was inclined to resist, but was foolish—strong is the arm of the law, exemplified by Detective Coulter.

There were no discernible characteristics of pugilistic abilities in Gonia as he sat in the dock. The vacant stare of the half-witted was evident. His head was a representation of a billiard ball in shape and hairlessness; his nose was large, his chin and jaw of the protruding kind. He was fairly well dressed, but he presented the appearance of an undesirable. He told the magistrate he was about 25 years of age, was born six miles from Milwaukee, Wis., and had no trade.

"Do you want to go to jail?" "I should say not."

"How long will it take you to leave Hamilton?"

"About five minutes."

"I'll give you twenty minutes, and if you are caught in the city after that I'll give you six months."

"That's easy," said Frank, as he hiked for the door.

Not on the high seas alone do storms arise. Edward Brown, en route from Brantford to Belleville via Hamilton, dropped into a saloon and there arose a storm whereby Ted had his equanimity ruffled by being thrown to the ground. Such conduct he resented, and smacked John Gobbett's face. For so doing he appeared this morning after being remanded from yesterday.

How the altercation happened, according to the testimony of Brown, was that he was taking a refresher and felt himself gripped by the shoulder from behind, dragged around, and finally laid low. Thinking Gobbett was the offender, Brown struck him. Then P. C. James Clark was called and he was taken away. Brown said he did not know he struck the innocent man. "I was angry and struck out the same as you would have done yourself," said Brown to the Magistrate.

"How do you know what I would have done?" asked his Worship.

"I don't; only I guess," said Ted.

"You will pay $5 and witness fees or go to jail for 14 days."

Such a small thing is a door key, but it caused strife at the home of Albert Freeman, Mrs. Halsted had a room. She was given a week's notice and failed to make her exit, so Albert demanded the key. Mrs. Halsted held fast; they struggled and fell and Mrs. Halsted charged Freeman with assault.

Mrs. Knight and little boy Knight said they saw struggling, but that was all.

Freeman swore that she would not let her face be kicked, and when he demanded the key she resisted. His Worship thought there was an atmosphere of something not quite decorous in Mrs. Halsted's conduct, so he dismissed the case.

Sad was the tale of Charles Young, a devout worshipper of Bacchus. He had not sipped for six months, he said, but how he groaned—roared like an approaching menagerie.

"You are charged with being drunk." "You stood Charles and said 'I was sick.'" Off repeated have been the visits of Charles. He was asked to deny himself two "beans."

In last night's sunset there were many and beautiful colors. Harry Hupitz had an eye with similar colors this morning. From where the peaches grow he came, sipped the nut brown ale, fought, was arraigned and asked to part with $2.

"Will you give me time to pay it, boss?" There was no reply.

Henry England said the weather was beyond human endurance and he looked in the bottom of the schooner too often. "Pay $2," said the Magistrate.

James Kennedy, who was remanded till to-day for sentence on a charge of theft, was let go on deferred sentence, with the understanding if he appears again for being drunk he will be sentenced.

Scarlet Fever Is Epidemic

Twenty-Two Cases at Crown Point Since Last Thursday.

Scarlet fever is epidemic at Crown Point.

The little suburban settlement that has had so much to contend against on account of its lack of sanitary arrangements is smitten again. There have been 22 cases of scarlet fever in five days. Last Thursday the disease made its appearance, and last night the above number was recorded.

So rapid has been its progress that the authorities are much concerned about it. Yesterday the medical health officer, Dr. Alway, visited the settlement. Dr. F. F. Glendenning, of Crown Point, has charge of most of the cases, and Dr. Parry is also in attendance upon some.

To-day arrangements are being made to quarantine all the cases. The people of Crown Point are almost all of the working class, and the hardship which would be occasioned by taking men and women from their work and compelling them to remain idle during weeks of their busy season when they are trying to lay up a little store against the approaching winter is apparent.

In order to avoid such a thing steps are now being taken to provide a large tent in which all the cases can be quarantined and proper nursing, etc., provided. If the progress of the disease can be checked the existing cases could all be handled in a tent before cold weather comes on. Fortunately the fever is of a mild type as yet, but it may become severe at any time.

ON THE WING.

Orville Wright Off to Britain and Germany.

So Far Beaten All Foreigners in Speed Test.

New York, Aug. 10.—Off for Germany, where he will make a series of flights in demonstration of the merits of the Wright aeroplane, Orville Wright sailed to-day on the steamer Kron Prinzessin Cecilie.

His sister Katherine accompanied him. They will make a brief stop in England, but Mr. Wright to-day would not discuss the object of his visit to that country.

The general purpose of the visit is to be made in Germany, he said, was to comply with the arrangements made last winter with the company organized for the manufacture of the Wright aeroplanes in that country.

Before sailing Orville Wright had a word or two to say about the present capabilities of the Wright brothers' aeroplanes. "We have the official record of having flown at the rate of 42.12 miles an hour at Fort Myer. I do not know of any foreigner having gone over a marked course at a speed to exceed 26 miles an hour. At Fort Myer on an unofficial test I went at the rate of 50 miles an hour with the wind from the side. This probably is a speed record in an aeroplane."

TWO NUNS

Hurled From Railway Bridge to Meet Death Below.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Montreal, Que., Aug. 10.—Two nuns from Sault Ste. Recolle convent lost their lives in a peculiar manner to-day. They were crossing a railway bridge connecting Laval County with the Island when they were overtaken by a fast train.

Either through fright or inability to hold on to the iron supports on the side of the bridge, they were hurled into the swift current below and perished immediately. The bridge is commonly used by public although forbidden.

DATE OF TRIAL SET.

Edward Book, charged with obtaining goods by false pretence, appeared before Judge Snider this morning. He elected to be tried by a judge, and his trial was set for Tuesday next.

Louis Sabo, charged with passing a valueless Confederate States bill, also came before his Honor, and elected to be tried by a judge. The case will be heard next Tuesday.

FOUND HIM.

First of Pat Roman's Pigeons at His Door To-day.

Five of the feathered friends of Mr. P. Roman had found his whereabouts yesterday, and were waiting at his door for their morning feed when he arrived.

Now that a few of the pigeons have found him, Mr. Roman thinks the rest will not be long in following. When on his way home to dinner yesterday Mr. Roman was walking through the market when he saw a number of the pigeons, and when he whistled they were not long in alighting near him.

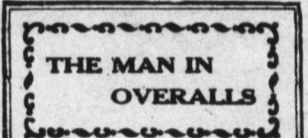

On account of the large number of market wagons around Mr. Roman does not expect to have his feathered friends visit him for their meals to-day, but hopes to have the whole flock to-morrow.

PORK PRICES.

Quite a Drop in Toronto—None Here Yet.

For the past few months pork has been very firm and very little has been offered. The quality has been good, but the quantity not equal to the demand.

The prices throughout Ontario have been firm, being about $8.25 on the local market, which is far above the usual price at this time of the year. This morning the price at Toronto dropped from the $8.25 mark, at which it has been selling for so long, and could be had for from $7.60 to $7.85. It is very likely that there will be a drop here by Thursday. The price this morning was unchanged.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS

The man who leaves his wife and family and runs away with another woman regrets it only once, but that is all his life.

If Hamilton cannot have a Fair of its own, it can at least jump in and help make the South Westworth Fair a world-beater.

The tussock moth says nothing but saws wood.

When we get an around-the-bay belt line the Greater Hamilton movement will get an impetus that will bring the 100,000 population here in a hurry. The north shore is just waiting for that day.

That transmission line is not making many Tory votes along its route.

What is troubling some of the prospective Mayoralty candidates is how they can run on the temperance ticket and still capture the hotel men's vote.

Our printers' devil says that the rat which met an untimely end in the Times office yesterday morning had no right to be in a union office and well deserved its fate.

Should the doctor recommend you to try a change of air and occupation, take a harvest train to the Northwest and spend a month in the wheat field. You will be rid of dyspepsia and insomnia by the time you get back.

Only a step between life and death—a step from one railway track to another.

If parental neglect brought these two girls into the Police Court yesterday, I should say that their parents should have an opportunity to explain matters to the Magistrate. Many a child is punished when the parent should be punished instead.

Should the Beach pumps break down we shall all have to drink lager when we're dry.

One of the city newspapers made an idle charge against the police last night. Now I am tired of hearing such charges. The Commissioners should investigate. If this charge is true they should get after those to blame, and if untrue go for the paper that published the false report.

If the Hamilton people had sense enough twenty or thirty years ago they could have secured the whole of Burlington Beach as a public park and playground for all time. Now they are dickering for a small slice of it that has not yet been picked up by private parties, and will pay much for that slice.

The whole Beach would then have cost them.

Keeping open those "cut off" hotels in Toronto may yet solve the drink or temperance question. A live man can make such a hotel attractive to his customers, and perhaps by degrees wean them from the drink habit. Why can't the Hamilton "cut offs" go and do likewise?

A little of this weather would go good next January.

It is something unusual to hear of a reported giving away the source of his information.

The Board of Works might use up some of last year's overdraft if it is hard up.

Another mad dog in Binbrook. How's your dog?

But Thaw is not the only one who should be in the funny house.

The next rearrangement of the police beats will have to include Mount Hamilton. Don't forget that, Messieurs Commissioners.

Last week Ald. Hopkins declared that the mountain people wouldn't be ready for water until next year. Last night he said they would be ready in two weeks. What do you think of him?

Plenty of water and proper sewerage are two requisites for Crown Point.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED

And a Coroner's Jury Is Investigating the Case.

Peculiar Death of Frank S. Lee This Morning.

Appeared in Good Health and Cheerful Last Night.

Frank Stanley Lee, porter at the Hotel Cecil, James street north, was found dead in his bed at the hotel this morning about 5.30. Lee was apparently in good health and spirits last night when he went to bed between 10 and 11 o'clock. At 11.30 the bell boy was sent to ask him for the lock and key of the back gate which had been left open. Instead of sending the key down by the boy Lee got up and went down and locked the gate himself, again retiring to bed.

At 5.30 this morning, James Carr, night clerk, went to Lee's room to call him and getting no response to his knocking, went in and saw the man lying face downward in bed with all his clothes on. Dr. T. S. McGilivray was at once called and pronounced Lee to be dead. He found the body face downwards and evidence that he had vomited when he was dying. The police were sent for and an inquest was deemed necessary and Dr. H. S. Griffin will act as coroner.

The body was conveyed to the City Hospital morgue, where it was viewed to-day by the jury-men.

Lee had been working as a porter in the Hotel Cecil for the past month. He worked before at the same hotel about three months ago, leaving then to go to a small place near St.

Killed By Sunstroke

R. W. Lowden, of Glenford, Was Victim.

Robert Wesley Lowden, son of Mr. James Lowden, of Glenford, and brother of Mr. Emerson Lowden, of this city, died at his home in Glenford on Sunday of sunstroke. Deceased, who was in his 32nd year, was well known in this city and was a fine, industrious and strong young man.

He was in his usual health on Saturday morning, and began his day's work on his father's farm, only a few miles from the city. During the morning, however, he was suddenly taken ill. Dr. Boyes, the family physician, was called at once and he and another physician attended him. For hours they kept up artificial respiration but at 9.30 on Sunday morning life was declared extinct after 16 hours of coma.

Deceased had all the symptoms of sunstroke and the attending physicians certified that death was the result of insolation.

Mr. Lowden was a native of Glenford and had for the past eight or nine years been a member of Advance Lodge, Canadian Order of Oddfellows, of this city. He was unmarried and had always resided at home.

He reported the matter to the police and investigations were made but nothing was stolen. It is thought they were on a drunken carousal.

GOOD SERVICE.

Burlington Schools Have Assurance From the Radial.

Chairman E. H. Cleaver, of the Burlington School Board, Principal Smith, of Burlington, and Principal McClellan, of Appleby, yesterday visited upon Mr. Waller, General Passenger Agent of the electric suburban lines, with reference to the service into Burlington from points east. A large number of school children from the east attend the Burlington Public and High Schools and Appleby also has quite a number. The car service is first class during the summer months, but that is when the schools are closed, and the winter schedule is not as convenient. Mr. Waller assured the representatives that a steady service would be given, either by continuing the hourly service or by making other arrangements that will be as satisfactory.
