(Continued.) CHAPTER XIV. A SETTLEMENT.

Next morning there was much hurry-ing to and fro on board the dahabeeyah nor ; so that Mrs. Graham had no chance of having an extended talk with aged to convey to him a few covert mation and counsel. "Archie," said she, "I have spoken to Yolande-I have hinted something

"Oh, you need not be much alarmed, she said, with a significant smile.

interrupted, eagerly; and there was a flush of gladness on his face. His sister glanced around.

"I thought there could be no harm if I told her that Jim and I would like to have her for a sister," she answered

"And she did not say 'no' outright?" he repeated.
"Well," Mrs. Graham said, after a second, "I am not going to tell you anything more. It would not be fair. It is your business, not mine. I'm out of it now. I have intermeddled quite enou h. But I don't think she hates you. And she seems rather pleased to think of living in the Highlands, with her father having plenty of amusement there, you know; and perhaps she might be brought tomonsider a permanent arrangement of that kind not so undesirable; and-and-well, you'd better see for yourself. As I say, Jim and I will be very glad to have her for a sister; and I can't say more, can 1?" She could not say more then, at all events, for at this moment Colones Graham appeared on the upper deck with the intelligence that the Governor's harge was just then coming down the river. Mr. Winterbourne and Yobelow; some further disposition of chairs and divans was made; some intimation made to her of his wishes and hopes, and yet showed no on deck, taking their coffee in the red lande, and then he would summon up on deck, taking their coffee in the red lande, and then he would summon up on deck, taking their coffee in the red lande, and then he would summon up notables of Merhadj.

The Master of Lynn saw and heard busy with the glad and bewildering ect that his sister's obscure hints had placed before him. And again and again he glanced at Yolande, timidly, and yet with an increasing wonder. He began to ask himself whether it was really true that his sister had spoken to her. The girl betrayed no conscious ness, no embarrassment; she had greeted him on that morning just as on the dahabeeyah for a draught of cold other mornings; at this moment she was regarding the arrival of those grave her eyes would make some tell-tale con-black frock-coat, white waistcoat, and where the gloom of the silent desert red tarboosh were all of the newest and was gathering all around. theatrical coxcomb. But the women-her in India, but why with Yolande?

"And I also, madam, hope to have curious glance at Colonel Graham.

markable in Cairo, sir?" "Well, nothing remarkable," said the stout soldier. "Lots of rumors. Always plenty of that in politics. Mostly lies. At the Consulate they thought we were safe enough." The young man turned to his father. who was silently and solemnly sipping his coffee, apparently quite uninterested in what was going on, and spoke in Arabic to him for a second or two. The old gentleman appeared to grunt delight in sending two or three soldiers There is no danger, except that some bad men will try to rob when they can.

the district as well as I. Do you per-dine with us this evening; then we can had answered, but vaguely and happily you, child?" said he, with a laugh.

be kind and attentive to her—quite state of silence; the little party of sensible of it, in fact; and when I hinted at something—"

where the total and every the total and the state of silence; the little party of a longer and indeed at dinner there was no longer any of that happy serventy of working and the society; and the Master of Lynn, a longer any of that happy serventy of working and the society; and the Master of Lynn, a longer any of that happy serventy of working and the society; and the Master of Lynn, a longer any of that happy serventy of working and the society; and the society; and the society is not serve to the society and the society and the society is not serve to the society and the society is not serve to the society and the society and the society is not serve to the society and th and awkward in his speech. She was ly with Mrs. Graham about the recent ume, their wonderfully small feet, and

"Why do you not go ashore?" she said, turning with frank eyes to the Master of Lynn. "It is so interesting to see the strange birds, the strange plants."

He was wondering whether his sister rould get up and go away and leave them together, and he was half afraid she would and half afraid she would Was it not enough that she had had and she sat together, and sewed and the darkness. ing boat, and listen to the hoatmen singing a long and melancholy chorus to the clanking of the oars. At lunchtime Mr. Winterbourne and Colonel Graham turned up. Then in the afternoon the whole of them got into a boat, and were rowed away to a long and flat and sandy island on the other side of the Nile, which they explored in a leisurely way; and then back again to tea in the welcome shade of the awning. It was not until near the end of the have some private speech with her, to watch the coming over of the twilight. equiry of her eyes—surely Itgwas a strange enough sight in its way. For after the yellow color had interpreter, and who spoke English excellently, addressed a little too much clear, pallid, blue-gray sky of the south, of the conversation to the two ladies. Moreover, it was all very well for him, there still lingered a glow of warmer on coming on board, to shake hands light, and a few clouds high up had you it is the simplest and most ordinary with Mrs. Graham, for he had known caught a saffron tinge from the sinking

sun. It seemed as if they here were The Governor—a corpulent and sal-shut in with the dark, while far away low-faced old gentleman who looked shut in with the dark, while lar away in the north, over the Surrey lanes, and like a huge frog—and his companions at in solemn state, while young Ismat, and out amid the distant Hebridean But then he added, more gently: "Of with much grace of manner and remarkably eloquent eyes, hoped that the visitors were comfortable on board the dahabeeyah, and so forth. He was a dahabeeyah, and so forth. He was a well-dressed young gentleman; his beautiful and glowing scenes, here coxcomb, and also a Frenchified semithere, and how he hoped she would speaking eyes; and when he said that he had never been to England, but intended to go the next year, Mrs. Gratended to go the next year, M ham made him definitely promise that thing very pretty about the kindness of the would pay them a visit at Inverall of them to her, he spoke a little stroy.

The world pay them a visit at Inverall of them to her, he spoke a little more warmly and asked if there was hands, as if you had done some wrong, more warmly, and asked if there was "And Miss Winterbourne," said the any wonder. People got to know one young gentleman with the swarthy face another intimately through a constant and the brilliant white teeth, "does she live in Scotland also?"

"Well, no," said Mrs. Graham, placidly; "but I hope you will find her there when you come. We want her there when you come. We want her he honest if he did not confess to her that he was aware that his sister had spoken and if she likes her first visit, perhaps to her-it was best to be frank; and he she will come again. I hope you will knew she was so kind she would not be the felicity of the visit that you propose," said he, "if politics will permit He spoke in a very frank and manly way; and she let him speak, for she was quite incapable of saying anything. Her fingers were working nervously "You did not hear anything very re. with a small pocket book she held, and she had turned partly away, dreading to lift her eyes, and yet unable to go until she had answered him somehow. Then she managed to say, rather hurriedly and breathlessly: "Oh no, I am not offended. Why, it is-a great honor-I-knew it was your sister's kindness and frindship that made her speak to me Please let me go away now-" He had put his hand on her arm unwittingly. "But may I hope, Yolande? May I hope?" he said, and he stooped down to listen for the faintest weed. "I don't want you to pledge yourself altogether now. Give me time. May I try to win you? Do you think some time—some time of your own choosing, as far ahead as you may wish—you will con

"I should be dressing for dinner,"

A. B. Des. Rochers, Arthabaskaville of P, Q, writes: "Thirteen years ago I was from the shooting, you will come out to meet us and walk back with us the last half-mile."

"I should be dressing for dinner,"

"I should be dressing for dinner,"

"It will be too charming for me. not now. You have always been so "I should get the London newspapers, Perhaps your dragoman does not know kind to me that I ask it from you-" yes? Quite easily? Do you know, She stole away in the gathering dark- papa, what Colonel Graham believes ?mit me? Shall I come to-morrow with ness, her head bent down : she had not that they are going to take one of the everything prepared?"

once turned her eyes to his. And he extreme Liberals into the Ministry, to remained there for a time, scarcely please the northern towns." Graham, "you'd better come along and knowing what he had said or what she talk it over. In the meantime we can't conscious that she had not, at all events, keep your father and the other gentle-men waiting while we discuss our ram-was harrassed by all kinds of doubts, tics?" oles. Will you please tell his Excel- surmises, hesitations; but surely preency once more how much obliged we vailing over these was a buoyant hope, ernment, papa, you would have your are, and honored by his visit, and that a touch of triumph even. He would holiday-time all her brother. Nevertheless, she man- we will do ourselves the pleasure of fain have gone away for a long stroll in thoughtfully. coming to see him at Merhadj to-mor- the dusk to have reasoned out his hopes row, if that will suit his Excellency's and guesses with himself ; but here was said he. "You may as well expect to

This was the final arrangement—that young Ismat Effendi was to come along the Master of Lynn—began to have the away, then, Yolande; your secret is to dinner in the evening—a prospect which seemed to please him highly. Very soon after, the grave company was seated in the stern of the barge, and light and a proud heart. Yolande was as well go and call to Ahmed that the big oars were once more at work. his, he almost felt assured. How want another cup of coffee." quite to know how you have wished to The dahabeeyah returned to its normal should she regard him when next they

"She did not say 'no' outright?" he little anxious and excited, and almost fearing to meet Yolande's eyes, and yet drawn toward her neighborhood by a embarrassment were so great as to be secret spell, declined to go ashore with the other two gentlemen, and remained with his sister and Yolande in the Belwith his sister and Yolande in the Belto be listening to Ismat Effendi's devedere, in the cool shade of the canvas scriptions of the troubles in the Soudan, ed; but when you see it is not practi-engaged in some delicate needle-work; knew that he had spossed in that he ward to—to hope for." knew that he had spoken but himself, to anticipate. Very much to look forfrom time to time she was chatting freevisitors and their almost European cos-ume, their wonderfully small feet, and again her trouble and confusion perplex wife, Yolande, as you have been a ed him-along with the recollection that she had been so anxious to say They went back to their friends, their nothing definite-still, on the whole, crumph and rejoicing were in his for Ismat Effendi was a fluent and inheart. And how beautiful she looked, teresting talker. And whether Mr. even with the pensive face cast down! Winterbourne had been playing a part of her appearance must have struck him He sat somewhat apart, and silent; his -the tall stature, the fine complexion, eyes were fixed on the deck; he was the ruddy golden hair, and the clear, not listening. Yolande herself brought colved that on the first opportunity he would speak to Yolande himself. He maidenly eyes. This was a bride fit for on his shoulder, and stood by him would not trust to any go-between. a home-coming at Lynn Towers! But, alas ! Yolande's self-confidence he was thoughtful and distraught for

The mid-day went by, and he found glow shed by the lanterns, she got hold some of his customary humor, and no chance of addressing her. His sister of her father, and drew him aside into petulantly complain about her un-She took hold of his hand; both hers

> "I have something to tell you, papa something serious.' Then he knew, and for a moment his away, apologized to her for heart sank; but he maintained a gay demeanor. Had he not reasoned the whole niatter out with himself? He be tedious? Ah! but we will have our had foreseen this crisis; he had nerved bimself by anticipation.
>
> Graham says that in their house it is were trembling.

Yolande," said he, very cheerfully. officials with an interest which seemed day that the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence. As for the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence. As for the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence. As for the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence. As for the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence. As for the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence. As for the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence. As for the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence. As for the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence. As for the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence. As for the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence. As for the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence of the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence. As for the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious of his presence oblivious of his presence of the long-looked-for opportunate oblivious obliviou him, he looked on impatiently. He wished it was all over. He wished to to to you have something dreadful to confess, because private speech with her to you have something dreadful to confess, whereas it is nothing but the most Master of Lynn, seeing that Yound fession? And in a vague kind of way be grew to think that the Governor's be grew to think that the Governor's above the river's edge, and while the frankness. I consider him a very fine frankness. I consider him a very fine and he timidly asked her if she had n going to make a fuss about it, and going to make a fuss about it, and destroy my nervous system, for I tell little apology, in very pretty and sta affair in the world." "Then you know everything—you father, she said, she had spoken to the father, without whose approval she could not have decided. approve of it, papa-it is your wish?"

she said, bravely.
"My wish?" he said. "What has my But then he added, more gently: "Of sentences. course you know, Yolande, I should like to see you married and settled. was gathering all around.

She was standing by the rail of the deck; and when the others had gone he quietly went over to her, and began ralking to her about the Highlands.

Was gathering all around.

She was standing by the rail of the deck; and when the others had gone he quietly went over to her, and began itselfing to her about the Highlands.

Was gathering all around.

She was standing by the rail of the deck; and when the others had gone he quietly went over to her, and began like that; and, besides, it couldn't last:

""A very good thing too," said he to talking to her—about the Highlands mostly, and of the long clear twilights mostly, and of the long clear twilights wouldn't answer. So when travelling wouldn't answer. So when they'll take the sheep off Allt-nam-ba, any time-don't come to me with a take care of you, you would have one

"Oh yes, I think so, papa," said she ways fishings and shootings to be got purpose. "And you would be quite happy, then ?" "If you were, I should be," said he; "If you were, I should be," said he; and really this prospect pleased him so Sorry for you, Doctor. These powders are immensely valuable. I hope?" he said, and he stooped down scarcely forced. "Always on this dis-

General Business.

"But what has that got to do with

"Very likely they may. But you

"But even if you were in the Gov-dinner-time appreaching, and young hear of me being sent to arrest the And then he hesitated.

"You have not said yes or no yet "Oh no; how could I, until I knew awning.

No, she betrayed not the slightest embarrassment at his sitting thus quite near her; it was he who vas nervous and awkward in his speech. She was

> He patted her lightly on the shoul daughter, you will do pretty well." absence scarcely having been noticed No wonder young Ismat had admired or not in his interview with Yolande, her that morning: the very Englishness that cheerfulness of his soon left him then he brightened up somewhat. But

English idioms. "What is it, Yolande?" said he, in And she? Her anxiety and nervous true, she rather avoided the Master of Lynn, and rarely ventured to look in his direction, but she was in good spirits, cheerful, practical, self-possessed; and when Ismat Effendi, on going talked tedious politics all the evening she said, with a charming smile:

'No, not at all. How can politics

"Oh, I know—I know already, nothing but deer that is talked of all the evening. That will not interest you?"
"I shall rejoice to be allowed to try, ordinary and commonplace thing in the world. You need not make any connear her, with some vague hope that fession. Young Leslie has spoken to might have some chance of re-opening young fellow. Now what have you got and he tunidly asked her if she had not to say? Only I won't listen if you are frankly, though with some little ne able to give him an answer; but since

"Then you consent, Yolande; you will be my wife?" he said, in a low and eager voice, upsetting in his haste all the continuity of those hesitating her eyes cast down. Perhaps you will Yes, I should like to see that; I should He took her hand into his, and held General Groceries. like to see you in a fixed home, and not liable to all the changes and chances of litinght.

The took her fand into his, and here it tight.

This has been a lucky voyage for the life that you and I have been living.

This has been a most of the interpretation of the life that you and I have been living.

The life that you and I have been living.

The life that you and I have been living.

The life that you and I have been living.

The life that you and I have been living.

"A very good thing too," said he to and make Corrievreak the sanctuar

A Farmer Speaks.

hands, as if you had done some wrong, or as if I was going to object, for to see you happy would be happiness enough for me; and as for our swight together.

angry if there had been any indiscretion; and he begged for her forgiveness if she had been in any rows of the state of th quite brightly; and she regarded him with grateful and loving eyes. "And you would have ever so much more time for Parliament, would you not?"

"Assuredly."

"And you would come to see me

"As the frosts of winter vanish under the gright's Disease, Dropsy, Stone in the Kidneys and Bladder, and Inflamation of the Kidneys, leave the body upon the administration of Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure. Sold by J. D. B. F. McKenzie.

Plate and Extra Messer Me

sometimes; and go shooting and fishing; and take a real holiday—not in towns and hotels?"

"Oh, don't be afraid. I will bother the life out of you. And there are allowed the sound aboutions to be got the sound aboutions to be got the sound aboutions to be got the sound about the sound are recently, it is supposed from bots.

If he had used 25 cents worth of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders he would have ahead as you may wish—you will consent? May I hope for it? May I look forward to it some day?

"Oh, but I can not tell you—I can not tell you—I can not tell you now," she said, in the same breathless way. "I am sorry if I have one of her most pleasant smiles.

He waved his hand in a deprecatory fashion.

The sale as you may wish—you will consent? May I look forward to it some day?

"I should be dressing for dinner, papa," she said, "and just worrying my head off to think what would please your one of the received with the same breathless way. "I am sorry if I have given any pain—any anxiety—but—some other time I will try to talk to you—or my papa will tell you—but

The waved his hand in a deprecatory fashion.

Then she added, after a second second in the same and us some?

Then she added, after a second second in the same and us some?

Then she added, after a second second in the same and us some?

The should be dressing for dinner, papa," she said, "and just worrying my head off to think what would please your into tell you now," she said, in the same breath as pound the start you. Men, women, boys and bottle with us from Quebcc, but is nearly gone and we do not want to be without to be without the same breathless way.

"You will be dressing for dinner, papa," she said, "and just worrying my head off to think what would please your."

"You will be dressing for dinner, and have only used half a bottle."

A. D. Noyes, Newark, Michigan, writes: "I have enquired at the Drug store for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the work fail et to find it. We brought a buttle with us from Quebcc, but is nearly gone and we do not want to be without the same breathless way. "You make the verywhere to werk tor us. Now for us. Now for its worries and the work of the with a buttle with us from Quebcc, but is nearly gone and we do not want to be without the same better the papa."

Then she added, whe

SPRING 1883. CLARKE, KERR & THOR E. PRINCE WILLIAM ST.,

H. P. MARQUIS, Cunard Street WE ARE PREPARING ACTIVELY FOR THE SPRING CAMPAIGN. Our Travellers are now on the road with a Full line of Samples, Our Stock is ordered from Europe, the United make many new ones. BUYERS WHEN IN ST. JOHN, ar respectfully invited to inspect our

WAREROOMS and SAMPLE ROOMS LONDON HOUSE

AGRICULTURAL TOOLS. FANCY GOODS, ETC.

CLARKE, KERR

CAST STEEL PRICE 25 CTs. PER BOTTLE at THE MED CAL HALL. J. D. B. F. MACKENZIE. GRAY'S SPECIFIC MEDICINE.

ases that lead to THE GRAY MEDICINE CO.

MeLACCAN IMPORTER

WHOLESALE DEALER

----AND---

Cornmeal Provisions AND

IN STORE. 50 Caddies do.

BARRISTERS-AT-LAW. DIRECT IMPORTANT Notaries' Public, Insurance Agents 75 Boxes and Caddies Black and Bright Tobacco

100 Bbls. Sugar, GRANULATED & YELLOW

150 Boxes Soap, 100 Bushels

White Beans. MOLASSES, in Puncheons

Tierces & Bbls Plate and Extra Mess Beef

OFFICES : St. Patrick Street, ... Buthurst, N. B. Pressed Hay THEOPHILUS DESBRISAY, Q. C.
T SWAYNE DESBRINAY

E. P. Williston. ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Cornmeal & Notary Public, Conveyancer, &c., Oatmeal Newcastle, Miramichi, N. B.

FISH WAREHOUSE

at Who'esale Rates.

Public Wharf, - Newcastle

General Ausiness.

The "Imperial Wringer Wash-tub Stand. Clothes Forks, etc. New devices for convenience on Wash da

Notice of Co-Partnership.

A Female Teacher (2nd Class) is wanted to commence engagemen May 1st, in Listrict No. 1½ Napan. Address PATRICK CONWAY, Nec'y to Trustees, Napat

CHATHAM, N. B. THE SUBSCRIBER will sell off the balance of his Stock of FANCY GOODS at greatly PAINTS OILS.

> IN STORE: FLOUR, CORNMEAL, OATMEAL,
> TEA, SUGAR, LARD,
> SOAP, ONIONS, TOBACCO
> Lowest WHOLESALE and RETAIL Prices; also 20 TUBS GOOD BUTTER

R. FLANAGAN. ST. JOHN STREET, CHATHAM. WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Dry Goods, Groceries and Provisions, Hardware, Hats. Caps, Ready-Made Clothing

Notice to Mill Owners

THE Subscriber is prepared to furnish his PATENT LOG CARRIAGE SHIPPING MACHINE, to any parties requiring the same, or supply drawings, etc., to enable parties to manufacture it for themselves.

The above is in use in several Mills on this River, and perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.

Full information given by application to the Subscriber ROBERT MCGITTRE

BEST REFINED IRON Lowmoor, Swede, Londonderry

Thos. Firth and Son's Extra Axe, Tool and Drill Stee Spring, Sleigh Shoe &

ROUND MACHINE STEEL Tinplates, CHARCOAL and COKE.

Tire Steel.

Sheet Iron. Black and Galvanized A special lot of Galvanized Sheet Iron — 6 ft x 39 in. x 20 gauge.
7 "x " x" x" s
8 "x " x" s
8 "x " x" s
8 class make (Davies) and well adapted for BSTER BOILERS, &c. Besides a heavy stock tore, we expect early in March, per good Ship farin."
11,224 Bars
2,566 Bdls.
Refined Iron.
Hoop Iron

SPRING GOODS.

Johnson & Murra

Barrister-at-Law

BATHURST, N. B.

WARREN C. WINSLOW.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

NOTARY PUBLIC.

FICE:—Pugsley's Building, Prince William St *5t24 ST JOHN.

DesBrisay & DesBrisay

BARRISTERS,

R. B. ADAMS.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, NOTARY PUBLIC, &c.

Water Street, Chatham

CASTLE STREET NEWCASTLE, N. B.

Office up stairs, Noonan's Building,

I. & F. BURPEE & CO. Dry Goods, Cheap

20 baskets Finest Champagne, THE Subscribers are now offering the Stock of D. M. Loggie & Co., in the Store lately occupied by them, at very low prices to clear, it audicitation of the early arrival of O Cases Sparkling Burgundy & Hock JOHN W. NICHOLSON. SAD IRONS. MRS. POTTS' SAD IRONS.

> PATTERSON, LOGGIE & CO. Nickle-plated. FOR SALE AT LOWEST PRICES BY > H. P. MARQUIS,
> Chuard St. Chathan CHAMPION P. RTABLE SAW MILLS

D. G. MACLAUCHLAN NOTARY PUBLIC, ETC

Birthday Cards.

Felt Hats, Fur Hats, WOOL HATS.

NEW SPRING GOODS NOW OPENING

___AT ___ Commercial House

W B. HOWARD.

WM. A. PARK, Attorney-at-Law. Solicitor NOTARY PUBLIC, CONVEYANCER, &C.

GENERAL BUSINESS.

B.SNOWBALL'S

Just received per late Steamers from the Manufacturers. New Ulster Cloths,

For Gents Ladies and Children:

Boys' Woollen Knickerbocker Hose,

Very Heavy.

A very large stock of GROCERIES, PICKLES, NAUCES, CANNED GOODS, SPICES, CITRON and LEMON PREL, EXTRACTS. etc. etc.

Ladies' Berlin Wool Shawls. Ladies Berlin Wool Jackets. Ladies' and Children's Wool Scarfs.

Irish Frieze. For Heavy Overcoats.

Irish and Scotch Tweeds.

Newest Styles.

Moscow Homespun, Costume Cloths,
Wool Serges, French Cashmeres, French Merinoes,
Black Scicillians, Black Grecian Cords, Colored Cloth Debeges

ENGLISH BLANKETS 50 pairs Best Twilled

100 pairs Best White

Canadian White Blankets

A few pairs of Super Extra BATH BLANKETS, at reduced price

ALL CHEAP FOR CASH!

Chatham, Oct. 18, 1881 G. A. BLAIR, Manchester, READY - MADE CLOTHING Robertson.

-COMPRISING-Men's, Youths' & Children's Suits, IN CLOTH, TWEED& VELVET

Which he is offering at prices suitable to tues. FOR SALE 50,000 BRICKS. MIRAMICHI BRICK YARD.

NELSON, N. B. WHOLESALE AND RETAIL CHAMPAGNE Just arrived per steamer "Hibernian" via Halifa:

Victoria Wharf, Smyth Stre

MILLINERY

& Allison,

Cases Mens Hats, CASES READY-MADE CLOTHIC. BALES

GREY COTTONS. JUST RECEIVED: First Instalment of a Lot of 200 HALF CHESTS TEA. (Exceptional Value.) TO ARRIVE:

Per "British Queer," 4000 Sacks Coarse SALT WILLIAM MURRAY

