DON'T WANT WOMEN IN BEER PARLORS

B. C. Brewers And Hotel Men Will Demand That They Be Barred

Vancouver, B. C.—Hotel men and brewers intend to demand of A. M. Davidson, liquor commissioner, that women be prohibited from entering beer-by-the-glass parlors, according to an announcement made here yesterday.

"That's where this system is going to fall down, if anywhere," declared a hotel man in commenting on the conduct of beer parlors.

Hotel men have been advised that they have no right to refuse women admission to their business parlors, and there is no power to prohibit them by regulation, stated Commissioner Davidson.

It is likely the hotel men will ask for legislation to this end when the Legislature meets next fall.

NO CIDER ALLOWED.

"Too Dangerous" Rules B. C. Liquor Board Official.

Victoria B. C.—Commissioner Hugh Davidson, of the liquor control board, has ruled that cider cannot be sold in the beer parlors of British Columbia.

"In the first place we could not put cider in the bars under the present laws, which specifically allows only beer to be sold," Commissioner Davidson said. "In the second place, cider is hard to handle. It increases rapidly in alcoholic percentage; in fact, it is dangerous stuff. It is liable to go off."

Government experts who have been investigating the possibility of selling cider in the bars reported that cider will not mix with beer. They found that almost nothing produced a "lag" so quickly as a drink of cider on top of beer.

CENTURY OLD BAMBOO ORGAN STILL IS IN USE.

One of the most remarkable organs in the world, says a writer in the Wife World Magazine, is the bamboo organ in the Catholic church of Los Pinos, a little town about five miles from Manila, in the Philippine Islands.

This organ was built about 1818 by an old Spanish priest, who must have been an extremely patient and devoted worker, as he used more than 900 lengths of bamboo in the organ, every one of which was buried in the sand for at least two years in order to season it.

Although the bamboo is a very soft wood, the old priest did his work so well that the organ is still in good condition after a century of use, and is used every week in his services by the Belgian priest in charge, Father Victor Deleereq.

Every part of the instrument is made of bamboo and some very ingenious devices were included by its builder. While making the organ, the priest built a tiny model, a perfect copy of the instrument. This he sent to the Queen of Spain, who in appreciation of the present, sent a number of valuable gifts to the church. Some of them still remain, and are almost as much treasured as the organ itself.

IS GASOLINE A BACK NUMBER NOW.

Alleged Substitute Has Been Discovered.

Paris.—Motorsists all over the world are watching with keen interest the experiments being made with "Irene," the new motor fuel, which, it is claimed, is four times as powerful as gasoline, and can be produced at a cost of approximately eight cents a gallon.

This gasoline substitute is partly the result of research work undertaken by a girl of fifteen, Irene Laurent, who assisted her father, the inventor, in his experiments.

When the new fuel was tested by experts, recently, several of them declared that its discovery meant a revolution in motoring. One test was as follows: The car while running on top gear, was slowed down to three miles an hour, turned on its own ground, and then let out to full speed. All this was done without changing gear.

No special tank is necessary for "Irene," and the only change made by M. Laurent to adapt his car for the consumption of the new fuel is the fixing of a small metal cylinder near the carburetor.

GOOD NEWS FOR RHEUMATIC PEOPLE

Now Known That This Trouble Must Be Treated Through the Blood.

The most a rheumatic sufferer can hope for in rubbing something on the tender, aching joint is a little relief. No lotion or liniment ever did or ever can do more than this. The rheumatic poison is rooted in the blood.

To get rid of it you must treat it through the blood. Any doctor will tell you that this is true. If you want something that will go right to the root of the trouble in the blood, take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The whole mission of this medicine is to purify and enrich the blood, and when they do this all blood troubles, including rheumatism, disappear. Among those who have proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. Annie Wright, Woodchester, Alta., who says:

"I was a sufferer from rheumatism for six years, and during most of that time my life was one of misery. I tried several doctors, and many remedies recommended, but never got more than temporary relief. The trouble seemed to affect my whole system and I was badly run down and suffered from headaches as well. Finally I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and through these I found complete relief and today I feel like a new person. I can therefore strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to anyone suffering as I did from this trouble."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AMATEUR BALL BEING RUINED, SAYS WRITER

Money madness is wrecking one of the oldest and soundest of our sporting institutions—good old-fashioned amateur baseball of the sand lot and town team variety, says a writer to the Boston Post.

He continues: A questionnaire recently sent 15,000 editors of small town newspapers reveals that town baseball is well on its way to the dreary bourne of things well past and forgotten. And money—the paying of players—paying good local players to keep them at home—paying star foreign players to perform with the home team—is said by the editors to be the cause of the collapse. Time was, and it was not so long ago that a town team was a town team.

There are two sides to the question of course. Advocates of the modern system can claim that the world in general has changed, and that baseball has merely kept step. The old fashioned town team game to these modernists may smack too much of the hay field. Maybe so, maybe so, but investigation proves that the sporting goods houses sold less than they peddled two years ago. Golf and tennis supplies in the meantime have doubled and almost tripled. There's no money to be made in playing golf and tennis. It therefore appears that money introduced into amateur baseball to strengthen it, is in reality, choking to death. The reaction will unquestionably set in before long. It will have to come soon if the game is to be saved, say 15,000 small town editors.

DOLE SYSTEM IS CURSE OF THE COUNTRY

Sir Alfred Yarrow Paints Gloomy Picture of Conditions in England

Montreal.—A gloomy picture of conditions in England is drawn by Sir Alfred Yarrow, head of Yarrow and Company, shipbuilders, who was in Montreal on Wednesday, 13th. Sir Alfred declared that Germany can build as good ships as England, though few British shipping men would acknowledge the fact and that the cost of construction in Germany was about twenty per cent cheaper because Germans worked more hours and accepted less pay.

"The restrictions caused by trade unions in England are paralyzing industry," he said. "Under present conditions, progress is impossible." Sir Alfred described the dole system as "giving away money to increase idleness," and as "one of the greatest curses to the country," continuing: "The dole system and the trade unions are ruining the country. Both are working against every progressive industrial interest. I consider the conditions of England due to these two things, and if they continue I do not know what is going to happen."

Speaking of England's shipping industry, Sir Alfred said that it was practically stagnant. During the war his company employed 4,000 men; now 700. There was no British shipbuilder making money, he added. Sir Alfred does not believe airships will ever replace ocean going vessels, because they can only carry a limited amount of cargo. "The people of England," he said, "live five days of each week on food stuffs brought into the country. They can only support themselves two days each week on their own supplies."
