

FACILE PRINCEPS.

On an examination paper in mathematic students, sometimes, take 100 per cent.; but to do this on a language paper would be nothing short of a miracle, indeed it is doubtful if the examiner himself could, in the rush of an examination, do any better than one of our students, Mr. Norman S. Dowd, of Valleyfield, P. Q., who took 95 per cent. in Latin, thereby winning the Latin Prize offered by Dean Moyses of McGill. Mr. Dowd competed under a handicap, his competitors having two years start on him. Without knowing a word of Latin he began our course, and at the end of the term had left his competitors far in the lurch. Next term, writing on the McGill matric, he was again Facile Princeps, winning the Latin Prize in competition with students from Collegiate and High Schools all over Canada. In French he did nearly as well, taking 93 per cent. and winning the gold medal. The DeBrisay Method did it, is what Mr. Dowd says.
