ST. JOHN NEWS GLEANED FROM WORLD'S CENTRES

DALTON REGISTERS NO. 8 FOR SEASON

Scores His Fourth Victory of the Year Over the Royals.

Another operation was staged on the South End diamond last night when 1,200 or more fans attending, when "Tack" Dalton administered an antidote to the Royals, and while the colored boys were in this helpless condition allowed his teammates to score once upon when Moran dropped a low throw from Butler on Nelson's hit that scored Price. It would have been the third out. Incidentally, it was the eighth successful operation this year for Dr. Dalton. He has lost only one case in nine starts. He has beaten the Royals four times, the Gunners and Trojans twice each, which gives him a commanding lead for winning honors for the year. His team has won 11 games. That gives some idea of his value apart altogether from his batting which has been of a high order.

When the word goes forth that the Royals and Saints are to meet, standstill and last night's game, although played in a fog, was no exception. They came early and, it being a ding-dong struggle all the way, the Saints could do little with "Freddie" Diggs, who struck out four of his delivery. Diggs struck out four of his delivery, while all three hits off Dalton, strange to say, went over the left field fence. Nelson, Harper and Austin getting them.

WHEELER DISPLAYS GREAT GAMENESS

Regarding the Wheeler-Gillis fight at Sydney Monday night, the Sydney Record says: Fighting one of the greatest battles of his career, Johnnie Gillis, of Dominion, successfully defended his title of lightweight champion. Maritime Provinces being decisively defeated by "Kid" Wheeler, of New York, who now makes his headquarters in St. John. At Alexandra Rink, place day, in a fast ten round bout, Gillis had an edge on his opponent throughout the entire 10 rounds, fought an aggressive and well judged fight, and incidentally gave Wheeler a bad trimming. In the eighth round, Johnnie sent Wheeler down for a count of nine and the latter held on until the bell saved him. The last two rounds Wheeler gave a wonderful exhibition of gameness and he went the limit, after taking everything Gillis sent home.

YOUNG DONOGHUE RIDES FIRST RACE IN ENGLAND AGAINST DAD

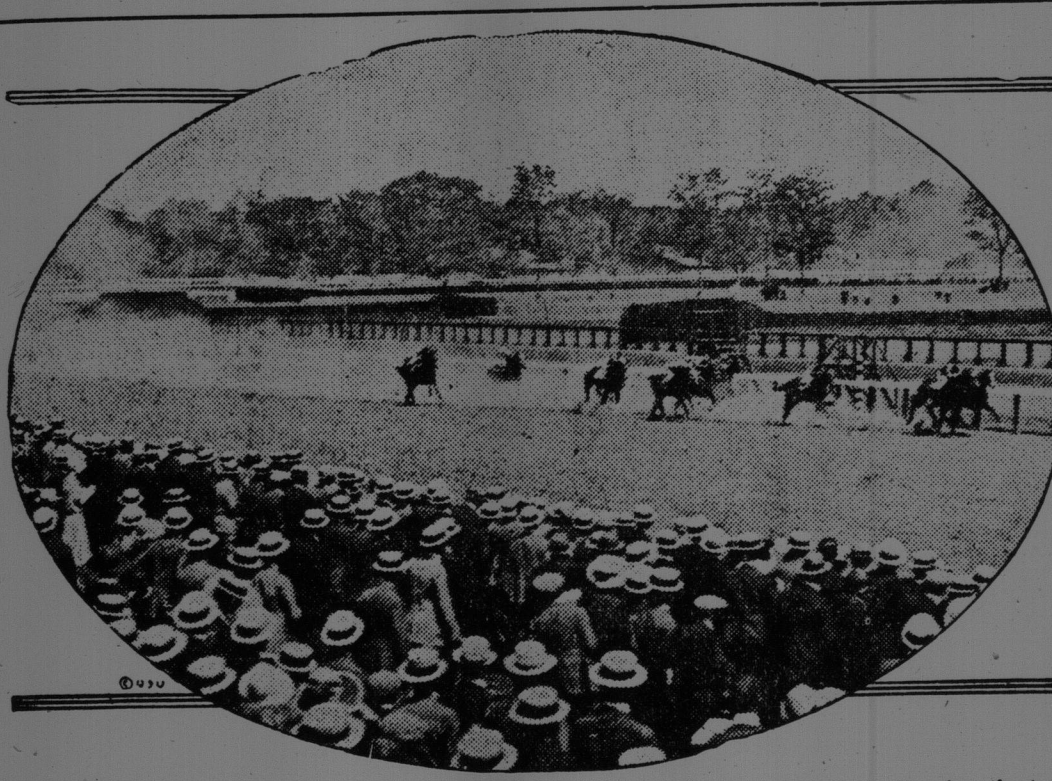

Salisbury, Eng., Aug. 7.—Instead of the old familiar slogan of "Come on Steve" being heard on the racetrack here recently, a new cry of "Come on Pat" was heard in its place. The spectators were cheering for Patrick Donoghue, son of Steve Donoghue, one of England's foremost jockeys, who was making his first appearance in public as a jockey.

Young Donoghue is only 13 years old and weighs 70 pounds. It is the intention of his father that Pat should follow in his footsteps if he takes well to racing. In his first race the younger rode against his father and finished fifth, Steve being beaten by a short head for the first place.

MADE HOLE IN ONE

A hole in one by Carl Anderson of Buffalo featured play in the second round of the Canadian open golf championship here today. The feat was performed at the tenth hole, when Anderson's tee shot landed on the left side of the pin and bounded into the hole. The distance from the tee to the hole is 145 yards, the drive being all carry over the rough.

DECRIES ATTACKS ON THE OLYMPICS

United States Head Favors Cutting Down the Programme.

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Aug. 7.—(United Press.)—Returning from the Olympic Games, where he found the Olympic Committee, decries attacks upon the international contests. "I look upon the Paris Olympiad as the greatest achievement in sport ever known," he said, deploring the fact that the question of the advisability of holding the games should ever be raised.

It will be recalled that at the conclusion of the meeting in Paris, many critics, sports writers and athletes expressed the opinion that the Olympic Games were breeding discord. They cited unfortunate and unpleasant incidents at Colombes, Argentat and Les Tourneilles in which, let it be said without fear of contradiction, poor sportsmanship was shown by French spectators. To these critics, Colonel Thompson replies that it was mob spirit, not popular feeling which was the cause of the scenes of disgraceful riot on occasions where he has the same thing in this country. Our baseball games are often the scene of a deplorable example of mob spirit.

One recalls a deplorable example of mob spirit at Detroit during a game between the Yankees and the Tigers. By the actions of other branches of sport the spectators have shown good sportsmanship. Just as the city of Detroit was present here, the French incident to regret the incidents at Paris, while not accepting blame for them.

Ball Problems By Billy Evans

QUESTIONS
1. What does the letters T. B. as used in box scores by certain papers mean?—W. V. R.

2. The rules state that a runner or runner shall be entitled to three bases if a fielder throws his glove and hits a batted ball and two bases if a thrown ball. What is the ruling if a fielder throws his glove at a batted or thrown ball and it fails to come into contact with the ball? In other words, must there be contact with the ball before the fielder can be punished for his act?—F. G.

3. There are runners on second and third and two out. The batsman hits safely to left field. Runners dash for the plate on the hit while batsman tries to make second base. He is retired at that base on a throw from left field, making final out of the inning. The plate umpire ruled runner on second had crossed the plate a step before batsman was retired at second. Does the run count?

ANSWERS

1. The letters T. B., used in certain box scores, refer to total bases. Thus if a batter made two hits, a triple and home run, his total bases would be seven.

2. When a fielder throws his glove at a batted or thrown ball, there must be actual contact with the ball or no penalty is inflicted.

3. The runner certainly cannot, provided they were over the plate before the batsman who tried to stretch a single into a double was retired at second base.

Games Tonight

Provided the weather is agreeable, the St. John the Baptist outfit will take the N. Valley Gunners tonight on the South End diamond. A defeat at this stage of the game would be disastrous for the Saints, who are making a gallant bid for championship honors after a poor start in the league race. The betting favors the Saints tonight, however, as Gunners appear to have lost all the dash that gave them six straight games at the opening of the season. Lack of pituitaries is largely responsible for their downfall. Either Cyril Moore or Tack Dalton will twirl for the Saints tonight. Moore has pitched good ball in the games he has started, but was never given the right kind of support. Lenihan, Nook, Carpenter and Caning may be the Gunners' choice.

One of those crucial games is carded for the Queen Square diamond this evening between the Canucks and the Martellos. A win for the former will give them their second straight championship. Burgess and Snodgrass will work for the Fairville side with Dugay, McLeod and Goldie for the Martellos.

The St. Luke's Intermediates will play the St. Peter's Ramblers on the St. Peter's grounds tonight. In the Civic League, the Water Department meets the Customs on the Barrack Green.

MOE HERSCOVITCH IS IN CITY TODAY

The Canadian Welterweight Champion En Route to Halifax to Box

Canada's welterweight boxing champion, Moe Herscovitch, arrived in St. John today en route to Halifax where he boxes Eddie Sheelin, famous New England champion, Saturday night in connection with the carnival week. Herscovitch has not figured in any important bout since last December when he boxed "Mickey" Walker, world's champion, at Toronto, but is in good shape for the Sheelin bout. A win over the Dartmouth College boxing instructor would boost Herscovitch's stock considerably and keen interest has been aroused locally over the chances of the Canadian pugilist.

Herscovitch is a graduate of Montreal High School and his figure on some of the championship pugilists of the world has been well known. He was a member of the M. A. A. team that won the Canadian title in 1919. He saw service against the Canadian champion, and while over there learned something about the "boxing game. While over there he met and fought several boxers, including "Shy" McCormick, Seaman Bridgeman, Billy Fullerton and others. Although weighing 140 pounds, he is a boxer, not a brawler, and when called upon to finish the fight, would have realized that the claim of foul was unfounded, and when called upon to finish the fight, would have realized that the claim of foul was unfounded.

This was the situation, then, the morning after the fight. But what was the result? The referee, after a supplementary statement, issued by Carpentier, saying it was "Tunney's being able to stay the limit. Both he and Desamps would have no shame in doing this, if they thought he could not. Tunney's claim could have it not seriously hurt.

So much for the foul. Aside from that, Georges was a beaten man. He showed terrific punishment, just as he did in his fight with Dempsey, and with Tommy Gibbons. At night, where the Americans excellently, Georges was a beaten man. He showed terrific punishment, just as he did in his fight with Dempsey, and with Tommy Gibbons.

He was a good fighter. Carpentier should retire. He has fought some good fights, which he won, and lost some poor ones. He was at the height of his career in the second round against Dempsey at Jersey City. He was at his worst against Tunney. He can quit with credit—for his courage is not disputed, albeit he and Desamps have laid themselves open to charges of trickery—and quit he should.

SAYS CARPENTIER SHOULD QUIT RING

Ringside Observer Believes Tunney's Blow was Foul But Unintentional.

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Aug. 6.—(United Press.)—Georges Carpentier should retire from the prize ring. At 30 years of age, he is rounded out a boxing career that has spanned more than 16 years by losing to Gene Tunney. American light-heavyweight champion, on a technical knockout July 24. The riotous scenes that accompanied his passing were not to the credit of the game. The Frenchman claimed he was fouled in the 14th round, and the United Press correspondent, at the ringside directly in front of where the fighters were struggling, thought that a vicious left hook of Tunney's, the hardest blow struck during the bout, landed on the Frenchman's head with pain as the champion's glove smacked home, and sank with the canvas. Tunney, however, was disgusted on his face, made no further attempt to strike his opponent, but walked to his corner, muttering disgustedly, "Faker."

The scenes that followed, beggar description. Francois Desamps, Carpentier's volatile manager, attempted to rip off Georges' trunk to show he had been fouled. There were several free-for-all fights, and the bout ended amidst pandemonium, with the Frenchman claiming he had been fouled. Carpentier, however, was not so sure. He was nearly double, pushed into the ring with his second standing nearby, muttering with a final heroic gesture for Tunney to come on and finish him. The American stood uncertainly, until Referee Andy Griffin raised his hand and declared him winner. Griffin could have disqualified Carpentier because Desamps and Gus Wilson, his trainer, were in the ring after the bell for the 15th round, but, instead, proclaimed Tunney winner on a technical knockout.

Was Carpentier fouled? The question probably never will be answered satisfactorily. In the first place, let it be said emphatically that if he was, it was unintentional on Tunney's part. Moreover, the referee, by chance, and despite what he says, was not in a position to see exactly where the blow landed. The United Press correspondent was of the impression that the Frenchman was the victim of an unintentional blow, for two reasons: (1) The blow that brought him down seemed to land low, and the apparent suffering of Carpentier immediately thereafter was convincing; (2) If Georges had been "faking," he would have realized that the claim of foul was unfounded, and when called upon to finish the fight, would have realized that the claim of foul was unfounded.

So much for the foul. Aside from that, Georges was a beaten man. He showed terrific punishment, just as he did in his fight with Dempsey, and with Tommy Gibbons. LEADERS QUAKE AS BROWNS PUSH ON

St. Louis Team Continues Winning Streak—3½ Games From Top.

(By Canadian Press)
New York, Aug. 7.—St. Louis continues to burn up the American League ladder and to attract more attention than any other club in the circuit. As a result of their top-notch play over Washington, which incidentally was their sixth straight win and their ninth in 10 starts the Browns today seriously threaten the supremacy of the three leaders. St. Louis' sensational aggregation is only three games and a half behind the top-notch Yankees, two and a half in rear of the Tigers and a half game in the wake of the Senators.

An opportune rain storm at the close of the fifth inning gave Detroit a 5 to 3 decision over New York on the strength of a half day's work. Jimmie Wingo arrived on the scene just in time to keep St. Louis' winning string intact. With tying run on second and Davis resigned in favor of the brilliant youngster who pitched the next two Washington hitters and pulled his mates through by a narrow squeak of 6 to 5.

Cleveland by their 8 to 5 triumph over Boston made it four straight. The Giants added another game to already overwhelming lead by downing Chicago five to two, while Pittsburgh was losing to Brooklyn, 5 to 3.

The national league champions now are in the van by eight games and a half. Cincinnati scored a three to two win over Philadelphia with a minimum of effort as rain put an end to the proceedings in the fifth session. Boston stepped out of its losing rut long enough to turn the tables on St. Louis by a five to three margin.
