

A Contemptible Lie Nailed

By Mr. Kent's Partner,
Mr. R. T. McGrath.

The Daily News published this morning a most contemptible attack on Mr. Kent in his absence, based on a deliberate and false twisting of words from their natural meaning which appeared in the Evening Herald. Without entering into the facts, just as in the attack on Sir William Whiteway, which was refuted by Mr. Justice Johnson, the Daily News made an attack on Mr. Kent, who has won such a striking victory in the Commercial Cable case. The whole attack is founded on falsehood. This is how Mr. McGrath deals with the matter:

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Mr. Editor.—In an article entitled "Save me from my friends," this morning's News makes a most unfair attack on Mr. J. M. Kent, K.C., who is at present out of the Colony. It is stated in this article that "Attorney General Kent in his capacity of Minister of Justice entered into a contract with the Commercial Cable Company for which he was Solicitor."

The obvious meaning of this is that Mr. Kent acted on behalf of the Company and the Colony in the same negotiations. The article then goes on to criticize Mr. Kent's actions in connection with this matter. The claim would have been most proper and reasonable had the facts stated by the News been true, but I question if even the editor of that paper believed for a moment that Mr. Kent ever occupied this "dual position."

I have been associated with Mr. Kent for the past four years, first as student and latterly as a partner, and I am familiar with the relations that existed between him and the Company.

The contract between the Government and the Company was ratified on February 18, 1909. Mr. Kent, as Minister of Justice, acted for the Colony, the Company's interests being looked after by their attorneys in New York.

On March 3, 1909, the resignation of the Bond Ministry was accepted and Mr. Kent left the Department of Justice.

On April 7th Mr. Kent was notified by the Newfoundland agent of the Commercial Cable Company that the Company proposed to erect a building at Cuckhold's Cove and he was retained to inquire into the title of the land. This was his first retainer from the Company, and from thenceforth he acted as their solicitor here. Mr. Kent never acted for the Company as Solicitor or in any other capacity while he was Attorney General and a member of the Government. Mr. Kent's reputation is so high that it is inconceivable that any one who knows him should charge him with such a gross breach of professional conduct, as the Daily News does this morning.

I deem it only just that I should make this statement, as Mr. Kent, on account of his absence from the Colony, is unable to defend himself.

Yours truly,
R. T. McGRATH.

Cochrane Street Church.

Two distinguished visitors will preach at the above Church to-morrow. Mr. George A. Warburton, M.A., General Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Canada, will preach in the morning. He is an eloquent speaker, and his work brings him in close touch with young men, no doubt he will have something of interest and profit to say to them to-morrow. In the evening Rev. John A. McDonald, L.L.D., will be the preacher. Mr. McDonald is a clever, fearless, brilliant man, who some years ago gave up the pastorate of his church in order to take charge of the Toronto "Globe." His message will be one of practical interest for the every day life of the commercial, literary, political and religious person. Visiting friends will be cordially welcomed, and ushers will be in attendance.

Green, who was with Bernier in the Arctic regions, goes in command of the Neptune.

Dear Madam, St. John's,—

You have perhaps heard of the 100,000 people a day who follow a crooked street, just because years before this beaten path was begun by a calf wandering aimlessly along a country common. Is this crooked and beaten path following applicable in your case, when it comes to spending your dimes to the best advantage?

We have left the crooked and beaten path of selling, because first we left the crooked and beaten path of buying, and you can profit by it.

Follow the economy road, which is a straight one, and leads to our store. Therefore, Madam, start right to-day.

Yours, very truly,

J. M. DEVINE.

P.S.—Last week's sales will be repeated on lines which were not cleared then.

A Good Scheme.

At the Council meeting yesterday the disabilities under which the people of the higher levels and Monks-town labor as regards getting a supply of fresh fish were spoken of. Many are so far remote from the Water St. markets that they can't send down there, and if they do, often they can't be supplied. A committee consisting of Councillors Martin, Myrick and Mullaly with the Mayor were appointed to evolve a scheme for the establishment of such utilities which must not alone be of benefit to the public but will also tend to sell a greater quantity of fish for the local fishermen. It is the intention to put the market up in the most modern manner and to have them cleanly in every respect.

Had to Jettison.

The brig, Rosina, Capt. Dillon, arrived here to Goodridge's molasses laden this morning after a run of 28 days. She had moderate weather all through and thick fog the past five days. On the run from this port to Bahia she encountered a fierce storm from the 28th January till the 7th February, was lying to all the time, and labored so heavily that she sprung a leak and the pumps had to be kept going until she reached her destination. The crew had to cut their way through the bulk heads to get into the hold and 800 drums of fish had to be jettisoned to lighten the ship and save her from sinking.
