

A MESSAGE FROM OLD TO NEW ST. PAUL'S; BISHOP OF LONDON'S ELOQUENT ADDRESS

Presents to Huron Diocese Love and Sympathy of English Anglicans.

Impressive Service at St. Paul's Cathedral This Morning Be- fore Great Congregation.

Never in the history of St. Paul's Cathedral have there been more impressive services than marked the celebration of the Jubilee services of the diocese at which the Right Rev. A. F. W. Ingram, Lord Bishop of London, England, was the guest of honor and preacher for the occasion. The ceremonies were marked with a quiet dignity and impressiveness that made them very notable. St. Paul's was crowded to the extreme limit, and many hundreds who were anxious to hear his lordship were forced to forego that pleasure.

Bishop Ingram is a notable figure. Of medium height, slight in build, with a face that might well be that of a medieval saint, his is a striking personality. His face is kindly, with a merry twinkle in his half closed eyes, yet for all he looks the dreamer, a man of great goodness, a man far removed from the strife and ambition of men, although he is one of the busiest men in old London. As a preacher, he is earnest, simple and practical, with no oratorical trimmings. He speaks direct to men, and men listen. It is no wonder that he is the "Workingman's Bishop," for he is the sort of man who would give his life freely for the service of men. While not robust of figure, he is wiry, with endurance written in every line. He is activity itself, and is ever on the move.

A Strong Sermon.

The sermon was a strong presentation of truth, and made a decided impression. He has no sympathy with the new theology, and pointedly declared that no nation could be built upon it. He is of the old school, and affirmed his faith in the great fundamentals of Christianity and church polity that have come down from the early days of Christianity. He is as strong an Anglican as could be imagined, but is a man of great sympathy and love for all churches and men.

An Impressive Service.

The services were very impressive. The procession, with the united choirs of the city leading, was formed in Cronyn Hall, and marched to the front of the church and down the main aisle to the altar. The surprised boys' choir of St. Paul's led, and then followed the combined choirs of St. James', Memorial, St. John the Evangelist, St. Matthews', St. George's and All Saints'. The choir was splendidly drilled and sang in a manner that thrilled the whole vast assemblage. The mace, carried by the sexton, led, with Trumpeter John D. Heiney playing the processional hymn, which the choir took up, until the main entrance was reached, when Organist George B. Sippl took up the hymn on the organ. Behind them came His Grace Archbishop Sweatman, and then followed the four bishops, Right Rev. Bishop Ingram of London, Bishop Dumoulin of Niagara, Bishop Williams of Huron, and the Bishop of Algoma. In order then came Very Rev. Dean Davis, the Precentor of the Cathedral Canon Dunn, Archdeacon Young, Archdeacon Hill, Archdeacon Richardson, Archdeacon McKenzie, Canon Hincks, Canon Downie, Canon Smith, Canon Brown, Canon Craig and Canon Hicks. Then came the visiting clergy in full clericals.

Seats were reserved for the latter at the left side and in front of the chancel. Seats on the left were also reserved for the clergy of the city of all denominations who were present in large numbers. Mayor Judd and the council attended in a body.

Full Choral Service.

The full choral service of morning prayer was sung. Very Rev. Dean Davis read the prayers. The Bishop of Algoma read the first lesson, and the Bishop of Niagara read the second. Bishop Williams read the service of Holy Communion. After the sermon by Bishop Ingram, Holy Communion was administered by His Grace Archbishop Sweatman, assisted by the visiting bishops. A very large number of communicants were present.

A Message of Love.

A Message of Love

"I bring, dear brothers and sisters, a message of love and sympathy and pride in you from St. Paul's Cathedral, London, England, to St. Paul's, London, Canada, and from the diocese of London to what I might term its daughter diocese, the Diocese of Huron. My presence here will show you more than any broken words of mine the love and sympathy that we feel."

Seven Essentials.

Bishop Ingram's seven essentials for a successful diocese or church:

1. A grateful church.
2. A working church.
3. A united church.
4. Loyalty to fundamental truths of Christianity.
5. Essential principles of church history held fast.
6. A prayerful church.
7. A missionary church.

Johnson Is Wanted for Forgery Charge

Charles Johnson, the Chatham man who was recently arrested by the local detectives on a charge of vagrancy, will be taken to Stratford tomorrow where he will be called upon to face a charge of forgery.

Detective Eggleton, who assisted in his arrest, states that the man is well known to the police, having served on a number of charges, among which was horse stealing. He was arrested here on suspicion, and later it was learned that he was wanted in Stratford on the charge mentioned. Johnston appeared in police court this morning and was remanded until tomorrow when he will be taken away.

Effects of the Storm in This District

Outside the damage done to the home of Mr. Harry Gramlich, Emery street, this city, the severe electrical storm of last evening appears to have done very little damage within the city limits or in the immediate vicinity. Stage-drivers report little damage so far as they could learn. One man, however, reported seeing a building on fire in the neighborhood of Stratford, but he could not learn to whom it belonged. Another report stated that there were a couple of barn fires in Westminster. No other fires are reported, and it seems to have been the most severe inside the city of London.

Typhoid in Filtered Water Cities; Cases in St. Thomas and Hamilton

A Cogent Argument Against the Use of River Water in London.

The statement made by the London friends of filtration that filtered water does away with typhoid fever outbreaks, is not borne out by the experience of both Hamilton and St. Thomas, where filtered water is used. In the latter city, there are at present a large number of cases of typhoid, and last night a death occurred from the disease there. It is said there are somewhere between fifteen and twenty cases in the Railroad City at present.

The city gets its water supply, it is understood, from Kettle Creek, and the water is filtered before it is used. In Hamilton hospitals there are no less than 35 cases of typhoid fever. There filtered lake water is used.

In London, Supt. Heard informed The Advertiser today that there are only seven cases of typhoid in Victoria Hospital, while the average number of patients in the institution for the year has been five.

In St. Joseph's Hospital there is not a case of typhoid.

Thus it is seen that London's health record with spring water far exceeds that of two cities in which filtered water is used. There are seven cases of typhoid here against 35 in Hamilton, and against 15 or 20 in St. Thomas, where the population is only about one-quarter that of London.

Typhoid in Hamilton.

The following extract from the Hamilton Spectator of Monday night will be found of interest.

The statement given out on Saturday by Dr. Roberts, the medical health officer, of the number of cases of typhoid fever reported during the week does not mean anything. One of the local papers stated that it "went a long way towards discrediting the knocking that the Hamilton water-works had received," thereby insinuating that the absence of typhoid was a boost for Hamilton's water. No Hope for the Victoria Nurses

The three nurses disciplined by the Hospital Trust not long ago have submitted to the inevitable and have given up all hope of getting back into the hospital.

They consider that they have been harshly treated, but will now endeavor to get into some other hospital or wait until a more convenient season, and get back into Victoria.

Considerable sympathy has been expressed for the young ladies, but it availed nothing.

"The incident is closed as far as the hospital trust is concerned," said Chairman Sereanton to The Advertiser. "We took what steps we thought necessary, and that settled the matter."

Council Will Expropriate Lands For the Proposed Isolation Hospital

City Cannot Come to Terms With the Gentlemen Who Own the Property Required.

The council last night appointed Mr. J. H. Flock, K. C., as arbitrator for the city in the matter of the purchase of the remaining property needed for the Isolation Hospital which is to be erected just west of Victoria Hospital.

Assessment Commissioner Grant has secured options on all property in question with the exception of the properties owned by Mr. George Slade, who has two houses on Ottawa avenue, Mr. George J. Carly, who owns 76 Waterloo street, and Mr. Chas. Woodward, of 58 Waterloo street. So far it has been impossible to get a basis of agreement as to price.

The Assessment Commissioner claims that the prices asked by the gentlemen in question are too high, and an offer was made based on what he considers the real value of the property. These prices were not agreeable to the men, who claimed that they should be reimbursed for the inconvenience caused them.

No. 1 committee had the matter in hand and decided that a settlement looked very improbable and it was agreed to resort to expropriation.

"It hardly seems an agreement is possible," said Ald. Beattie this morning, "and as the committee is anxious to get the matter settled as soon as possible an arbitrator so that no time would be lost. We are anxious to get the matter settled so that building operations may commence right away. The men interested will appoint an arbitrator and the two will appoint a third. If they cannot agree on a third, the county judge will appoint a third. The committee will meet as soon as convenient and get the matter settled."

LEHIGH VALLEY EXPRESS WRECKED

Easton, Pa., Sept. 16.—A Lehigh Valley express train from Buffalo to New York was wrecked early today near Patterson Tunnel in New Jersey, 13 miles from this city. A number of trainmen and passengers were injured, but none of the latter fatally. The train was running at a high speed when the locomotive jumped the track, and plunged into the mountain-side. The engineer, Herbert Godley, of this city, was injured internally, and the baggage man sustained a fractured arm. The passengers injured were riding in the smoking car.

Most of the others were in their berths, and while they were considerably shaken up, they were not badly hurt.

Milk Prices Will Go Up in Toronto; No Further Increase in London

Local Dealers Interviewed on the Subject—Conditions in the Queen City.

Local milk dealers are much interested in the report from Toronto that the price of milk in that city will take another jump within a very short time. However, the dealers interviewed do not think that the prices locally will be affected in any way.

Milk as a rule now sells for six cents a quart at retail in this city, although there are a few isolated dealers who still sell at five cents a quart as formerly. Up until a month ago the standard price was five cents a quart, but the scarcity and high cost of feed this season, the vendors say, at that time brought about a raise.

Seven Cents in Toronto.

In Toronto the price of milk has been for some time seven cents a quart. Now the price will go up to eight, and possibly higher if the cost of feed advances any more.

"We certainly ought to have more money for our milk," said one well-known local dealer this morning, when questioned "but the competition here is so much stronger than at Toronto that we cannot make the raise. A few years ago bran and shorts could be bought for $12 and $14 a ton. Now the price of these products is $22 to $24."

FORTY JAPANESE SAILORS KILLED BY AN EXPLOSION

Terrible Disaster on Board the Battleship Kishima During Target Practice.

Tokio, Sept. 17, noon.—Forty of the crew were killed and dozens injured on board the Japanese battleship Kishima by the explosion of a 12-inch shell within the shield, after target practice, near Kure, at 4 p.m., on September 9. The Kishima, under command of Capt. Koizumi, reached Kure at 6 p.m., where the wounded were placed in the hospital. The fatalities included a lieutenant, two cadets, and one staff officer. The details regarding the effects of the explosion are small, but it is said the ship is badly damaged. The explosion followed an attempt to remove an unexploded shell from the gun. A majority of the bystanders were fearfully mutilated.

Very Few Juvenile Cases in London; Report of Children's Aid Society

Inspector Sanders Gave Some Interesting Figures to the Members Yesterday.

The Children's Aid Society held its first meeting since June in the city hall yesterday afternoon.

The committee appointed to look after the Shelter reported that a great many needed improvements had been made, and others were under way. The Shelter had been regularly and systematically visited by the ladies, who had found everything in a very satisfactory condition and had purchased the necessary supplies.

The report of the inspector was, as usual, an evidence of the good work that is being done on behalf of the neglected and dependent children of the community. An interesting feature of the report was an account of the many wards of the society, who are now in foster homes, who called at the society's office during the week of the Fair; these were all healthy, happy boys and girls, some of them young men and women, and undoubtedly to them one of the chief pleasures of coming to the Fair was a call on the inspector.

Very Few Cases.

The report stated that this had been a very light summer at the juvenile police court, only 29 offenders having appeared before the police magistrate in over three months, and only a very few of these offenses were at all of a serious nature.

Since the last meeting a great many applications for children were received, many of which the society was unable to supply, but seventeen children were placed into carefully selected foster homes. At present there are eleven children in the Shelter.

Reports of 161 visits to foster homes of wards of the society made by the Provincial visitors, Mrs. Harvie and Mr. W. O'Connor, were also submitted to the board; the latter visits the Roman Catholic wards. The majority of these reports were of a very gratifying nature, but very few complaints being made in regard either to the children or the homes. In addition to these, the local inspector has recently made a number of special visits to foster homes in which some little difficulties had arisen. In every instance the difficulty was satisfactorily settled. The board desires to extend its thanks to the Western Fair Association for their kindness in admitting the inmates of the Shelter to the exhibition free of charge.

There was a very good attendance at the meeting. Sheriff Cameron presided.

Lightning Demolished House; Entire Family Escapes Injury

Home of Mr. Harry Gramlich, of Emery Street, Struck During the Storm Last Night.

During the electrical storm which visited London and vicinity last night the home of Mr. Harry Gramlich, at 156 Emery street, in London South, was struck by a bolt of lightning and damaged to the extent of probably $500.

Mr. Gramlich, his wife and seven children were in the rear of the house at the time the bolt struck, which was about 8 o'clock, while an elder daughter was in the parlor at the time playing the piano, and although all were badly frightened they escaped injury.

The bolt of lightning first struck the chimney on top of the house, ran down into the diningroom, thence to the parlor, out into the hall and passed out the open transom to the steps, which were thrown 40 or 50 feet by the impact.

In its flight the bolt almost totally destroyed the chimney, broke and charred the furniture and other household paraphernalia with which it came in contact and had torn one of the carpets from the floor, tearing it into rags.

Firemen Called.

When the first fright of the shock had subsided someone had presence of mind enough to ring for the fire department, although their services were scarcely needed, inasmuch as only the steps which had been the last objects to come in contact with the lightning had taken fire.

Had the bolt turned to the rear of the house instead of being attracted as it was by the draft passing through the open transom the family might have perished.

A Remarkable Escape.

The escape of Miss Edna Gramlich, the young lady who was in the parlor the night last, was a most remarkable one, for while the walls of the room were almost entirely perforated with holes of all sizes, she was uninjured, beyond the first shock of fright.

Besides the damage done to the household furniture, every window but two in the house was broken, and the screen doors were demolished.

A rather remarkable feature of the pranks the lightning played was that while the doors were practically unharmed, the casing was all torn off as cleanly as if a carpenter had removed them. In passing brought a screen door the lightning melted the wire.

Saw the Bolt.

Mr. Edward Jensen, a neighbor of Mr. Gramlich's, this morning stated that he had seen the bolt when it struck the steps outside the house, and that the flames had shot at least 50 feet up in the air, causing a spectacle similar to one afforded when an oil well was shot.

Mr. Gramlich, when seen by the Advertiser this morning, stated that he considered the escape of the family from death a most miraculous one.

Mr. Gramlich desires to thank those who so kindly offered assistance at the time of the accident.

Mr. Gramlich places his loss at not less than $500, fully insured.

Komoka Scheme Again Shelved; Aldermen Want More Information

Matter Is Now in Cold Storage for Three Weeks at Least.

The city council had a short session last night, very little important business coming up for discussion.

The submission of the Komoka water bylaw was again before the council, but was laid over another three weeks. Ald. Booth got after the railways for blocking up crossings, and introduced a motion to the effect that the police be instructed to carry out the terms of the railway act governing the blocking of crossings to the limit. He referred to the present situation as intolerable.

Mr. J. H. Flock, K.C., was appointed as representative of the council on the arbitration committee dealing with the purchase of land for the isolation hospital.

The request of the water commissioner that the Komoka scheme be submitted to the people in the form of a bylaw came up for discussion. Ald. Scarlett and Ald. Saunders moved that the request of the commissioners be granted, and the bylaw submitted.

Ald. Gillett moved, and Ald. Garratt seconded, a motion that the question be laid over until the next meeting of the council.

Ald. Matthews pointed out that the council needed more information than it had at present. According to the reports published in the newspapers, Engineer Bell, of St. Thomas, had given figures of the flow of water at Hyman Hall Opening.

Owing to the fact that the speakers engaged for the opening of Hyman Hall could not come for next Friday night, President A. Sippl and the executive have decided that it would be better to postpone the opening until one week from Friday, September 27. The programme will be one of the best ever given in Hyman Hall, and two or three of the most prominent speakers in the party will also speak.
