"A Day's March Nearer Home."

THE old year ends, and old age creeps on, slowly but surely—suggesting reflection. If a married man, past middle age, perhaps, you will think of your marriage vow, to provide for her comfort and happiness as long as she lives, and for your children. You also owe it to yourself as well as to your family to provide against the time of physical weakness, in old age, when your earning capacity fails you. Think of what it means to be sure of an income to the end of life, when statistics prove that 97% of men in later years are wholly or partially dependent upon others.

Here is where Life Insurance providently comes in to secure you against all disabilities and uncertainties. If not amply provided, take stock of your financial position, and plan to take out a policy with "The Continental Life," while in health, that will guarantee you a regular future income while you live, and take care of your family after your death. Other expenses may be postponed or dropped, but this cannot, with safety.

See your nearest Agent of the Company, or write to either of the undersigned at Head Office for full particulars, stating your age at nearest birthday.
