is not tolerated amongst responsible employees of the Bank of Montreal.

Had Fifteen Thousand Dollars.

Kenly boarded with his widowed mother at 286 West Bloor-street. He inherited $15,000 less than a year ago.

The young man who found his body in the basement of the bank at 9 o'clock Saturday morning was one of his closest friends. The two had been in converse in the lavatory and the friend had barely got to the top of the stairs when the shot was fired. It was a bullet from a 32 calibre revolver that ended his life. The body was taken to the morgue and later removed to his home. There will be no inquest.

He was employed by the Ontario Bank until the Bank of Montreal took it over in 1906. Since then he has been employed in the bank at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

"There was absolutely nothing wrong with his cash," said the cashier of the bank, "he was one of our best boys around here."

When his body was at the morgue, over $20 in cash was found besides his watch and other trinkets.

In some kind of a domestic quarrel at the dinner table yesterday, Frank Baker, 331 East Queen-street, seems to have hurled a glass at his wife. The woman was taken to the General Hospital, not seriously hurt, and the man was locked up in No. 4 police station, charged with "wounding."

CAPT. GOODWIN'S NEW TUG

Owner Claims It Can Supply 600 Gallons a Minute in Fighting Fire.

The purchase by Capt. Joe Goodwin of a new tug to replace that which was lost in the fire at the wharf, the Nellie Bly, comes at a time when the fire department is recommending additional fire-fighting facilities for the waterfront.

Several months past the city has engaged the Nellie Bly for fire-fighting in the harbor, and the tug has done service, considering the limited pressure of about 100 gallons of water a minute, but this has been entirely inadequate. Capt. Goodwin says the new tug will have about six times that capacity.

The tug, which is costing about $6000, has been purchased at Port Stanley, and is expected to arrive in the city tomorrow with the opening of navigation. It is about 61 feet long and has 150 horse power.

Capt. Goodwin will ask the civic fire and light commission to commission the tug.

Horse Killed Him.

While John Thornback was cleaning the stable of one of the horses of the Rev. A. B. Graves, on Station-st., yesterday morning, the horse kicked him in the jaw. Six stitches were applied in St. Michael's Hospital.

"SLEEPLESSNESS."

Thousands of people all over this land toss night after night on a sleepless pillow. The eyes do not close in the refreshing slumber that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right.

Some are troubled with weak and smothering spells; others palpitation of the heart; others have their nerves unlined; but whatever the cause—it comes entirely from a Permenation of either the heart or nerves, or both.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer the blessing of sound, refreshing slumber. They do this by their invigorating effect on the heart and nerves and will bring up the whole system to perfect condition.

Mr. H. Jewel, Keswick, Ont., writes: "I am glad to have the pleasure of telling you what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. I would have weak spells, seemed to lose my breath, and would have to get up in the night as I could not sleep. I tried many medicines but found nothing good until I used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I took three boxes and it is three years ago since I did so, and I haven't been troubled since."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

PEACE CAMPAIGN

elective assembly the backwoods peers discover redeeming virtues in radical legislation, which leaves them temporarily, at least, in possession of their hereditary dignities.

Sir Edward Grey's Leadership.

Sir Edward Grey has lifted discussion to the higher levels of noble idealism. He had no definite proposal to offer at the peace conference last night for the carrying out of President Taft's suggestions for an Anglo-American coalition against fratricidal war, but he spoke like a statesman who had appealed to the best instincts of the nation and had behind him the moral forces of public opinion.

Radical Hotspots who have chattered about sending him upstairs to the house of lords, where he would be out of David Lloyd-George's way for a future premiership, are now silent.

He has become the English evangel of President Taft's gospel of the hegemony of the English-speaking race and the effective crusade against the barbarism of war and the wastefulness of armaments.

The Unionist press was cold and critical until Mr. Balfour warmly approved Sir Edward Grey's utterances. It now admits that he will have the kingdom and the empire behind him if he succeeds in making a definite treaty with Washington.

Leading preachers of the free churches will proclaim the glad tidings of world's peace from their pulpits tomorrow, and a mass meeting at Albert Hall will be arranged at an early date, which will represent all religious bodies.

The Bishop of Southwark and other prominent churchmen have welcomed the movement with as much ardor as the free churchmen.

Sir Edward Grey's impressive call upon enlightened public opinion has aroused the enthusiasm of the churches, brotherhoods, Christian Endeavor unions and peace societies.

Naval marlinets with two keels for one formula and military doctrinaires agitation for the universal training of men in the service have fallen into the background.

Old-fashioned experience meetings on the wickedness of war and the folly of excessive armaments have been substituted for barren debates on the number of Dreadnoughts in a seasonably probable combination against England and the impracticability of limiting armaments by agreements among suspicious nations.

So unmanageable is the sudden outbreak of enthusiasm for nation peace that there are serious risks of a reversion to sentimentalism without practical results.

Sir Edward Grey has already corrected the misconception that an arbitration treaty between England and America will necessarily involve a defensive alliance directed against Germany or other European powers.

President Taft's suggestion in a strictly limited form needs to be adhered to literally, without the menace of coercion to other powers. A treaty between England and America on his lines will be the pivot on which a new history of civilization can turn. When that example is followed by other nations, the world will be a better place.

Certainly Sir Edward Grey will now succeed in carrying the declaration of London through the imperial conference.

Will Hold Demonstration.

LONDON, March 19.—To-day has been observed as Peace Sunday. The Archbishop of Canterbury preached at St. Paul's, and from practically every church in the kingdom the sermon was devoted to a eulogium of President Taft and his peace proposals.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has arranged for a demonstration in support of the arbitration movement to be held in Albert Hall, April 1.

WAITERS ROBBED EMPLOYER.

Walter Bolder and Arnold Jackson, employed as waiters in the Knights of Columbus lodge rooms, 582 Sherbourne-st., were charged with the theft of a large night, charged with theft of a large quantity of money from a glass box on the cigar case.

The manager had mislaid receipts for several days, and as there was a quiet period between 5 and 7 o'clock last evening, during which the two waiters were left alone, suspicion rested upon them.

Detective Cronin accosted himself in the night and caught the two waiters. They had been seen to enter the lodge room and were found with a large quantity of money.

Put An Extra Stomach to Work

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Do the Work of Two or Three Stomachs—Affords Instant Relief.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE.

When your food does not digest, when gases form, when you experience that uncomfortable feeling of fullness, when the breath is foul, the tongue coated and that sour taste in the mouth—take a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet and watch how quickly every one of these symptoms disappears. All that was needed was to digest that lump of food in your stomach—and the glands, whose duty it is to supply the gastric juices, had simply given out from overwork. So when you take that little tablet you were supplying exactly what was necessary to complete the process of digestion that the stomach had begun but was unable to finish.

If you would continue to take a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet after each meal for awhile, your stomach would have a chance to rest up and get well and strong again.

Try just one box and you will never want to be without this wonderful little remedy for stomach troubles. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain an entirely harmless because they have absolutely no effect on the system one way or another except to do just the one thing—digest food.

40,000 physicians use and recommend this National Remedy. Every drug store everywhere sells and recommends Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The price is 50 cents per box. A sample will be sent free if you will write P. N. Stuart Co., 120 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Announcement of the forthcoming issue of the New (Eleventh) Edition of the Encyclopædia Britannica, of which the copyright has been taken over by the University of Cambridge.

(ENGLAND)

More than 15,000 orders for this New Edition have already been received in London, Toronto and New York. A prospectus with specimen pages in India paper will be sent post free from the Canadian office of the Cambridge University Press (Encyclopædia Britannica Dept.), Royal Bank Building, 10-12 King St. East, Toronto.

It is now 142 years since there appeared in Edinburgh the first part of a book, to be completed in three modest volumes, of 900 pages each, under the ambitious title of the Encyclopædia Britannica. Limited in its scope to the arts and sciences, the product of a "Society of Gentlemen in Scotland," none of whose names has come down to us, contained, for the best of reasons, no heading "Steam Engine," and could still combat, in its article "Botany," the theory that sex existed in the world of plants.

The 11th edition, to contrast it with the first, is the edition of a century and a half ago that reference must be made to the edition of the Encyclopædia Britannica. Limited in its scope to the arts and sciences, the product of a "Society of Gentlemen in Scotland," none of whose names has come down to us, contained, for the best of reasons, no heading "Steam Engine," and could still combat, in its article "Botany," the theory that sex existed in the world of plants.
