Of all the poisons taken into the body, the germs and pus contributed by diseased gums (Pyorrhoea) are the most destructive to the human system. If every red blood cell is forced to fight against numbers of germs to the cell, the blood cannot tend to the building up of the body, and if allowed to continue the system is bound to break down and eventually you are an invalid. Kidney, stomach, heart trouble, rheumatism and many other diseases are brought on by diseased gums and teeth.

International League of Liberty.

St. John's Nfld.

October 11th, 1919.

Sir,—The Government of the Republic of Cuba have forwarded me the enclosed copy of an Act passed by the Congress of Cuba, relative to the creation of an International League for caring for War Orphans, and I should feel obliged if you would publish it for general information.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
R. J. DEVEREUX,
Consul for the Republic of Cuba.
To The Editor,
Evening Telegram,
City.

Article I.—The Executive Power is hereby authorized to propose, in the name of the Republic of Cuba, to all the Powers allied in the war against the Central Powers of Europe and to those that severed their diplomatic relations with them, that, on occasion of the peace conference about to be held in Paris, they appointed plenipotentiaries to meet in that city, if the government of the French Republic accept the idea, who shall agree upon the formation of an international association for the protection, care and education of those needy children, whose fathers have died fighting in the ranks of the Allies for the liberty of the world, until they reach an age at which they can take care of themselves, and for this purpose to create a fund to which all the contracting States shall contribute in the proportion and amount corresponding to their respective populations and public wealth, which sums they shall deliver in the form and times agreed upon; and which may be increased by the voluntary contributions which associations and individuals in any part of the world may be willing to make to said fund.

Article II.—The Executive Power shall instruct the Plenipotentiaries of the Republic of Cuba to propose that the association about to be created be called "International League of Liberty," as a tribute to the memory of those who died struggling for the liberty of the world, inasmuch as it is an obligation of the beneficiaries of the same to care for the children of those who heroically sacrificed their lives for them.

Article III.—The Executive Power is likewise empowered to take all necessary measures conducive to the ends of this Law and for this purpose to dispose of such amounts as may be necessary from the funds existing in the Treasury, reporting the same to Congress, nevertheless submitting at the proper time to the Senate the Convention agreed upon, as required by paragraph six of Article forty-seven of the Constitution of the Republic.

Bennett and Colleagues

Will Roll Up a Majority Vote at St. Phillips on Polling Day.

The popular candidates for the Liberal Progressive Party in St. John's West, Hon. J. R. Bennett, Messrs. J. J. Mullaly and J. T. Martin, visited St. Phillips and vicinity yesterday afternoon and held two most enthusiastic and successful meetings. The first in the schoolroom on the east side, was attended by practically all the residents of the section, and Mr. Solomon King, who occupied the chair, in an appropriate address, introduced the candidates. The latter ably outlined the Liberal-Progressive policy, and in convincing manner showed the gathering that their best interests would be conserved by supporting the party under the leadership of Sir Michael Cashin.

This meeting, though held in the afternoon when everyone is ordinarily busy, was attended by the great majority of the voters, who with joy guns and the flying of flags, gave the candidates a most enthusiastic reception. After visiting other parts of this section, the greatest meeting in the history of the place was held in the schoolroom at St. Phillips. The veteran champion orator, Mr. Richard Squires, who 43 years ago upheld the traditions of Newfoundland against the Nova Scotian, Ferguson, occupied the chair in a most dignified and pleasing manner.

After a few introductory remarks he called on Hon. J. R. Bennett, who intimated he would first introduce his colleagues, Messrs. Mullaly and Martin, as they were new in the district, and ask them first to address the gathering. Mr. Mullaly then stepped forward and received a most wholehearted reception, and amid deafening applause proceeded to state he was proud to be associated with such a man as Mr. Bennett in the campaign. After reviewing the manifesto of Sir Michael Cashin in clear-cut, logical manner, he assured his audience of his determination to uphold the traditions of the district when elected on Nov. 3rd, and promised his utmost endeavors, and those of his colleagues, would at all times be directed to the interests of the people of the whole district, and particularly that section he was then speaking to.

Following Mr. Mullaly, Mr. Martin took the platform and delivered a brief but convincing and practical speech. He assured those present he made no claim to be an orator, but when elected would at all times devote his untiring efforts to the interests of those who honored him by their support. He recognized the district had been ably represented in the years past, and felt sure that under the leadership of Sir Michael Cashin and in conjunction with his colleagues, the further welfare of the district and St. Phillips was in safe hands.

The rounds of applause which was given at the conclusion of Mr. Martin's speech was such as to prove beyond shadow of doubt that St. Phillips to a man will vote the straight ticket on polling day for Bennett, Mullaly and Martin. Hon. J. R. Bennett on coming forward received an ovation that clearly demonstrated his increasing popularity amongst his constituents. Never in the history of the settlement was such an ovation given a public man, showing conclusively that the people of St. Phillips have made up their minds to stand by him against all odds and at all costs. When the applause had subsided, Hon. Mr. Bennett in a speech extending more than an hour and a half, reviewed the whole political situation from his election in 1913 to the present moment. In a manly exposition of the part played by him in the extraordinary period since that time, he convinced his hearers that a more faithful and worthy representative is not to be found. The audience went simply wild with enthusiasm when Mr. Bennett scored point after point against his traducers who during the last twelve months or more have carried on a low down propaganda to discredit and injure him in the esteem of his true and trusted constituents. If any doubt prevailed or any person imagined for a moment that the people of St. Phillips had lost their heads, the reception received last night, and the reception received leaves no other conclusion than that he is more popular than ever, and the people are more determined to send him and his colleagues back as their representatives on polling day. His touching reference to his late colleagues, Mr. M. Kennedy, and expression of regret at the departure of Lord Morris from Newfoundland, won for him the approbation of the entire audience. His reference to the venerable chairman, who had acted as such for 30 years with Lord Morris, himself and the other representatives of the district, wherein he said Champion Rd. Squires was always in his place and never lost a race, evoked great applause. To-night, said Mr. Bennett, he is again in the coxswain's seat, I am at the stroke oar, and with the crew behind me will reach the winning post on polling day with our opponents far in the rear.

Space only permits a mere sketch of Hon. Mr. Bennett's speech, which was the ablest ever delivered in the important settlement of St. Phillips. Mr. Mullaly and Mr. Martin, his colleagues, he said, were men of sterling character, men of works, who were not seeking anything beyond an honest vote, men of independence and who for sure were not looking for money from any outside interests. His colleagues, he said, were not of the type of office-seekers but men who would stand by the people of St. John's West, first and last. They had no axe to grind, were well and able to look after the interests of St. Phillips, and could always be found in their homes and on Water Street, while others seeking their suffrages would be conspicuous by their absence many miles away.

Hon. Mr. Bennett, who has more support in St. Phillips than even Sir Edward Morris, told the voters that as Sir Edward Morris had always advocated Bennett first on the ticket, he would also ask St. Phillips to vote Mullaly and Martin first and Bennett when they are considering later. The statement of Hon. Mr. Bennett so much appealed to the voters of St. Phillips that they pledged themselves united to a man to vote the straight ticket, Bennett, Mullaly and Martin. Such an honest appeal by Hon. Mr. Bennett proved to the large gathering that he was sincere, he was a man of principle, and not out for the "straw" cry of vote for "me", St. Phillips' electors "warmed" up when Mr. Bennett called upon the voters to vote for Bennett, Mullaly and Martin, and not to split in his favor. I am prepared, said Hon. Mr. Bennett, to win with Mullaly and Martin, and you must stand by them with me. Hon. Mr. Bennett also dealt in his remarks with Sir Michael Cashin's manifesto, and how it affected St. John's West. Mr. Bennett, whose address covered more than an hour, told St. Phillips what the Cashin Government would do for the settlement, and of his personal efforts to keep it well in advance of any settlement in the country. Mr. Bennett appealed to one who had represented St. John's West for fifteen years, and on behalf of his colleagues. It was up to him to go back to the Assembly with his colleagues and with at least a majority that St. John's West had represented himself, Sir Edward Morris and the late M. J. Kennedy. Hon. Mr. Bennett asked the gathering that there be no split vote. Vote, said Mr. Bennett, for Bennett, Mullaly and Martin, and then you are voting against Conker and serving the best interests of St. John's West and St. Phillips.

This is a mere sketch of Hon. Mr. Bennett's speech, which was the ablest and most satisfactory in the opinion of all present, ever delivered in the settlement of St. Phillips. That section will roll up at least a seven-eighths straight ticket vote for Bennett, Mullaly and Martin, and the people there have fully decided that no USURPER, no matter whoever he may be, will turn them from their allegiance to the old traditions of that important portion of St. John's West. At the termination of Hon. Mr. Bennett's speech, the cheers were deafening for himself and colleagues, indicating an unanimous verdict that there will be no split in the vote in St. Phillips, but a straight ticket vote for Bennett, Mullaly and Martin. The meeting closed at 10:15 with the National Anthem.

The reception yesterday was the most enthusiastic ever tendered candidates visiting St. Phillips and the support of the electors there is assured Bennett, Mullaly and Martin. Flags were flying in all directions and from the time of the candidates' arrival till late at night the hills resounded with volleys of musketry.

The attempt is to Rob Bennett and his colleagues of their seats in St. John's West. But St. Phillips' voters say "NO!"
