Cockburn Island Lady Tells How Sh Cured Her Stomach Troubles b Using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

How many people are simply "troubled with their stomachs." They hardly recognize their complaint under the pnetentious title of Dyspensia, but they do know beyond a doubt that they have hours of discomfort and that the stomach is the cause. To those the experience of Mrs. B. S. Rombough, Cockburn Island, Ont. She says:

Generally apeaking, a man likes to be told he is handsome, whether he is or not. He likes to be told he has small feet. This is a tip for wives. There is more virtue in a pair of tight shoes in keeping a man at home in the evening than in all the Ten Command-ments. It pleases a man to be asked for advice. You don't need to take it. Most men have advice to give away and they are always willing to bestow it on women gratis. It pleases a man for a woman to depend on him. This is the reason why many foolish girls can get two husbands apiece, while strong minded women remain eld maids.—Woman's Life.

MISS'GERTRUDE BERG.

n Energetic Worker In the Cause of J. wish Women.

Miss Gertrude Berg of Philadelphia, cretary of the Philadelphia section of the National Council of Jewish Women and one of the charter members of the organization, is an energetic wo man whose name stands as a synonym for the advancement of Jewish women not only in Philadelphia, but throughout America.

With Mrs. S. B. Fleisher Miss Berg brought the Jewish women, who are essentially home loving and not club loving women, into the council, which aims to promote religious, philanthrople and educational interests. To her influence more than to any other is due the fact that the council has become united with the Pennsylvania State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Yet it is not upon the council alone that Miss Berg's time, energy and money have been expended. When the moved to Philadelphia, twelve years ago, from Savannah, Ga., she at once entered into the personal service work conducted by Rev. Dr. Joseph Krauskopf in the foreign quarters of the city and in this way learned for herself the needs of the city. Then she became interested in building up the Young Women's union, whose headquarters are at 428 Bainbridge street. As president of this union Miss Berg at present is more closely associated with its work than of any other organlzation. Ail classes of the people of the slums, from the worst boys brought before the juvenile court to the deli-cate girls whose lives are spent in cigar factories, receive her personal attention and have learned to love her. In the winter she is a frequent visitor at the Kindergarten and Day Nursery

In the summer much of her time is spent at La Grange, the beautiful va-cation home for Jewish working girls maintained by the Young Women's union at Sixty-first street and Kingsessing avenue during July and August Here working girls, without regard to sect, may spend their two weeks' va-cation and receive all the benefits of farm life. One may find Miss Berg at this home at almost any time when it is open entering heartily into the plans for the entertainment of the girls.

Miss Berg is also second vice president of the Home of Delight and secretary of the Ladies of the United Hebrew Charities -- Philadelphia Ledger.

That diet has a very direct and important effect upon the complexion is a fact which few people seem to be aware of or to which, at any rate, they pay very little attention. It has been said that women will do almost everything to attain clear and lovely complexions. A long experience has, how-THIS MEDICINE IS BREATHED.
That's why it is sure to cure Catarrh. You see it goes direct to the source of the disease,—its healing vapor repairs the damage caused by catarrhal inflammation. "Catarrhozone" always cures because it goes into those timy cells and passages that ordinary remedies can't reach goes where the disease actually is. Impossible for "Catarrhozone" to fail as any doctor will tell you. Don't be misted into thinking there is anything as good as Catarrhozone—use complexions or eruptions of various which is made by many is to imagine that wrinkles, sallow skins, "muddy" complexions or eruptions of various kinds can be entirely cured by local applications. This idea is as erroneous as the one held by many people that cosmetic preparations of every kind are injurious. The cosmetic treatment is frequently a very useful and necessary adjunct to internal treatment, and the sweeping condemnation of all creams, ohitments, powders, etc., for the skin indulged in by the so called "antifrivolous" section of society is hased on as much ignorance and want of common sense as is shown by the indiscriminate advocates of enamels, "skin peeling" lotions and other injurious preparations.

In the skin hospitals local applications for the skin affections are very largely used, but dietetic reform is always insisted upon, for undoubtelly a large proportion of eruptive diseases and discolorations which come before skin doctors are due to improper diet and are the result of complete ignotance of the dietetic laws of health.

Laurdry Economy.

All women have not grasped the fact that clothing but little solled, even when more abundant, is easier to launder than that which loudly proclaims its need of soap and water. It lasts soager, too, because it does not require such rough handling. This is the argument used by a young housewife who canninger her tablecloths as often as they

This means that the cloth must remain on the table be-tween meals, a thing ahe does not mind, as the dining room can be shut away, and time and labor are saved, no trifle in consideration of the fact that she does all her own work save the washing, says the Philadelphia Bulthe washing says he frinacepins Bul-letin. The naphins she does herself, save the last batch that goes into the family wash. It is easy to wash and iron these small pieces, even though there are several of them; and the young woman declares that she is more than repaid by the comfort of absolutely fresh nankins at each meal.

A SUCCESSFUL HORSEMAN

Never allows his horse to suffer Never allows his horse to suffer pain. He always uses Nerviline, which is noted for curing stiffness, rheamstism, swellings and strains. Nerviline is just as good inside as outside. For cramps, colic, and internal pain it's a perfect marvel. In'the good racing stables Nerviline is always used,—because it makes better horses and smaller veterinary bills. Twenty-five cents buys a large bottle of Nerviline. Try it.

The Oriole and the Bee Birds, their heads being small, are usually regarded as stupid, but an amateur naturalist has pointed out a proof that the oriole at least is very intelli-gent. Take the oriole's habitat in the gent. Take the orioics habitat in the summer, he said, and all around it you will find the decapitated bodies of bees. The oriole is fend of honey, and he has discovered somehow that the bee cardiscovered somehow that the bee carries honey in a sac. Accordingly he rushes down on the insect, snips off its head, removes its viscera and then swallows the honey that is now laid bare. This shows intelligence on the oriole's part, but I have not yet described the thing which shows the bird's reasoning power most strongly. It is the stingless male white headed bees that the oriole slays. The stingling bee he leaves alone wisely.

Nature has just one pigment on her pallette with which she produces all the marvellous tints of beauty, and that one pigment is the blood. The shell-like pink beneath the finger nails, the delicate nose of the cheek, the cherry ripeness of the they, the irridescent brilliance of the eyes are all produced by the blood. Just as the permanence of a beautiful painting will depend upon the purity of the colors with which it is painted, so the permanence of beauty depends on the parity of the blood. Paint, powder and cosmetics won't avail to preserve beauty. Beauty begins in the blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medial Discovery is a true beautifier, because it provides for nature that pure blood with which alone she can paint. The use of this medicine will cleanse the skin, heighten the complexion, brighten the eyes, and give to face and form that radiance of health which is the greatest charm of beauty. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are very effective in ridding the system of clegging residuum, which accumulates with constipated habit.

How You May Make One From Any Old Wooden Bedstend. An attractive and serviceable settle, An attractive and serviceable settle, one that will be useful either in the house, on the lawn or on a deep porch, can be made from a discarded wooden bedstead, as shown in the illustration. On the plazza it is especially effective as a fine old fashioned settle. To construct one is easy, and any old bedstead will do—the older the better.

The headboard and posts make the back to the settle. The foot posts,
