The jury in the case of George Patterson, accused of stealing furs from Samuel Johnson, returned a verdict of acquittal without leaving the box Saturday. Mr. Patterson, who has lived here 40 years, was warmly congratulated by many friends. Twice last week Mary Smith was before the magistrate for drunkenness. She got off both times on promissing to go to friends at or near Barrie. Mary, however, failed to keep her word, being found drunk on Elizabeth street Saturday night. This time the magistrate will probably send her over the Don. Mr. James Brandon is announced as one

Mr. James Brandon is announced as one of the aldermanic candidates for St. Patrick's ward. Mr. Brandon's requisition is signed by many of the leading ratepayers of the ward. He wishes it stated that he is in no way connected with the firm of C. T. Brandon & Co. central prison contractors. An excited young man yesterday afternoon reported at police headquarters that
Wm. Ryan's provision warehouse, 72 Front street east, had been broken into. Detective Burrows and Policeman Porter went down to the place and found that the faces had been removed from the grating, but

Court street they made a sharp turn into Court street, the result being that the buggy was upset and badly smashed, while the occupants themselves were dumped out. The Court street firemen took pity on their sad plight and washed them off with the bose.

Some amusement was created on Queen street Saturday afternoon by the gyrations and evolutions of a man and a small boy, the former in parsuit of the latter. The chase ended in the capture of the boy, who was accused of the enormous crime of having stolen some show cards from a house on Terauley street. The policeman, to whom he was handed over, refused, however, to make any arrest.

The Queen street hremen were called round the corner on John street last night to extinguish a blaze in a house adjoining Bickerstaff's burnt building. They managed to do it in quick time and no alarm was sounded. The house is occupied by orderly characters, and has been threat ened with fire on several occasions recently. It is understood that the chairman of the fire committee has given an order to pull down the ruins at the corner.

To the Editor of The World: Sir-I attended the Grand opera house on Saturday afternoon and have a grievance. Buying a seat in the dress circle I handed in my ticket and passed inside, or at least I attempted to pass inside. The place was so thoroughly jammed that I could not get in.

I was refused my money back by the manager. The least that Manager Sheppard could do, and which is done in all the respectable theatres in New York, Boston, Chicago, etc., is to hang out the familiar sign, "standing room only," when all the seats are sold. People could then govern themselves accordingly. It would be nothing but justice if the Grand people ceased selling tickets on Saturday when their house was as full as it could hold. their house was as full as it could hold.

This Week at the Grand. The Romany Rye company drew the largest house to the Grand opera house on Saturday afternoon that has ever attended a matinee. The place was jammed from pit to dome. In the evening another large audience was present.

This week the attraction will be that charming and clever young actress, Miss Margaret Mather, in a round of Shakes-Margaret Mather, in a round of Shakespearean plays, commencing this evening with Romeo and Juliet. Critics, like doctors, invariably differ, but all are united in saying Miss Mather's Juliet is a superb representation, some going so far as to say it is the Juliet of the modern stage. Miss Mather will have the enormous advantage of a strong support, included in which are
Mr. Milnes Levick, a star himself, Alex.
Salvini, fa son of the great tragedian,
William Davidge. Mrs. Carrie Mason, and Miss Kate Fisher. With such a company an enjoyable week of legitimate drama is assured and it is gratifying to note that the advance sale of seats has been unusually large. large.

A HOME DRUGGIST TESTIFIES.

Popularity at home is not always the best test of merit, but we point proudly to the fact that no other medicine has won for itself such universal approbation in its own city, state, and country, and among all people, as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

RHEUMATISM. had an attack of Rheumatism, so severe that I could not move from the bed, or dress, without help. I tried several remedies without much if any relief, until I took AYER'S ARRAPARILLA, by the use of two bottles of which I was completely cured. Have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, and it still retains its wonderful popularity. The many notable cures it has effected in this vicinity convince me that it is the best blood medicine ever offered to the public.

TESTING ITS MERITS.

So much has been said regarding the wo derful cures made through the aid of the spirometer, the invention of Dr. M. Souvielle of Paris ex-aide surgeon of the French army, that many eminent physicians have been induced to investigate the instrument, and also Throat and Lung Institute. All who have so investigated express themselves satisfied that the physicians comprising the staff of the institute are thoroughly qualified medical men, that patients receive the latest and most scientific treatment, and that the spirometer is really a valuable addition to medical science. One very prominent physician said: "If there is anything in inhalation it can be got out of the spirometer. I am surprised at the powerful effects produced." Any one suffering from Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Consumption in its first stages or Laryngits should consult the physicians of the institute personally and be examined; if not, write for a list of questions and copy of "International News," published monthly. Suppose a wealthy man of your acquaintance, one whose word and whose ability to carry out his promises you placed full confidence in, proposed to sell you a valuable farm, worth at this time, say $10,000, and would sell it to you as being an exceptionally healthy man, on a credit running through ten years, with a certain equal amount payable each year of the ten, and that it was in your power to apply that sum each year to the payment required. Suppose further, that this friend said: You can make these yearly payments for any number of the ten years that you please, and if you see fit, for any cause, to stop these payments at the end of any of the years short of the ten, (after two years have been paid for) I will make you a deed of the land in the proportion you have paid for; and, further, I agree to give you, at the end of each year, while you are making these payments, the annual profits, earnings, or dividends on that farm, and, each year, deduct from your annual payment such earnings profits, or dividends as the farm may earn that year; and he assures you that these earnings or dividends will probably increase each year, and materially reduce the amount of from your annual payment such earnings, profits, or dividends as the farm may earn that year; and he assures you that these earnings or dividends will probably increase each year, and materially reduce the amount of your annual payment, and that the farm in that ten years shall not be liable for your debts, and he further guarantees that at the end of the ten years the farm shall, be worth exactly $10,000. He then says: Take this offer and I will further bind myself and guarantee to you that if you will keep up your annual payments, and die ANY TIME within those ten years, and before all the payments are made, that in such case, I will deliver or pay over to your wife or to any person you may will or devise it to, THE ENTIRE FARM, or $10,000 IN GOLD COIN, and require no further payments on the same.
