Athletes of the Month

Former AUAA MVP, Pauline Lordon, a fourth year Red Bloomer and a defending AUAA wrestling champion, Todd Bursey, have been honored as UNB's Female and Male Athletes-of-the-Month, respectively.

Pauline, 21 from Chatham, NB, was honored this past week as UNB's Female Athlete-of-the-Week. The fourth year Arts student led the Bloomers to two road victories during the weekend of January 27 & 28. On the 27th, Pauline scored 16 points and grabbed 7 rebounds in a 56-41 victory over Acadia. Following that performance, the Red Bloomer captain hooped 26 points and pulled in 12 rebounds in a 57-39 win over Saint Mary's. This outstanding performance followed two weeks of watching practice from the sidelines due to an illness. For her gutsy performance Pauline was honored as the AUAA Female Athlete-of-the-Week. Coach Claire Mitton realized from this performance just how valuable Pauline is to the Bloomers success and says, "that this effort shows just what a true leader she is."

Todd, 22 from Moncton, NB, was honored twice as the athlete-of-the-week, once during December (the only such award) and once in January. During the December week (Nov. 28 - Dec. 4), Todd won the 143 pound class at the University of Maine (Orono) Freestyle Meet by outpointing his opponent 15-0. During the week of January 9-15, Todd travelled to Queen's University and lost in the final of the 134 pound class to a three time Canadian Junior Champion. In preparation for the AUAA's, Todd has shown steady improvement in his technical ability and mat strategy and has led coach George Multamaki to say, "that Todd provides the team
