Talks of a John Bull and Uncle Sam Family Love Feast.

London, July 17.—Lord Pauncefote, British ambassador to the United States made the following statement tonight to a representative of the Associated Press.

"I am having a conference with the Marquis of Lansdowne, not only about the Nicaragua canal, but also with regard to half a dozen treaties pending between Great Britain and the United between Great Britain and the United States. These are chiefly concerned with West India reciprocal arrangements.

When asked if he thought there was any possibility of arriving at an agreement regarding the Nicaraguan canal before congress reconvened, he replied:

"Yes, I sincerely hope so. We are now in the middle of negotiations which although they have not yet reached any tangible result, show good promise.

Naturally I may not disclose the details, but I may say that, when I return to the United Stafes at the end of October, I hope to take with me a Nicaraguan treaty that will meet the views of both President McKinley and the British cabinet. There is no use wasting time over treaties which the senate is likely to refuse. I really believe the differences of opinion between the two nations are capable of settlement in an agreement fair to both. If I thought anything could be done before October, I would return prior to that date, but I do not believe that anything would be gained."

At this point Lord Pauncefote paid a

Montreal, July 16,—(Special)—The act of Mr. St. Jacques, the proprietor of the Russell House, Ottawa, in declining to admit shirt waist men to the dining room of the hotel was a fruitful source of conversation among the hotel people in the city today. Zest was added to the discussion by the fact that a guest at the Queen's hotel, wearing a dainty shirt waist, walked into the dining room this morning and made a hearty breakfast in spite of the attention attracted. Whether he received a gentle hint from some member of the staff, or whether he feared to again brave the questioning curiosity of many pairs of eyes, is not known, but at dinner and supper he appeared in ordinary attire and disappointed a number of guests who were on the look out for him.

spiracy case will be rendered tomorrow morning, all the evidence being in this evening. Mr. Roy Brown, reporter on the Daily Province, one of the most important witnesses in the case, testified this afternoon. Mr. Brown refused at first to tell the court where he got the information which he caused to be published in the Province regarding the plan adopted by the strikers in dealing with the Japanese in intimidating them and a description of how the Japanese were captured and marooned.

The magistrate told the witness that he would send him to jail if he did not answer. Mr. Brown stated that the information was given him in confidence and he would not divulge the names of his informants.

On being further informed that he would be committed to jail until he did answer, Mr. Brown yielded very reductantly, and stated that one of his informants was the accused, Mr. Rogers and the other man named Parsonage. Mr. Brown said he inferred from what Mr. Bogers had told him that he was on the striking patrol boats some of the time on the night of the kidnapping, but perhaps not at the time of the actual kidnapping. Other evidence of vital importance to the prosecution came out in Mr. Brown's deposition.
