The Mission Sunday School is filling a long felt want at the Junction, and its good work is deservedly recognized by the other churches in town. Last evening was the 3rd annual gathering, when upwards of 1000 people were in attendance, which must have been very encouraging to the workers, to see their efforts concheerfully appreciated by well wishers from all parts of the town. Mayor Robinson made a splendid chairman, and assisted materially in making a real jolly evening. THE FUEL SITUATION ...

Present Difficulties Attributed to a Number of Causes---An Important Statement

THE following statement is sent out by Mr. A. D. MacTier, General Manager of the C. P. R.:

It is realized in most quarters, some more than others, that this country is face to face with a coal shortage of very alarming proportions, and that by next winter, if conditions under which fuel may be obtained do not alter in the meantime, a great many industrial concerns and householders will be unable to supply themselves with sufficient coal to carry them through the severe weather.

Tecefved per day of 1.68. They are consigned to three organizations who have the facilities for unloading a large number of cars each day. These fifty-two cars have been out of service a total of 1029 car days. Coal cars that are not held for storage purposes as these cars are, average at least fifty miles per car per day. Had the fifty-two cars been unloaded promptly they would have, by this lime, travelled 51,450 miles. The distance from the point where they are now located to the coal mining territory is approximately four hunicerns and householders will be unshe to supply themselves with sufficient coal to carry them through the severe weather.

The present and prospective difficulties in the way of bringing coal into Eastern Canada may be attributed to a number of causes, principal amongst which are dearth of mining labor and shortage of coal carrying equipment at the mines. The situation in some of the mining territories at the present time, is that, even with the labor shortage, mine operators are able to turn out coal at a greater rate than they can obtain cars to carry it away. It, therefore, naturally follows, that more coal can be brought into Canada if the cars supply is increased.

Unfortunately, it is out of the question to obtain any number of new cars at this time, and the situation can be met only by obtaining more service from the present rolling stock. To do this cars must be moved promptly between the mines and destination, and must be un'eaded as soon as they reach consignees.

Railways must have coal in order to discharge their obligations to the country, and for their own preservation, as well as for the benefit of their patrons, they are putting forth their utmost efforts to minimize delay to cars while en route to and from the rines.

All efforts in this direction, however, will be of little avail without the whole-hearted cooperation of the man who unloads the coal and releases the car after it gets to fits destination. Some consignees, who are helping to create a coal shortage by keeping cars away from the mines.
