ditor Evening Telegram: Dear Sir,--The Scriptures tell us "dead flies cause the cintment the apothecary to send forth a tinking savour." Among the many good things that the Rev. Dr. Moore, cretary of the Temperance and Methodist General Conference, aid there is that which to this movement is as dead flies to the apothecary's ointment as set forth above. Dr. Moore in his address last Thursday night laid down a proposition that is so monstrous and iniquitous in its concention that it seems impossible that no minister present should have failed to discern it and at once repudiate it . If one there was not, then so much the worse for Methodism in this country. The proposition referred to is, however, vital to his theory of the kingdom of Christ on earth-the new earth of John's vision, as he spoke of it in vesterday morning's discourse. To sustain it was not surprising that he should have left out some statements from the Scriptures from which he read, for he must have known that he could earth" fit by taking it all.

I do not wish to be misunderstood appreciate the existing evils against which he is waging a crusade. It is not the disease, or his diagnosis thereto which I object. It is the rem

Seventh Day Adventists he knows that they to a man have ever bee pposed to the liquor traffic; tha they have recognized the social evil and that they were waging a war against these and similar evils long long before the worthy Doctor be came prominent as a Temperance and Moral Reformer, and long, long before the Methodist Church established its department of Temperance and Moral Reform. So it is not in the evils themselves that we take is sue with the Doctor; it is with the remedy in some cases that he proposes that is wrong, a remedy that is as bad, if not worse, than the disease, and it is that that is the fly in the apothecary's ointment.

Dr. Moore's scheme is Utopian Speaking of his conception of the 'new earth," he says very confidently "It is coming." Yes, Dr. Moore, it is coming, and long before it ever dawned upon your fertile brain we knew it was coming. And we know. too, that when it does come it will mean the dark ages over again. The success of the Doctor's work means repudiation of the Reformation ? the sixteenth century, and it means that the Reformation has to be fought over again. I feel sure that Dr. Moore is aware that his scheme will be strenuously opposed to the bitter end, and only by the wiping out of those who oppose could his scheme be wholly successful. As in the days of Ahasuerus there was a Mordecai who would not bow down to Haman, so now there are Mordecais who will not bow down to hese modern Hamans, of whom Dr. Moore is one of the chiefest. On our part we are well aware that Dr. Moore, as a Maman, is preparing the 'gallows fifty cubits high" for those refractory (?) Mordecais. We kno ready written to S. D. A. leaders in Canada threatening them with dire punishment if they do not cease their work. But Mordecai never set foot on that gallows, but somebody else did. The exact parallel your readmay see in the account given in book of Esther.

have no doubt, Mr. Editor, that isal of this letter will call upon me from some quarter the worst kind of anathemas. But that will not move me nor frighten me. The truth has always been with the minority, and it is so in this case. I would rather be right and stand alone with God than receive the plaudits of the masses.

In closing, Mr. Editor, I repeat that Dr. Moore's proposition as applied to religious matters is absolutely false, and that he could sustain his conception of the "new earth" only by perverting the prophecies from which he read and leaving out portions that he knew would destroy his theory.

It was the first time fireworks were ever seen on the island. The display was an unsurpassed success. Throughout the whole night fine luminations added to the eclat of the

A number of coloured lanterns were suspended in mid-air be tween the church tower and the school flagstaff: and the schoolroon and the old Parsonage were lighted up brilliantly with numerous twink ling candles.
