

SUBJECTS FOR DISCUSSION AT THE NEXT ALLIED ECONOMIC MEETING

Paris, July 21.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The series of international conferences between the Allies are to be continued, according to the present programme with a discussion at the next session of the following subjects:

1. "Prohibition of commerce with the enemy."
2. "Execution of contracts."
3. "Collection of debts in enemies' territory."
4. "Sequestration of enemies' goods."
5. "Patents and trade marks."
6. "Prohibitions of importations and exportations."
7. "Organization of the economic struggle after the war, involving customs agreements between allies, supervision of naturalization, and so forth."

This next conference is to be inter-parliamentary, the delegates being from the parliaments of the different countries.

In addition to this continuation of inter-parliamentary discussion, a maritime conference with delegates from each of the Entente Powers will be held in Paris in December to discuss the basis of an understanding between the Allies on questions concerning the merchant marine.

Austrian Official

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Berlin, July 21.—(By Sayville wireless)—Hurling stones down the mountain sides, the Austrians repulsed three strong Italian attacks near Borcola Pass, the official statement issued at Vienna reports. The announcement follows:

"After heavy artillery preparation strong Italian forces attacked three times our positions south and east of Borcola pass. They were repulsed with hand grenades, machine guns and avalanches of stones."

"There was heavy artillery fighting. At Fella Rabler we captured a machine gun. Tarvis was shelled by the enemy."

FIREMEN'S BRAVERY

WILL BE REWARDED

Chatham, July 21.—Following the heroic attempt of Ross Gordon, fireman on the steamer Ossifrage to rescue Willie Edmondson from drowning, steps are being taken to have the young man rewarded. A fund has been started by a local newspaper and similar action is planned by the Sunday schools of Christ and Holy Trinity churches, under whose auspices the excursion was held to Detroit. The matter will likely be brought to the attention of the Royal Humane Society. Willie Edmondson fell from the deck of the steamer. The fireman succeeded in reaching the boy, but his efforts had so tired him that he was unable to save him. The swimmer was hauled into a boat in an unconscious condition.

NEW LEADER STATES POSITION

Declares Hungary Will Defend Herself Against Enemy's Attacks.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Berlin, July 21.—Via wireless to Sayville—Count Michael Karolyi, member of the Hungarian lower House of Parliament, has been made president of a new independent party. In his opening speech, according to the Overseas News Agency he said:

"In order to avoid misunderstandings it is necessary to emphasize the fact that there are no differences of opinion in Hungary as to our sole duty, which is to defend the country without discussing reasons, inasmuch as it was attacked by the enemy."

"It was reported from Budapest on July 16, that Count Karolyi had resigned from the Hungarian independent party and would form a new party which would demand immediate peace between Hungary and its enemies with or without the consent of Germany and Austria."

COOP AND LENT'S CIRCUS

Rich in reminiscence, connecting the latest and most modern of exhibitions with Circus history of by-gone days, combining two generations of ripened experience gained in the conduct of Circuses throughout the civilized world, Messrs. Coop and Lent representing the present generation of these names present the United Monster Shows now on their introductory tour and announced to appear afternoon and night in Brantford on Tuesday, July 25th.

The corner stone of these wonderful shows can be said to have been laid as long ago as 1844, when J. S. Lent launched the first steamboat show under the title of "Brown and Lent" plying the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers. He then organized "Sands and Lent's American Circus" which he exhibited throughout Europe.

1852 saw Lent's Circus touring the Atlantic States. 1872 he established the first permanent Circus in New York City, exhibiting in an iron Amphitheatre.

In 1874 the original "Coop Show" was founded by W. T. Coop and was entitled "Coop's New Monster Show." He toured the Eastern and middle western States, the directing head of the largest tented enterprises of the '80's. A few years later these two notable exhibitions joined forces and the original "Coop and Lent's" United Monster Shows, toured in America. Coop in the meantime continued touring with his Circus in every civilized part of the world and within a short time after his return home to America late in 1914, the old partnership was renewed and work begun in assembling the present Coop and Lent All New United Monster Shows, for 1916.

133rd Men Writing Home Say Camp Borden Was Well Chosen.

(From our own correspondent.) Since, July 20.—Word received today from the 133rd men of the 133rd gives assurance that there is no ground for any kick about Borden Camp, so far as the camp is concerned. Any complaints made are made by fellows blowing the white feather, or have a personal object for so doing. If any complain of the rations, one may be sure that they are much better than he expected. Apart from the dust these men protest that there should be no kick coming regarding the camp.

Miss Hand. Lt. Col. Alken came in this evening. Along with him were Corp. McLachlan, from the canteen, and Sgt. Glenn. Since would welcome John Sutton and the band any old evening. Arthur Chadwick motored from Wheatly, Ind., 450 miles, with Mrs. Chadwick and family, to visit for a fortnight with Mr. C's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Chadwick, Head street.

Summering at Port Ryerson. Every available Cottage at Port Ryerson is now occupied, and there are guests at the Inn. Among those now in residence there are: Mr. W. A. Skinner and family, Mr. R. E. Gunton and family, Mr. J. Pennington and family, Mrs. Woodard and son, Mr. West and family, Mr. Harry Johnston, of Simcoe, J. W. Peachy of Brantford, Malcolm McCall and Mr. Wilson of Victoria with their families.

Prices High. The price of butter, eggs, sugar and meat in Simcoe puts the town on a par with the big city as to cost of living. Sugar was $9.50 a few days ago in town, and $8.50 at Windham Centre. Fresh eggs are 23 to 30c, and dairy butter 28 to 32c. The raspberry crop need rain badly, or the supply will be short. Fall wheat threshing may begin next week, as many fields are already in the stack.

Electric Power All the Way. The Brantford excursion train to Dover to-day was taken down from here by steam, but on the return trip was pulled by Hydro. This was the first train to go through by electric power. The converter here was set in motion yesterday. Dover expects regular traffic for Saturday.

RED CROSS FUND. Women's Patriotic League—Red Cross boxes are now in their usual places and subscribers who have not completed their amount promised, of the first half of this year, would kindly do so, by Tuesday, July 26th, so that a statement may be issued. Subscribers wishing to know how they stand, telephone 395.

CHOCOLATE-TOWN

The whole truth of it was that Nelson disobeyed his mother and ate so much of the chocolate and he ate so much that the Chocolate Brownie came at dead of night when all the world was asleep and hustled him off to Chocolate Town. He wore a chocolate cream for a hat—he was smoking a chocolate cigar and seemed, as far as Nelson could see, to wear no clothes. Oh, dear, he'd been dipped in melted chocolate.

Well, sir, that Brownie hurried Nelson over a brook of chocolate and there wasn't any bridge—only rocks that jutted out in crazy lumps. Nelson saw there were chocolate peanuts and he was so surprised he ate one to make sure, lost his footing and fell into the chocolate brook; and when he came out he was coated with chocolate from head to foot like the Brownie.

A wild land they travelled on the way to Chocolate Town in dreadful mountains and icebergs. Nelson, nearly frozen, waded over the mountains through drifts of chocolate ice cream and fell and slid again and again along the icebergs of chocolate butter-scotch, bumping himself pretty badly. But he ate a little of everything he touched. That was the kind of boy Nelson was.

By and by he came with the Brownie to Chocolate Town, a queer enough city with chocolate cream towers, candy windows and a lake in the centre made of a chocolate cream pie. The pie crust banks looked pretty crumbly.

Now the Brownie, always hurrying him onward, took him into a chocolate castle and all that night poor Nelson had to play checkers with chocolate peppermints until in a drowsy minute he ate one or two and the Brownie threw him out of the window.

Outside it was raining cocoa. Nelson fell into a puddle of chocolate mud and came out looking pretty bad. But he felt so hungry he ate a caramel window in the castle and then a tower of chocolate cream and a little of the pie-crust bank of the lake. Then as the Brownie seemed to be sending in an alarm for the soldiers to turn out and capture him, Nelson ran as fast as he could out of Chocolate Town.

But alas! Nelson went the wrong way. How could he know that Chocolate Town ended on that side at a cliff that seemed to be a giant wedge of chocolate cake with a foaming waterfall of chocolate soda just beyond? Nelson tumbled over the cliff into the waterfall, shot down and down and down, plunging at last into a swamp of chocolate jelly.

Now Nelson had eaten so much that he was heavier than lead. He sank and he sank and then he must have fainted from fright. If it hadn't been for a good butterfly fairy with chocolate colored wings, Nelson's mother would never have seen him.

So his mother did see him with chocolate on his clothes and on his face and chocolate a-plenty in his stomach—but Nelson never spoke about the Brownie.

He knew if he'd been obedient and hadn't eaten so much chocolate in the first place, the Brownie could never have led him off to Chocolate Town.
