why are not their names, like every thing else par-ded before the world? I am personally acquainted with most, if not all, of the Indians of this Island, and can confidently say, that they have the deepest aversion to Mr. Rand's teaching, and laugh at his boasting pretensions of reducing them from the Catholic Faith.

They are sincerely attached to it; perfectly satisfied to live and die in it; and, with exceptions, evidently attend to the practice of their religion.

As for his future hopeful prospects, they appear much more cheering and interesting from the generosity of the Committee of Gentlemen who sent him, than from the recession of the Indians from their faith. Indeed, his views and wishes on the subject are too transparent to me now. His conduct of themselves, and then, of his being made a refuge for the Indians, and then, very delicately, but very significantly asserts, that he is in power over them.

It is not my wish, if I had the power, to prevent Mr. Rand and family from being well supported, if his kind patrons and employees be so inclined; but only to prevent the Faith of Catholic committed to my charge being tampered with by unjustifiable means.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES MACDONALD.

(From the Massachusetts Gloucester News, October 29.)

Prince Edward Island.—We mentioned in our last, that the Lieut. Governor of Prince Edward Island had issued a proclamation directing all officers of the Revenue, Magistrates, and other subjects of her Majesty, to render all aid in their power to the unfortunate fishermen of that Island, and especially to exert themselves for the preservation of property, and its restoration to the rightful owners ; but it appears from what of late disaster, that this proclamation, though evincing the generous humanity of the Lieut. Governor, was unnecessary ; for they all speak in the warmest terms of gratitude, of the universal hospitality and kindness they and all the shipwrecked men received at the hands of these generous and humane Islanders. In the midst of the storm they were on the beach to render every aid in their power to save life. After it had abated they cheerfully offered their services to assist in the preservation of property. They bore from the wrecks the bodies of those who perished, at their own expense prepared them for the grave, and administered to them the last rites of humanity. Nor was this all ; they opened their doors to those who had no shelter, fed and clothed the destitute, and bestowed upon the sufferers generally every possible assistance which could alleviate their misfortune, and every attention that humanity could devise. At the instance of many of our returned townsmen, our exchanges at Halifax, and the P. E. Island papers are requested to make known to their readers the feelings of grateful remembrance in which the wrecked fishermen of Gloucester will always hold the generous hospitality extended to them in their misfortune.

The Steamer Rose arrived on Saturday last, her usual day, but did not bring the Halifax Mail, nor having gone astray between Ha-llifax and Pictou.

McMac Mission.—A public meeting will be held (D. V.) in the Infirmary Room, on Monday evening next, on behalf of the Missionaries, to collect money for the support of the Missionaries. Several other gentlemen are expected to address the meeting. A collection will be taken.
