APPENDIX.

THE nature of the terms, ſaid to have been demanded of Government, by the money-lenders, were diſtinctly explained, in a paper publiſhed in the Public Advertiſer, of the 5th of January 1779, by an Author, whom it is my misfortune not to know, but to whom I think the Public is very much indebted. I ſhall therefore take the liberty of reprinting it here.

" As the time is approaching, for what is com-
" monly called opening the Budget, when a con-
" ſiderable loan, will probably form a part of the " year's ſupply, that Gentlemen may be prepared
" to judge, with ſome accuracy, of the ſort of bar-
" gain they are making for their Conſtituents, the
" following circumſtances are recommended to
" their conſideration.

" It is common to call by the general name of
" Intereſt, all that conſideration, which is paid by
" the borrower of money, to the lender, over and
" above the capital, or ſum borrowed; but it
" will greatly aſſiſt our judgment, if we accuſtom
" ourſelves to conſider that ſum only as properly
" called Intereſt, which muſt be paid for money,
" taken up on the moſt indiſputable ſecurity:

" Any
