Swell Dinner at Osgoode Hall Last Night

OF THE O. L. AND L. SOCIETY

vice to the Legal Buds.

THE BAR.

The toast to the "Bar" was prop Mr. C. A. Moss and responded to head of the bar, Mr. Aemilius Irvina who said he would stick to his subje "Bar," and not wander all over the ist as some of the previous speaker one. He considered the Osumodo.

brothers sang a duet, which a was beartily received.

The toast "Canada" was proposed by Mr. Speaker Edgar, who said Canada was very broad, we had not yet found out how broad. But mere geographical importance was not a good cause for pride in any country, at the saine time the resources of Canaca must inspire us with feelings of pride, such as no colony ever possessed before. Both political parties, with the view of forming a great anation, were building foundations great and sure for the rearing up of a Greater Britain Referring to the message of President Cleveland, to the effect that an arbitration was almost concluded, he said, God grant that it may be true, as it will ensure peace to both nations. For Canada to have a great nation she must have more than wealth, she must have honor and education. True manhood and hardihood was needed and so he would ask the young men not to give up their athletic exercises and Rusby.

Speaker Edgar called on Chief Justice Rose to co-respond with him. But before the Justice began to speak "The Maple Leaf Forever" was sung right loyally.

JUSTICE ROSE IN REPLY.

On rising to speak Justice Rose thanked

JUSTICE ROSE IN REPLY.

On rising to speak Justice Rose thanked the boys for the reception given him Next to the friendship of a good woman, he enjoyed the friendship of the young. He then spoke of the ambitions and hopes for success of young men in general and young barristers in particular. Canada has great resources for wealth, but these did not make Canada. Canada was made by men, and if we would be proud of our country we must live and act in the light of the fact that Canada was to become a great mation. He thanked God he was a Canadian, born and bred, but he thanked God for being an Englishman, too. He would rost like to see a purely Canadian fag flowt over the land, but a flag made up of both English and Canadian emblems, and thus the two countries might be so welded into one as to make the mightest mation on which the sun ever shone. [Cheers.]

The president then called on Mr. R. K. Barker to sing a comic song, which he did in a very approved style.

OUR LEGISLATORS.

OUR LEGISLATORS.

The next toust, "Our Legislators," was proposed by Mr. W. R. Riddell, Q.C., who said the bar of Ontario extended greetings to the bar of Quebec in the person of the Solicitor-General Not only the Province, but the whole Dominion, might be proud of our legislators. He went back to the earlier statesmen, mentioning them by name, up to the death of Sir John A. Wacdonald, and said all had been true and howest men. He then referred to Sir John Thompson, amid great applause. He said he spoke not of Laurier, of Thompson, of Cartwright, of Foster, of Mowat, but he would say that in Ontario we had as good men as ever stood in Ottawa.

On referring to some of the great lawyer-statesmen, he spoke in growing terms of Matthew Crooks Cameron and Chief Jistice Meredith, and saids the only fault he could find with our legislators was that they would persist in legislating. He then very jokingly spoke of the powers of legislators to constanty pile up laws in our statute books.

THE SOLICITOR-GENERAL.

THE SOLICITOR-GENERAL. THE SOLICITOR-GENERAL.

The Solicitor-General, Mr. Fitzpatrick, responded to the toast, "The House of Commons," amidst great applause. It gave bin great pleasure to meet the benchers of Ontario. Referring to the last remarks of the proposer of this toast, he asked whne would become of the young men in the Hall if laws were not constantly passed by the legislators. They would then have to earn an honest livelihood.

Speaking of the late Chief Justice Osgoode, he said he belonged as much to Quebee' as to Ontario, for, after having prepared himself for the bench in the backwoods of Ontario, he came to live in Quebec.

woods of Ontario, he came to five in Quebec.

"It killed him!" someone said.

Mr. Fitzpatrick said this was not true, as he fell in love in Quebec, and after wards moved to London, the atmosphere of which place killed him.

In very glowing and eloquent terms the speaker referred to the many privileges of the students of this great school of legal tearning, which had sent out such men at Sir Henry Strong.

He referred to the remarks of Justice Rose about being a Canadian and an Englishman, and said he was an Irishman, and would not change what nature had done even if he could; but he was glad and proud to live in a country-that had such a future as Canada. [Apphause.]

PREMIER HARDY. Hon. A. S. Hardy responded to the tonst for the Ontario Legislature. On referring to the recent attack made upon the number of lawyers in the Ontario Legislature he said that there were only 16 in Ontario out of 90 seats, while at Ottawa and at Washington the percentage was very tion fund. As everyoody in bethas have, be is a man of marvelous energy. In fact, how he gets through the work which he does is a wonder to many of us. We have no more popular preacher. Every church where he is advertised to preach is sure to be crammed to suffocation, and no stranger can draw so many people to his own church. His membership there is simply limited, to the capacity of the building, for I understand people have to walt for years sometimes before they can be accommodated. He is one of the foremost helpers in every good work in the city. The Young Menis Christian Association have found in him one of their best friends, while he has been a strong supporter of our Royal Hospital and many others of our most deserving charities.

"While writing in this way as I cannot help doing, I sincerely trust as the same time that nothing will lend to a separation between Mr. McCaughan and his present charge. We could not afford to lose such a man, I am, faithfully yours,

A GALL FROM ST. ANDREW'S The Kootenay Exploration

Company, Limited

Will advance the price of their shares to 15 cents on January 11th, 1897, and a further advance to 20 cents will be made on January 31st.

This step is not only warranted by the intrinsic value of the properties under the control of this Company-WHICH ARE THE MOST IMPORTANT GROUP YET OFFERED UNDER ONE MANAGEMENT IN THE DOMINION—but also from the fact that we have just made arrangements for the placing of 500,000 shares of our treasury stock on the London, England, market. This has been done with a friend of Barney Barnato's and one of the great English promoters who has successfully floated many large concerns.

This insures us a good market and a much better price than we could secure here, as none of the shares will be offered there at less than four shillings per share.

THESE WILL BE THE FIRST FULL-PAID SHARES EVER OFFERED IN ENGLAND AT LESS THAN PAR, and the successful placing of this means more for British Columbia than any other event since gold was discovered, as a market for all other companies that must have means to properly develop their properties will be opened up.

Please notice that this Company, and the parent, the Colorado Gold, Mining & Development Company, are at all times to be found in the van, and when seeking an investment, why not take the best?

Subscription books are now open at the office of Messrs. Lownsbrough & Co., Bankers and Brokers, 22 King Street East, where J. Grant Lyman, Managing Director, will be pleased to receive your subscription for the number of shares desired. Price 10 cents per share, par value $1.00, full paid and non-assessable, being subject to no further call.

All applications at the original price, must show a postmark not later than January 10th, 1897.

We are working industriously to get through with this Sale

There Are About 15 Overcoats of heavy weight English Fur Beaver, in black and blue, that our charge for making has been $36.00. To ensure clearance this month, we've decided to make the price

$26.00

We use finest quality linings, trim them in very best manner, finish them with a double-stitched raw edge and heavy filk velvet collar. The fit and workmanship is a marvel of artistic tailoring, and we speak with firm conviction, founded on knowledge, when we say that their equal cannot be produced in Canada for the money.

It's the handsomest Overcoat ever turned out of a tailoring establishment for $26. Only fifteen of them, remember.
