have to take it easy their first time out. They'll have Sunday to get untangled but workouts every other night next week will be the rule, so as Coach Forgue points out to the ambitious ones, there'll be plenty of chances to limber up gradually instead of taking it all at once.

While 22 players are "listed" and will all be out, nobody is barred, and several youthful Sunshine Park stars, it is believed, will get out this afternoon. The committee has gone beyond the list for the reason that there may be some ball players in the city who are not known, and any of these who think they can make the senior grade will find "welcome" on the gate over at the ball yard. come" on the gate over at the ball yard. First Peek.

It will be the local fans' first chance to see the amateurs in spring practice. Such an early start as this was hardly ever known before in this city. Doing their spring training in August has long been a fault of most amateur teams, but this will be avoided this year, and by the time opening day in the Southern Base-ball League rolls around, the squad will at least bear some resemblance to what

Some Prospects.

Isaacs, Pirie and Armstrong are three catching prospects on the list. Down, Pring, Arscott, Nopper and Johnston are hurlers. Lloyd Reilly has opposition for first in Goodman, who formerly played for Harvesters' senior . 1922 champs. There are several second sackers turning out, but Connors is the best known. "Toots" Doherty, Mallhall, Sumners, George are shortstop prospects, and all look good. Southcott and Jeffries are third sackers, both of whom will likely be out today. Smith and Carfrae and McWhinney are outfielders, who may have to show some edge over youngsters from Sunshine Park, and should.

The workouts start at 3 o'clock unless the pros should carry on longer than they usually do.

There has been considerable discussion as to the advisability of having the new league in affiliation with the O. A. B. A., some favoring a strictly amateur On the other hand, there is a league. On the other hand, there is a strong feeling in favor of an independent league to enable outside batteries to be brought in to strengthen the teams. However, the point will be finally decided at Monday's meeting, with present indications pointing to an independent league. The new league will be a nice compact four-club circuit, comprising Sarnia, Watford, Forest and Strathroy.

The big crowd of fans who loyally turned out to see the charity effort and to cheer the Thisties to victory did not get a chance to correctly estimate the real working power of the Thistles. At ro time in the game were they really pressed into a hard-working mood. For tile most part of the game the Thistles teyed with their opponents, and only swung into something like their stride in the dying moments of the game.

Frequently they combined while standing still on the floor, passing the ball all around the Detroiters and showing no hurry to shoot. In the last eight minutes, however, they ran in 21 points, falling just one point short of their total for the preceding three periods.

The Detroit girls played without one of their star players, who was unable to make the trip. This fact may have upset their game somewhat, but their main trouble seemed to center in beating the defence. They were checked closely at times, while at other periods they were allowed to carry the game to the defence end of the floor. Bessle Graves and Frances Talbot, the newlyacquired defence star, played a nice game in the guard positions. Bessle was played on forward for a while, and while there accounted for two field baskets.

Messrs, Gowers, Jack and Robert Reyburn. Last year's report showed a balance in the bank in favor of the association of $15.92. This was considered most satisfactory in view of the heavy expenses incurred last season. Their rules this year call for only one team from each school, with the competition being open only to boys who have not passed their entrance. Those who pass their entrance examination in June will be eligible for the balance of the season. Affiliation fee was fixed at $1 for each school team.
