

Round About Cairo, With and Without the Assistance of the Dragoman or Simon Legree of the Orient. coul, over to a guide. In Egypt the Sheedy, has yielded to British reforguide is called a dragoman. He puts matory influence.

quiet. Then when he comes face to face with some "sight" and you are wondering about this or that Mr. Peasley opens the floodgate of his newly acquired knowledge and deluges the whole party. He is seldom correct, and never accurate, but he knows that he

For instance, the first afternoon in tried to explain to him that a garage Cairo we chartered an open conveyance was a place where automobiles were and rode out to the citadel and the cared for, but he said that automobile mosque of Mohammed Ali, both of and "dam" belonged in the same cate-

is modern and very gorgeous with ala- the "garage."

the mosque of Mohammed All was a these:--

Turkey. When we heard that we made lent.
a quick switch and began to find fault Inas is dealing with an ignorance more pro- Assiut and Assouan. Over here they found than his own, and that gives him are called "barrages." Mr. Peasley insists upon calling them "garages." We and other time-worn trinkets, he suggested that I purchase a mummy.

"Can I got one?" I asked in sur-

"What would a man do with a gross

"You can give them away. They who put them in private residences oom and saw two beautifully preserved specimens in their rigid overcoats tawdy and hideous specimen of the most decadent period of the mixed up architectures imported from Araby and he falls back on the American equivative.

Turkey When we heard that we made to the most decadent period of the mixed up architectures imported from Araby and he falls back on the American equivative ways and that we made to the most decadent period of the mixed up architectures imported from Araby and he falls back on the American equivative ways are the most decadent period of the mixed up architectures imported from Araby and he falls back on the American equivative ways are the most decadent period of the mixed up architectures imported from Araby and the mixed up architecture in the mixed tomb and heave out the rock at fifteen Inasmuch as I reside in Indiana, cents per day, hauls the mummy into mids lifting themselves dimly from the the cigarette headquarters of the uni- In some parts of Egypt people go out

(Copyright, 1906, by George Ade.)

Mr. Peasley is a secretive sutdent of the guide book.

He reads up beforehand and on the He reads up beforehand and animated, but "He is describing the egg."

What a people—to take five cents' that they willingly perjured them that they willingly perjured them that they willingly perjured the He is describing the egg."

What a people—to take five cents' worth of the bouse of t as a distinct breed of humanity for some case thousand years, as nearly as I can figure it off hand. By eliminating to sell three cents' worth land it with twenty dollars' worth of the cigarette from Indiana the Hoosiers the cigarette from Indian dent of Egyptology and a dealer in genuine antiquities, including mummies. While I was noising through collection of scarabs, idols, coins

"I can get you a gross if you want are very ornamental. Formerly my only customers were colleges and mu-seums. Now I am selling to people Nothing sets off an Oriental apartment to better effect, or gives it more color and atmosphere, as you might say, than a decorated mummy case."

I told him I would not object to the "color," but would draw the line at 'atmosphere." He assured that after a few thousand years the mortuary remains become as dry as a London newspaper and as odorless as a congressional investigation.

I followed him into a large back being packed away for shipment to America, while others leaned against the wall in careless attitudes.

which are perched on a high limestone gory and often meant practically the What a grisly reflection! Here was cliff overlooking the city. The mosque same thing, so he continues to speak of a local potentate, let us say Ipekak II. of Hewag-ruler of a province, boss of baster columns, a profusion of gay By the way, when a pious Englishhis party, proud owner of broad fields rugs, stained windows and crystal man over here, say a bishop on vaca1,400 B. C., and was escorted to his chandeliers. We were rhapsodizing tion, wishes to relieve his feelings withrock tomb by all the local secret sociover the interior and were saying it was almost as swell and elegant as the new Claypool Hotel in Indianapolis, when we happened to overhear one of our courrywomen reading aloud from courrywomen reading aloud from the same of the same a very entertaining book on Egypt written thirty years ago by Amelia B. all dams, the biggest dam in the world. begging all future generations to re-Edwards. Miss Edwards allowed that It takes the place of a whole row of gard the premises as sacred.

with the decorations and told the guide we had enough.

On the way out to the parapet to enjoy the really wonderful view of the city and the Nile Valley, with the pyramids lifting themselves dimit from the on airs and has an inside pocket bulgcan figure it off hand. By eliminating the Hoosiers should beat this record. No doubt they will retain their primitive vigor for a longer period, say nine thousand years. If so, the anti-cigarette law will be vindicated.

In front of a cafe in Naples Mr. Peasley became deeply interested in a conversation between two well dress-ed men at a table near ours. At first we thought they will be windicated the wicked little things and knew that the policeman standing a few feet away did not dare to raise his hand against us.

A very clever young American owns of fish will make more noise than whole Amamaker establishment. The most commonplace and everyday form of dialogue calls for fiashing the first of the few things of which most commonplace and everyday form of dialogue calls for fiashing the first of the few things of which they will particulars the Arab is economical and abstemious. He cat's sparingly and cheaply, wears just enough clothing to keep from violating the particulars the Arab is economical and abstemious, He eat's sparingly and cheaply, wears just enough clothing to keep from violating the particulars the Arab is economical and abstemious, He eat's sparingly and cheaply, wears just enough clothing to keep from violating the particulars the Arab is economical and abstemious, He eat's sparingly and cheaply, wears just enough clothing to keep from violating specious representations or boldly association or boldly association will be eat's sparingly and cheaply, wears just enough clothing to keep from violating specious representations or boldly associated to the full value of hours at a time, not know, the takes absolute the particulars the Arab is economical and abstemelous, He eat's sparingly and cheaply, wears just enough clothing to keep from violating specious representations or boldly association or or boldly association or or boldly association or or boldly associated to transfer the full value of his table few farms and the fluctuary of the farms of the first lead of the first lead of the first l saw that there was no real anger exhibited, but that apparently one was describing to the other some very thrilling experience. He waved his arms, struck at imaginary objects, made pinwheel movements with his fingers and carried on generally in a most hysterical manner. Mr. Peasmost hysterical manner most provided it out to a cab. The talk made necessary evil, and in Egypt he is supposed to be a sort of ornamental body guard. We found that we could wander about without being haltered and led, so we spent pleasant hours in the Mouski, which is the native shopping street, and also we went to the race meeting and saw native horses and ponies, carrying 140 to 160 pounds each, saunter around a half-mile generally.

Aimless excursions are the best after ists. There is no hurrah night life, all. It is more fun to drift around a and gambling, which flourished here new town and rub up against the peofor many seasons under the skilful ple than to deliver yourself, body and direction of our countryman, Mr. Pat

The modern streets in Cairo, with

FUNERAL OF THE LATE DEAN PARTRIDGE.

FREDERICTON, N. B., April 20— The funeral of the late Dean Partridge this afternoon was very largely at-tended and the obsequies were most impressive. The remains were conveyed from the deanery at ten o'clock this morning to the Cathedral. Previous to removal a short service conducted by Sub Deacon Street was held at the residence. A number of the clergy were present and with the family accompanled the body to the church. Here eommunion was partaken of, the family and clergy being the only ones present. After the service the casket was opened and up to 2 o'clock large numbers of citizens visited the edifice and viewed the remains. The funeral services began shortly after two with the Cathedral filled. It was a most solthe Cathedral filed. It was a most sol-emn and impressive ceremony, the hymns rendered being favorites of the deceased. After the conclusion of the service the procession formed and pro-ceeded to Springhill where interment was made. His Lordship the Bishop and Sub Dean Street conducted the service at both church and grave. The pallbearers were Archdeacons Neeles and Forsythe, Canons Richardson, Montgomery, Newham and Dean Rev. Horace Dibblee. About twenty of the clergy from different sections of the province were present and preceded the hearse. The chief mourners included the sons and sons-in-law of the de-ceased. The bodies represented in the procession were the Masons, Sons of England and vestry of Christ church. e noral tributes were very fine and numerous.

COUGH LASTED 3 MONTHS. "I was taken with a severe cough which lasted three months, and though I had tried all sorts of medicines they failed to do me any good. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and I was completely cured by two bottles."-Miss Ada O'Brien, Cape Cove, Gaspe

FOOD FOR FLAMES. "Where's the fire?"
"In the next block—it's going to be a big one, too." "How do you know?" "It's in a fireproof building."-Cleveland Leader.

AMBITIOUS.

Phroogie-"If you want to get ahead, why don't you cut down your personal expenses?' Wrounder .- "Because anybody can do that, 'I'm trying to get ahead without cutting down my personal expenses, and let me tell you, old fellow, that's something that requires genius.

-Chicago Tribune. SURE OF THE NAME. There came a ring at the telephone "Hello!" said the voice at the other nd of the wire. "Is this the editor "Yes."

"This is one of your subscribers. I ant to know if you can tell me the first name of the poet laureate of England?"

"You're sure you know his last name, are you?" asked the man at the city "Of course. It's Laureate. But I've forgotten whether his given name is Richard or John."-Chicago Tribune.

GIVE BOTH A CHANCE. "You don't mean to tell me that you have named your baby 'Ananias'?"
"Yessuh," answered Uncle Ben,

"Dat's his name." "But Ananias was the most untruthful man in history." "Dat's de reason. We's gwinter put dat boy in politics. We's been namin' prise to us. We knew that it was go-

WMAT IS A MAMELUKEP

near as I can make out from the way they act that fellow with the goatee is describing some new kind of corpedo hoat. It goes through the water at about thirty miles an hour, having three or four screw propellers. When it comes within striking distance of the enemy-bang! they cut her loose

Endless disputes of a most vivid chartrack while a large number of English acter rage among the donkey boys and peddlers who assemble near the hotels of tea and simulated a polite interest.

One afternoon we wandered into a they find to talk about?" is the ques- market and a man tried to sell me a tion that comes to one every time he camel. Wherever we go, if a man has hears the babel of excited voices. And something he doesn't want he tries to while we are smiling at their childish sell it to me, and sometimes he does the enemy—bang: they cut her loose while we are smiling at their childish sell it to me, and sometimes he does and the projectile goes whizzing to the tantrums they are splitting their sides it. But I refused to take the camel. Sistance there is a big explosion and strange being from the antipodes, the secrete it so as to get it through the everything within a quarter of a mile is blown to flindereens. Now, that's the plot, as near as I can follow it from watchin' that short guy make clothes and rides out to the desert every pore, who keeps himself bundled in unnecessary steady, not literally speaking, but as clothes and rides out to the desert every regards their value. A good terra cotta motions. You listen to them and tell ery day to stand in the baking sun and camel, 55 to 60 hands high and broken

The head waiter listened and then and a heap of rubbish. Truly it all de translated to us as follows:—"He is pends on the point of view. saying to his friend that he slept very to eight tons of cargo, can usually be bought at from $100 to $125. We looked in at the howling dervishes. These devout priests of the Mohammedan persuasion get as much enjoyment out of their religious services as if they were real Christians and lived in the backwoods of America. Like some of our pious countrymen, they seem to think that an exhibition of religious frenzy, is sure proof of a sanctified spirit. As Mr. Peasley put it, they can give our shouters at home eards and spades.

$150. The older ones-spavined, hairless or pigeontoed-can be bought for as low as $50 each. The comm garden camel, trained to fold up like a pocket camera and carry from three

They bend themselves backward and orward in jack-knife attitudes, hoarsely repeating over and over again children 'George Washington' foh years the name of "Allah." They froth at an' it didn't do no good. Now we's the mouth, spin around like tops, gwinter try de other feller."—Washing-shriek like delirious coyotes and usually conclude by falling over in an eliptic convulsion and being carried out on a shutter. A good many tourists enjoy seeing it, but all of us had visited the Chicago Board of Trade, and on the whole the performance seemed rather tame and spiritless. Cairo, as a whole, was a big sur-

ing to be cosmopolitan, but we were not prepared to find it so metropolitan. We had pictured it as one or two semi-European streets hedged in by a $75. Within the last three years perfect specimens of humorist have been offered for as low as $75, and the dealer showed me one for $7.50—probably a tourist.

At Naples, proceeding eastward, one

Cooked to suit him."

"How about all these gymnastics?" asked the surprised Mr. Peasley. "Why does he hop up and down, side step and feint and wiggle his fingers and feint and wiggle his fingers and all that monekey business?"

At Naples, proceeding eastward, one vast area of native quarter. But, un-

THE IS DESCRIBING THE ECO

read to us, so he paused, and, making very indefinite and non-committal ammed Ali killed more than one hundred and fifty mamelukes in one day." The food wouldn't matter. Our fair country woman looked at In Cairo men, women and children smoke. Only the camels and donkeys her brow and then timidly asked, abstain.

stab at it. One evening at dinner we had anchovies as a curtain raiser, and the Egyptians have been addicted to At Naples, pro old gold haze of the desert, Mr. Peas- | verse. If the modern Egyptians follow- and dig them up just as they would ley wished to repay the lady who had ed the ancent method of loading the tomb with supplies for the lately departed they would put in each sarcogesture, said, "Near this very spot Mo- phagus about ten thousand cigarettes and a few gallons of Turkish coffee.

what is a mameluke?"

We thought she had him, but not so. He wasn't even feazed. He replied promptly. "A mameluke is something like a mongoose, only larger."

That is Mr. Deselv's way If he across the counter is the usual pre-That is Mr. Peasley's way. If he across the counter is the usual pre-loesn't know, at least he will make a liminary to driving a bargain.

dig potatoes. The prices vary greatly, somewhat depending upon the state of preservation of the party of the first part and the character of the decorations on the case, but more particularly on account of the title or historical importance of the once lamented. For instance, a Rameses or Ptolemy cannot be touched for less than $1,000. A prince, a trust magnate or a military commander brings $150, the governor of a city or the president of a theological seminary anywhere from $60 to $75. Within the last three years perfect specimens of humorist have been

we need back the Pyramids and the splinx so as to make our visit to them good, but was somewhat annoyed at the cap sheaf of the stay in Cairo. As breakfast time because the egg was not for sightseeing most of the time we cooked to suit him."

(Copyright by P. Time went on for the mountains as s The executive had of his appointmen the matter of dealifell once more into Thus the usual continued to appear Lobo, but although were satisfactory point of view, it come presented any est in the eyes of I certain Mr. George whose fame was en bourses of the t blundered into the the robber chief. Though a natural

he had been born a He early crossed to facilities of trade; 1 and London was, in fact, nothing him but his name a dinary business inst one of the few who equipped in life with account and an exce profitable business, I sink back upon the sink back upon the fered to them by Born rich, at 20 work, and at 35—th he visited Spain—he roll the ball of his so much of the mud wealth that he had the money kings of t Already inclined to over-swarthy, he yet pronounced degree th looks characteristic looks characteristic colonies. It was con that he had never me a bargain or as a periodic world. But his most was said to be the chis maw. Those who declared that, if he had the wealth of the unpocket, with the except dollar note, he werest until he had so that last dollar also. conditions of life, or share of his preponder he could be conceived

he could be conceived fact, he was a gamble curate knowledge, pow his side—a peril to his the most modern kind. Such was the man w val, in a lull in his those to go motoring told one or two friend feeling the strain of h then slipped quietly aw yacht at Vigo. As a he was in the positio who has set a snare a of sight for his quarr it. He had engineered summate completer that human necessity, before had he held so in the destinies of the in the destinies of the absent while his enor tions worked out to the issue was a part of his foresaw a possible ambarrassment when those cerned saw his net close. He resolved to go aw day and leave time to for him. So, having time to his own uses, to await the moment return for his same times. return for his final c

At the pasoda in the night a spoken name ro his moodiness. The ta about to a subject the sierra possessed a pere the doings past or pe "I have heard n this fellow, Meet, with the half-contempt, him "Te

The innkeeper, a thin mountaineer, glanced for at the men gathered in shook his head. The Cuban smiled uni "You have the nerves