She betrayed more restlessness of manner than Oswald had ever observed. Since her entrance she had been incessantly taking off and putting on the left-hand glove. He thought her changed. Her face glooked worn, her eyes anxious.

"It would be doing you no kindness, Mrs. Cray. Believe me, the only plan open to Mark is to come forward and meet the company. His stopping away makes things worse. Major Pratt was here just before you came in, asking if I could give him news of Mark. I am tempted to wish often that I had no connection with him. Tell him to face this."

I had no connection with him. Tell him to face this."
"I will not tell him." she answered, her cheeks crimson, her violetablue eyesshining with a purple light. "If you will not advance me these poor few pounds that I plead for to you, there'll be nothing for us but to lie down and die. I have not "she paused, struggling with emotion—"I have not had a proper meal these three months: I feel often sick with want. Sometimes I wish I was with Uncle Richard."

Dangers of Kissing-Nearly Twenty People Caught Diphtheria at a Wedding,

Jamestows, Aug. 22.—On Wednesday evening, in the town of Kiantone, a few miles south of this city, the marriage of Miss Aiken to Mr. Amsdell took place. The bride was a very popular young woman, and many friends were at her weding. She had a slight sore throat, but thought little of it and made complaint to no one. Since the wedding the case has developed into one of diphtheria, and nearly a score of her friends who were at the wedding and kissed the bride when offering their good wishes have been attacked with the same disease.
