Wz are sure that our readers will observe with pleasure the advertisement in another column that the Very Rev. that, before long, it would be necessary to close the Catholic Burying Ground, on the St. Peter's Road. It has become almost impossible to dig a grave, without disturbing the remains of some who have been sleepin there for many years, and to those possessin Christian feelings, the thought of such a violation of the resting place of the dead is most repulsive. Accordingly, His Lordship Bishop McIntyre addressed the members of St. Dunstan's congregation upon the subject last Sunday, and after Mass a meeting was last Sunday, and after Mass a meeting was held in St. Patrick's Hall, when preliminary measures were adopted to carry into effect His Lordship's recommendation. Under the law as it stands at present, no comstery can be opened within two miles of the city limits, and while there is no necessity to go out as far from town as the Sherwood Come-tery, it will be less difficult now to obtain a suitable piece of ground at a much less price suitable piece of ground at a much less price than was paid ten years ago for this location

Ir is very often the fact that, to know what is going on at home, you need to look abroad for information. This is affirmed upon reference to the columns of an esteemed Monoton contemporary, wherein under the caption of a "novel advertisement," we learn that a new industry has been established in Sumpossible which consists in a device for successible which consists in now industry has been established in Summerside, which consists in a device for supplying whiskey in a solidified form, put up in plugs about the size of an ordinary fig of tobacco, and which, being carried in the vest pocket, dissolves readily in a glass of water. This new commodity evidently seems to be intended for foreign consumption, and not for the home market, for to this reason only can we attribute the absence of its advertisement from the columns of our Summerside contemporaries. Whether or not the industry aftressaid is designed to flourish under the National Policy, we are tolerably certain that the "Scott Act," under the protection of the Inspector for Prince County, will materially affect its prosperity.
