SOCIAL LIFE

The Waterloo Chapter of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, Galt, and the Ladies' Aid Society in connection, have shown what a success it is possible to gain in the cause of charity by their exhibition of things made in Canada which took place last week. The object in view was to obtain as large a fund as possible to benefit the hospital, and although the sum realized is not yet known, it will no doubt be substantial, everything having been managed on the basis of sound common sense. The country people were all largely interested in the success of the fête and brought in the contributions from far and near, each individual being made to feel that he or she had an individual part in what was to form a perfect whole. The two large tents were utilized for the exhibition and all the necessary work of carpenters, plumbers, etc., was done by the workmen, with the heartiest good will and free of charge the electric lighting being contributed by the Messrs. McCullough. The march of the nations which took place in the evening was a brilliant spectacle, led by Mrs. Galt, representing Canada, in a robe of rich white satin, with wreaths of hand-painted maple leaves in the vivid autumn coloring, the long train borne by four little Canadians. Following came in unique combination Indians, French laces, cowboys from the Northwest, squaws, habitants, braw Highlanders and representatives of the peoples who make up the great nation, one of the brightest jewels in the crown of the British Empire. The decorations of the various booths were also symbolical and in charge of women and girls appropriately costumed. Mrs. MacMahon, Mrs. J. J. Davidson, and Mrs. Arthur went from Toronto to Galt for the occasion, and report that it would be impossible to praise too highly the efforts of every one concerned in the exhibition, all having worked in harmony for the common good.

Mrs. Charles Fuller, who is enjoying a villagiate at Balmy Beach, had a few people out to afternoon tea on Monday, the weather being lovely and the guests much enjoyed lounging on the comfortable chairs on the verandah, where tea was served.

Mr. James Brydon, who has been manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Collingwood for the last eighteen years, has been transferred to the Yonge and Bloor-street branch, Toronto. Previous to his departure the citizens presented Mr. Brydon a chest of silver, in token of their love and regret at his departure. Mrs. Brydon will also be much missed, as she took so much interest in all the philanthropic work of the town.

On Monday night the first of the series of summer dances of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club took place at the new and delightful island home. The night was perfect and the scene one of enchantment. The merry young people who thronged the verandahs or "chased the glowing hours with flying feet" pronounced the floor to be all that their fondest hopes had pictured, and, if it is ever safe to prophesy before the event, one may predict a success for the attend the rest of the dances, which are to be given fortnightly. I understand, until the number five is reached.

The ceremony was performed under a bell of daisies, which swung from an arch of roses. Rev. F. M. Dean officiated. The bride, given away by her uncle, Robert Ash, Unionville, was attired in point d'esprit over peau de soie, and carried a bouquet of white roses, with maiden hair fern. The bride's mother wore a dress of black voile over taffeta, and the groom's mother was attired in black silk, relieved with white. The groomsmen were Charles Mason, cousin to the groom, and the ushers were Walter Armstrong of Scarborough and William Perkins of King City. The groom's gift to the bride was a crescent of pearls, the only ornament worn by her; to the bridesmaid a gold-locked and chain; to the bridesmaid a gold ring, set with pearls, and to the groomsmen a gold ring, set with emeralds. After the ceremony, the wedding luncheon was enjoyed by 150 guests, upon the lawn, at the house of the bride's mother. A large number of valuable presents, received by the bride, spoke to the high esteem of her many friends. Amid a shower of rice and flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Mason left for a wedding trip.

Lady Eileen Elliot, says an English paper, is considered to be the most beautiful girl now in society, although she is somewhat past the debutante age, she has been little seen in London. Lady Minto has brought up her two elder daughters very simply; they are to be keen sports women and were enthusiastic skaters while in Canada. Lady Eileen helped her parents to entertain the Prince and Princess of Wales on the occasion of their great colonial tour and the princess is much interested in all Lady Minto's children. A great part of Lady Minto's life previous to her marriage was spent about the court of Queen Victoria.
