THE CHRISTMAS SHOPPING LIST.

To lighten the labor of Christmas shopping it has been suggested that fore-handled folk should:

- Do their buying early in the season;
- Do their buying early in the day, and
- Send gifts to the recipients two weeks in advance, labeled "Not to be opened till Christmas."

General observance of these rules would ease the holiday burden of both the buyers and the salespeople in the stores; but there is another which should not have been overlooked—to wit: Consult daily the advertising columns of "The Times." Many helpful suggestions are offered by "Times" advertisers, not only as to what to give, but what it will cost and where to get it. "The Times" is an invaluable aid in the compilation of a Christmas shopping list.
