KEEP OUT.

Surely Campbellton has had enough of law and law-suits without seeking more.
Surely the mess that has been tried up in our courts can be settled without all the expense of a expensive court suit.
Dea. C. C. N. and Chambers have expressed the desire to save to a such expense, and Council have publicly expressed their willingness to abide by the decision of three impartial citizens, after hearing all the evidence in the charge as set forth by Coun. Belle Isle's resolution.
Let the Council appoint a committee, and then submit the evidence before that said committee.

PROVINCIAL ROADS.

Thanks to the progressive highway policy of the Foster government the province of New Brunswick has made a larger use than any other province in the Dominion of the federal appropriation for good roads. It has already received $2,292,632.29 on work done, and this work must be satisfactory to the federal road engineers before the money is paid. An Ottawa despatch says that this province will eventually get $1,027,776 in all, on the total estimated cost of $2,756,940 for 1,052.2 miles of road. Since the present government came into power the roads of this province have been greatly improved, and the present year has added materially to the mileage. This government has also constructed many new bridges of the most substantial character. The work has involved a large expenditure and the government in carrying on its general road work has had the same handicap all governments suffer in, that local road which is not done under contract does not measure up in quantity or quality, for the amount of money expended, with that which is performed under the terms of a contract. The old had notion that local road work is being done "for the government" and does not call for a real day's work or a real job when finished, still prevails to some extent; and yet the men who are responsible are not above asserting that too much money is spent for the results achieved, or denying that the government is responsible for the waste. The time must come when all road work will be so planned and supervised as to yield as good results as any that is done under contract. Meanwhile the roads are steadily improving, in spite of handicaps, and the evidence is found everywhere throughout the province.—E.L.V.

STEP LIVED.

If Campbellton is to be saved the cost of expensive additions to its electric light and power plant its Council must move quickly in making application to the Hydro-Electric Commission for power.
Newcastle has been able to make the necessary arrangements and will be supplied with current on or about Oct. 1st at a very reasonable figure.
Our present electric light plant is now loaded to about its capacity and with new buildings going up and more people using lights and power it means that before another year we will be up against a large expenditure for a new plant.
Surely Campbellton has had enough there must be available sufficient power to supply Campbellton for all time.

A Time Exposure.

A judge's little daughter who had attended her father's court for the first time, was very much interested in the proceedings. After her return home she told her mother:
"Papa made a speech, and several other men made speeches to twelve men who sat all together, and then these twelve men were put in a dark room to be developed."

PROVISIONS OF THE GAME LAW

What Hunters May and May Not do This Season—The Penalties.

The following information has been compiled from the Game Laws of New Brunswick, 1921.
Regarding partridges, the open season is set every year by an order-in-council. For 1921, the open season is from the first day of October to the twentieth day of October, both days inclusive. It is illegal to kill more than six birds on one day and more than twenty during the open season. Regulations governing the season for woodcock, snipe, ducks and other migratory birds, are set out yearly by the federal government at Ottawa and the limits of the coming season are from September 15 to November 30. The moose and deer seasons open and close simultaneously, from September 15 to November 30. Each individual who carries a hunter's license is allowed to shoot one bull moose and two deer throughout the season. This is the limit and the penalty provided for transgression of the law is $200 or four months in jail. The hunter's license costs a non-resident fifty dollars and the native three dollars. This license has three tags attached for each game animal authorized to be killed; one of such tags is designated for the head, one for the carcass and one for the hide. When a moose or deer is killed, these tags must be used and they must be marked with the name and address of the killer and the time and place of killing. The head must be brought out and neglect to do so renders the offender liable to a penalty of fifty dollars or two months in jail. It is an offence to hunt or kill the following: (1) any cow moose, calf moose, cow caribou or calf caribou at any time or season; (2) any moose or deer in the night time, that is, between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise; (3) any moose or deer by means of light or lights; (4) any moose or deer by means of a dog or by a trap. As a matter of fact, no caribou can be killed or hunted before the first day of October, 1921. No deer can be killed on Deer Island, Charlotte county, before October 1, 1925. A license, costing one dollar, is required before deer can be shot on Grand Manan Island and then only between December 1 and 10. The carcass of any moose or deer, lawfully killed by a person who possesses a hunter's license, can be offered for sale.
No license is necessary for natives who intend to shoot migratory birds only. A bird license for a non-resident costs fifteen dollars. Non-residents when entering the woods to hunt must employ a registered guide. The penalty for not doing so is $100 or two months in jail.
Co-incident with the opening of the game season is the opening of the trout fishing season, which ends September 30.

BANDITS ROBBED QUEBEC JEWELER

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Five armed automobile bandits robbed the jewelry store of Elias Barbeau, Main street, Buckingham, Que., early this morning of various articles valued at $2,000 and emerging victorious from a brief gun fight with a squad of Ottawa constables sent to intercept them at Gatineau Point, a village on the outskirts of this city, were able to make good their escape.
When last seen the car was proceeding at a high rate of speed in the general direction of Castleton Place, Ont. No one was injured in the brief pistol duel.
Barbeau, the owner of the Buckingham jewelry store, who lives about the premises, was awakened about 2 o'clock this morning by sounds of breaking glass. He reached the door stairs part of the house in time to see five men departing in a high-powered red touring car.
Police officials in the surrounding districts were notified by telephone and every avenue of escape was guarded. The Ottawa police force sent a squad of five men to a point of vantage on the Gatineau Road. Shortly after their arrival they heard the approach of the car and spread across the roads. Their command to the driver of the car, however, was answered with a volley of shots from the other occupants of the car and the car brushed past them, nearly running them down.
The police gave chase in an automobile but were unable to maintain the terrific speed set by the bandits, and the men escaped.
It has been learned that the bandits' car was later seen at a notorious roadhouse on the Chelsea Road. There were five occupants, and, according to reports, they were all intoxicated.
One of the men was seen lying on the road and was, according to the story told the police, either hurt or very intoxicated.
