White Sox Trim Cubs

Chicago, Oct. 16.—The Chicago National League club went to pieces in the eighth inning of today's game for the Chicago championship from the Chicago Americans. Both Ruthless and Chesney were batted out of the box and the "Sox" clinched the game by scoring four runs. The series now stands three to two in favor of the National leaguers. White Sox was wild and gave way to Benz in the fourth inning. Benz was equally wild, but held the National leaguers to two hits.

St. Louis Nationals Win Series

St. Louis, Oct. 16.—The local National League club retained the baseball championship of St. Louis, winning today from the St. Louis Americans in the seventh game of the inter-league series by a score of 6 to 1.

Players Demand Made

"Christy" Mathewson of the Giants, acting as the representative of both the New York team and the Red Sox, conferred with President Garry Hermann of the National Commission and President Thomas Lynch of the National League in Boston regarding the request of both teams for more money, in the world's series game.

Mathewson told Hermann and Lynch that what the players wanted was a share of the receipts for the first five games, to make up for the tie game last Wednesday, which was played off on Thursday. Under the rules the teams share in the receipts only of the first four games.

The conference lasted fifteen minutes. Chairman Hermann declared the matter was entirely out of the hands of the commission.

"The commission is the creature of the two big leagues," declared Hermann. "The two big leagues formulated the 'World's Series' rules and the National Commission is simply following out those rules. The matter is entirely out of the hands of the National Commission."

The meeting followed a decision reached by the Giants and Red Sox on the train over from New York. The players appointed Mathewson and Bill Carrigan, a committee to represent them in laying the request for more money in the series before the National Commission.

At the hour set for the conference, Carrigan had not showed up, so Mathewson, representing both teams, went to the National Commission's headquarters in Boston. After the conference he reported the result to the Giants, and later to the Red Sox.

For Next Year

Toronto, Oct. 15.—President McCaffery, of the Toronto Club, has received a wire from President Rutherford of the Moon Club of the South Atlantic League, conveying the information that the application of the Leafs for the Moon grounds as a training camp next spring had been granted.

Football

Acadia, 11; Dalhousie, 0.

Halifax, Oct. 16.—(Special).—The Dalhousie football team was defeated by Acadia in a game at Wolfville today, the score being 11 to 0. The Acadia team was much the heavier.

U. N. B. Victorious

The U. N. B. team yesterday defeated the St. Thomas College Rugby team of the Fredericton, by a score of 24 to 5. In the face of the large score and the difference in the tallies, the game was interesting as the Chatham boys put up a hard game, making up in active struggling what they lacked in experience.

Ottawa College Drops Out

Toronto, Oct. 17.—At an intercollegiate football meeting last night, held behind closed doors, the resignation of Ottawa College was accepted, after a lengthy discussion. Father Stanton's team dropped out as the result of the finding of a committee on investigation of the Queens-Ottawa College fiasco in Ottawa.

Lady Helper From New York at Child Welfare Exhibition in Montreal Tells of Advance of Playgrounds Movement in the States

(Montreal Witness.)

The provision of playgrounds for children is one of the great points insisted upon at the Child Welfare Exhibition.

It is sought to drive home to the citizens the fundamental truth that the child needs a playground just as a flower needs light.

Miss Julia Schornfeld, of the Playgrounds Association of America, who is here from New York, to help forward the work at the exhibition, said in an interview with a Witness representative, that the playground movement is making great strides throughout the United States.

THERE WAS MUCH MONEY UP IN ST. JOHN

Now that the world's baseball series is over it is safe to predict that considerable more business will be transacted in this city than during the last ten days. St. John certainly had the baseball fever and the city's pulse has hardly yet returned to normal after the excitement furnished by the big games. No previous series is known to have created as much excitement and aroused as much interest as the games just completed. In the business section of the city business was almost at a standstill for a couple of hours each day while the games were in progress. Bulletin boards were watched by hundreds and the brokers' offices where the news was received by direct wire, were crowded with enthusiasts. Those who could not get their information direct used the telephone and the newspaper offices, telegraph offices, "information," and every other possible source of news was deluged with inquiries regarding the progress of the game and the scores.

It was not only the men and boys who were interested. Many of the fair sex were just as keen about it and as a result of their interest there was a sudden increase in the sale of gloves and confettionery to settle their little wagers.

Setting of a more substantial character marked the operations of the male fans and a large amount of money changed hands from day to day. Before the series commenced many bets were placed on the final results and from day to day the betting was on the day's game. Even money prevailed at first but after Boston's winning streak those who placed their money on New York demanded, and received odds of 2 to 1 or more. About that time the odds for series jumped to 3 to 1 in favor of Boston in some cases. There were, however, a good many even bets later on.

Boston money was more plentiful around the city anyway, due apparently to greater sympathy with the men of the two contending cities. This sentiment was quite evident while the games were in progress.

The announcement of a Boston advance was always the signal for heartier cheers than a similar accomplishment on the part of the New York players, and at that many who were backing the Giants said they were doing so simply as a sporting proposition and not from the feeling of sympathy which seemed to actuate many of those taking the opposite side.

A feature of the betting which was more marked than ever before was the amount of money placed in New York and Boston by local brokers for their customers who wished to put up bigger sums than they could find takers for in St. John.

ture theatres may pass from the stage of public recreation to public ownership. The problem of the twentieth century is the conservation—which means the utilization—of the leisure time of the people, for only in this way shall we get educated people, and only through an educated people can we hope to secure economic justice, responsible political freedom and the conservation of the resources of the earth.

"So long as there is a child in our land who toils in shop or tenement when he should be out at play, whose school is without a playground, and whose out-of-doors is bounded by the gutters of the public street, with never a tree or shrub or flower, so long the masses will hate the classes; and the policeman be to the boy an enemy instead of a friend. To give the boy back his childhood is more than justice and common sense. It is sane government."

School Yards as Playgrounds

"Boards of education in our cities," also continued, "have also recognized the fact that play is educational, and are turning their school yards into playgrounds. They have become aroused to the reasonable need of the proposition that if our school buildings are used only 25 per cent of the day time for study, they ought to be used some of the remaining time for play; and so, in many communities recreation centres have been opened where the children may go for a good time, where not only the younger children may go for a good time, but the older boys and girls who have left school to go to work may come in the evenings to enjoy clubs of all kinds to the day of the sculler race for the world's championship, for no man, except Edward Hutton himself, did more to bring the first championship to Canada. Mr. Davis was perhaps the most active member of the Hutton Club, which conducted the affairs of that famous oxman."

David Ward, whose death occurred only a few months ago was another. They prepared all his matches, conducted all his negotiations, handled all the finances and generally managed things so that the "boy in blue" had nothing to do but row and win. Mr. Davis was long a resident of Windsor, many times mayor and for years President of the Windsor Jockey Club.

HAD THE ANSWER PAT.

Young Teddy, aged eight, looked up at his adoring mother, and then spoke.

"There were only three of us in school today," he cried, with swelling pride, "who could answer a question teacher asked us!"

He paused. The worshipping mother said: "I hope one of the three was my darling Ted!"

"You bet I was!" was the youngster's triumphant reply. "And Sam Harris and Harry Stone were the other two to try!"

He paused again—made an attempt, it seemed to wander off. But his mother longed for more and other details.

"It does me good to hear such stories of my boy," she murmured proudly. "Tell me—what question did the teacher ask you, Teddy dear?"

"Who broke the schoolroom window?" said Ted, and, turning, fled in fear—Till Bits.

Not long ago a stock of crockery was sold at auction, and Mrs. Wilson attended the sale. When she returned her face was radiant with joy.

"You must join the cremation society," were the first words she said to her husband.

DECIDED TO BUILD BOOTH MEMORIAL

Training College in Toronto—War Cry Editor Promoted To England

Toronto, Oct. 17.—It was announced today, following the thirtieth annual congress of the Salvation Army, that a magnificent new college would be erected in Toronto by the Salvationists of Canada as a memorial to General William Gipsy followed her mistress to the grave; and as even the most-daintily fed and luxuriously-clothed and bedevilled of toy torriers cannot run through money at the rate of $400,000 a year, the legacy was practically intact when she passed away.

The lady who had tended Gipsy to the last took it for granted that on the day's death she would succeed to the property; but she has not been allowed to remain in possession of it undisturbed. A claim has been formulated on behalf of an offspring of Gipsy's, which, being a puppy of high degree, was duly registered at birth.

The claim has been "heard," but as the question is one of momentous concern to the canine race, the judges are taking some time to consider their verdict.
