

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, SAINT JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1925

FRED. T. KENNEDY OF NO. 1 H. & L. DIES

Long Illness Result of Experience
at Prince Edward Street
Fire

From disabilities contracted through dutiful sacrifices made as a fireman at a Prince Edward street fire in January, 1924, Frederick T. Kennedy, 55, Exmouth street, a painter by trade, long associated with Contract Craig, passed away this morning. He suffered from paralysis brought on by work and exposure in a 17 below-zero fire fight and was ill for a year and three months.

Mr. Kennedy was in the 54th year of his age and was a familiar citizen to most Saint John people and especially well-known to the painting and decorating trade. He leaves one brother, Robert Kennedy of the Saint John Globe composing room staff; two sisters, Miss Violet A. Kennedy of this city and Mrs. Annie Jean of Haverhill, Mass. Mrs. George C. Poole of Saint John is a niece and there are several others in the United States. Mr. Kennedy was a son of the late John and Mary Kennedy, residents kindly remembered.

As a fireman Mr. Kennedy was an active member of No. 1 Hook and Ladder Company for over 12 years. He numbered many friends, who will regret his death. His funeral will be at 8.30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon.

FATHER COMES HERE IN SEARCH OF BOY

Asks Name of Lady Who Reported Lad Seen in West Saint John

Henry Coates of Mannhurst, Kings county, was in the city today seeking news of his 15 year old son, Ernest, who left home on last Sunday week, and is thought to have come to Saint John. A notice printed in The Telegraph-Journal on last Monday called attention to the fact that the boy had left home, gave a description of him and asked that his people be notified if they had been seen talking to some boys in West Saint John and had told that he had left his home near Pettitodiac and intended to ship on a cattle steamer from here. Pettitodiac is near the Coates' home at Mannhurst.

Unfortunately the writer of the letter did not give her name and so Mr. Coates was unable to communicate with her today. He naturally is anxious to speak to her as a start in the search for the lad. He has been assisted today by Detective Patrick Biddiscombe. It is requested that the lady who wrote the letter communicate with the detective in hope that this will help find the boy and relieve the great anxiety of his mother who is deeply grieving over his departure. Also it is hoped that any others who may have seen him will tell the detective. The Coates boy is described as being about five feet, five inches in height and was wearing a dark grey suit with knee pants, a lighter shade of grey sports socks, dark grey overcoat and a light cap mixed with grey.

INQUIRY UNDER WAY

Former Penitentiary Official at Dorchester Was Saint John Man

James MacQueen, of Shediac, is conducting an inquiry into the dismissal of John J. Kane, a former Saint John man, from the staff of the Dorchester penitentiary. Mr. Kane demanded the investigation, alleging that he was dismissed for political reasons and not for any failure in the proper discharge of his duties in the institution. He says that he is a Liberal and the officials are Conservatives. The government is represented by Hon. I. C. Rand, K. C., and Mr. Kane by J. A. Hanway, K. C., of Amherst.

Miss Margaret Treacraft will leave for Montreal today and will be the guest of Mrs. G. M. Harris there.

Miss Elizabeth Marsh, of North Bridgetown, Me., is spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. R. W. Smith, 65 Haden street.

More British Coal Brought to Canada

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 5.—Scarcity of Pennsylvania coal is giving a boost to the British varieties, which has stiffened in price accordingly. Welsh "cobbles," which are much in favor, are retailing at $17 a ton, which is $1 higher than Pennsylvania. Imports of British coal continue to mount, and up to date this season nearly 350,000 tons of Scotch and Welsh anthracite have been brought into port, this total being well in excess of the total amount brought in last season.

E. W. Goss Asserts Coal Shortage Causes Suffering in New England

Canadian Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Women and children are freezing to death in New England, because of the coal shortage, E. W. Goss, representing the New England governors' fuel commission, stated. He was testifying at the opening of a hearing before Interstate Commerce Commissioner Campbell to determine what measures should be taken by the Interstate Commission to provide lower railroad rates on bituminous coal. "Terminating the present hard coal strike the 'biennial' rates," Mr. Goss painted a graphic picture of conditions which he said had resulted in New England from the coal shortage.

TUT'S GOLD COFFIN RARE WORK OF ART

Exceeds in Splendor Every Previous Relic of Ancient Civilization

Canadian Press.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The solid gold coffin enshrining the body of Tutankhamen probably is the most massive relic of precious metal ever unearthed from any ancient civilization, says a despatch to the Daily Mail, from Luxor, Egypt. It affords an indication of the astonishing wealth of Egypt in that epoch. Even the wildest extravagances of Rome and Byzantium did not rise above the marble and alabaster burial receptacles.

IS WORK OF ART

Apart from its intrinsic value, the coffin is an amazing work of art, covered with ornamental engravings, and figures of divinities, embossed and engraved. Deposited upon the mummy, was a wonderful collection of hundreds of articles of personal ornaments, evidently constituting part of the royal regalia and also toilet articles, most of these of gold and lavishly ornamented with precious stones and enamels, all of exquisite workmanship.

Mrs. Adam Campbell and family wish to thank Drs. L. M. Curran, J. R. Allingham and Johnston, and Dr. Knox, and nurses of the hospital staff, for their kindness during the illness of Mr. Campbell at the hospital.
