LONG ARGUMENT

Case Then Continued Until Next Session of Court

After arguing nearly two days on a motion to admit new evidence made by the appellants in the case of Raymond vs. Faulkner, the appeal has been continued until the next term of court in July. The court reserved judgment on the motion. Yesterday arguments were begun in the case of Rex vs. Calderhead which is still on today. It is an appeal from the judgment of Mr. Justice Macaulay which at the hearing was decided in favor of the plaintiff, Calderhead being the appellant in the present review. It concerns a shipment of hay purchased by the defendant from the plaintiff at Whitehorse. The suit was the result of a disagreement as to the terms agreed upon in the sale, one including the price quoted was F.O.B. Whitehorse and the other that it was F.O.B. Dawson. The sittings of the court will last all week and possibly a portion of next.

Men of the Day

It appears, according to The London Star, that Sir Thomas Salter has offered himself as the loyalist candidate for the vacancy at Gadwyne, caused by the conviction of Charles Lynch, in opposition to Mr. Deane, the elected Nationalist candidate. Sir Thomas, the Star says, is an interesting man who was for some years engineer-in-chief to the late Ameer of Afghanistan, for whom he organized a complete modern arsenal and factory and arms and ammunition at Cabul. He was here at Roundell in 1869, served a regular apprenticeship to mechanical engineering with the great Birmingham firm of Tangyess, and by grit and energy rose to positions of responsibility. Then he went out as engineer to a factory in India, and when the Ameer wanted a skilled practical engineer to establish his workshops, Mr. Pyne was selected for the post. He was Ambassador to the Ameer to the Viceroy of India in 1883, and at the satisfactory close of the negotiations was rewarded with the C. S. I. and K. B. in recognition of loyalty and ability displayed under exceptional circumstances. He was in fact, though not named, a very zealous British Minister at the Court of the Ameer.

Mr. Gettler—Such impudence! Here's Sister Matilda proposing to come here with a long visit. Mr. G.—But you spent half last winter at her home in the country, and you had four children and a house. Mr. G.—A different thing altogether. She has no servants, but she knows perfectly well that we have money and that every one of them will get mad and leave if the family is increased.—New York

Jimmie Hoge Will do a Land-Office Business Throughout Alaska

Special to the Daily Nugget. Seattle, April 22.—James Hoge, Jr., president of the First National Bank of Seattle, says he expects this summer to open the bank of Alaska at Nome. Branches will be started at Circle and Valdez.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Notice of appeal has been filed in the case of Isaac Lusk vs. Wm. J. Chance in which judgment was recently rendered in the gold commissioner's court.

There was quite a rush this morning for several claims on Gold Hill. They were principally on the lower tiers and it is thought were mostly wanted for dumping grounds.

At present indications there seems to be little doubt but that there will be good skating at the rink on May 1. Last night those in attendance state the ice was never in better condition.

R. C. Cooke, the florist in the Auditorium, is exhibiting some beautiful blossoms which have just burst from the bud at the conservatory on Eighth avenue. His display of flowers this year will far exceed any in Dawson.

Still another addition has been made to the population of the city, the Civil Service being the gainer in this instance. Yesterday morning Mrs. Wm. Povah presented her husband with a tiny daughter to comfort his declining years. Mr. Povah is an attaché of the crown timber and land office and strange to say was this morning able to take dictation.

Meets With Accident

Garfield, April 1.—J. L. Lawrence, of the Bank of Garfield, met with a serious accident while driving a span of colts, hitched to a buggy. The singletree broke, letting the pole fall to the ground. Simultaneously the colts became unmanageable, and finding he could not hold them, Mr. Lawrence jumped from the buggy. As he struck the ground the ankle of his left foot was broken in two places. Mr. Lawrence was carried home at once and Drs. Dix and Widby were called in. The physicians say that Mr. Lawrence will be confined to his room for several weeks.

Is Under Arrest.

Atlanta, Ga., March 4.—G. Hallman Sims, collection clerk for the Capital City National bank, has been placed under arrest by United States Deputy Marshal Scott, upon a warrant sworn out by President Speer, of the bank, charging him with embezzling $94,000.

The first suspicion of shortage in Sims' accounts arose yesterday. Expert accountants immediately began working on the books, and it was disclosed that large sums had been abstracted at various times, extending back several years. The warrant was then sworn out by the president of the bank.

Sims has been in the service of the bank for eight years, and was regarded as one of the most reliable employees. He moved in the most exclusive circles of Atlanta society, and was popular as a young man of fashion.

A portion of the defalcation is covered by Sims' bond, and he also owns some property, which will be turned over to the bank.

Sims has admitted his guilt. Eastman Kodaks, $10 each. Just over the ice—at Goetzman's, 128 Second avenue.

Steamers Booking Passengers and Making Ready for Extensive Business—First Mail Steamer Will Not Leave Until June 1—Government Takes no Unnecessary Chances

Special to the Daily Nugget. Seattle, April 22.—Applications for berths on the steamer Portland, which will be the first passenger steamer for Nome, are pouring into the office of the Alaska Commercial Co. Three men are being sent to the Council City district by the De Sota placer mining company. They are A. V. Dedrick, one of the company's superintendents, Capt. J. B. Marsh and Harry Roberts. Capt. Marsh goes to command the company's river steamer Aurora, which has been in winter quarters near White Mountain. Mr. Roberts, chief engineer, is also going. They meet the steamer Jeanie which is under charter to the De Sota Company at Golovin Bay. The sailing date of the Portland is May 17. Capt. Charles H. Lindquist, the present master, has been promoted to the command of the Alaska Commercial Company's steamship—St. Paul—which will sail from San Francisco direct to Nome. Capt. J. E. Hansen, Alaska manager of the Northern Company, will go north as master of the Portland, giving up the command on arrival at Nome. The first steamer with mail for Nome will not leave until about June 1. The government is disposed to take no chances on early vessels. The department holds that little time is gained and there is always a chance, as with the Portland and Jeanie last year, of early vessels being carried into the Arctic or lost altogether.

A LIBERAL PRESS RATE

Uncle Sam Will Encourage Dissemination of News in the North

Special to the Daily Nugget. Seattle, April 22.—When the new commercial tariff for messages sent over the Alaska military telegraph line goes into effect, May 1, the war department will establish a special rate for press messages, probably about one-third of the commercial rate. This is intended to encourage the dissemination of news in Alaska.

Special to the Daily Nugget. London, Ont., April 22.—Judge Duncan McMillan of Haldimand county died at the age of 67 years.

Stage Inmates Killed

Los Angeles, Cal., March 13.—A despatch from Tucson, Ariz., to The Herald says—Mexican bandits held up the stage which runs between Pottam and Torino, on the Yaqui river, in Sonora, last Tuesday night, killing all of the six passengers. Among them was Filiberto Alverado, a wealthy Mexican, who owns a number of ranches along the Yaqui river. The authorities at Guaymas were at once notified that Alverado and his wife had taken the stage from Pottam to Torino, and the bandits no doubt thought he carried a large sum of money with him. The stage carries very little mail and rarely any money or valuables, so that Alverado must have been the mark for the bandits. The hold-up took place about half way between the two towns, but just how the stage was attacked will never be known, as all of the passengers and the driver were killed. They were picked up on the afternoon of the tragedy, and the circumstances give evidence that they put up a fight, else they would not have all been killed. Their bodies were riddled with everything of value on them. The traces had been cut and the horses had been allowed to run wild. The cover of the stage and the body were both shot full of holes.

It is thought by the Guaymas authorities that the perpetrators of the deed were some of the bandits who have taken refuge in the mountains back of the Yaqui river and were expecting Alverado. Friends of the murdered rancher say that he had little money with him at the time. Alverado had been married only two months. With him were Senorita Julia Bardo, and Senorita C. H. Gonzales, both of prominent families, and both of whom were murdered.

Merchant Returns

Trenton, N. J., March 26.—Articles of merger were filed in the office of the secretary of state merging the American Steel Hoop Co., National Steel Co. and the Carnegie Company. The merger corporation is to be known as the National Steel Company, with a capitalization of $63,000,000. The combined capital of the old companies amounted to $252,000,000. By this merger the new corporation will save over $7,000 each year in fees paid to the state of New Jersey.

The Mail

A White Pass stage with 281 pounds of first-class mail and 8 passengers will arrive about 7 o'clock this evening. The next out-going mail will leave Dawson Monday next.

CHANGES CONDEMNED

Atlin Miners Take Vigorous Action

Hold Mass Meeting Upon Learning of Resolution of Mining Association

Special to the Daily Nugget. Vancouver, April 22.—Atlin constituents have wired to Jas. Stables, M.L.A., a message to the effect that at a recently held mass meeting, a resolution was unanimously passed strongly condemning the recommendations of the sub-committee of the mining association of British Columbia in connection with proposed changes in the mining laws. The placer mining act and particularly the section referring to the crown granting claims is the burning question in Atlin. The camp is in an uproar and will obstruct the measure in every way possible.

OLD MAPS

Found at Quebec Showing Alaska Under Union Jack

Montreal, March 19.—Mr. Joseph Pope, C.M.G., Under-Secretary of State, has been searching for the past few days among the archives of the Chateau de Ramezay in this city, for material to prove the Canadian contention in the Alaskan boundary dispute. As a result of his search, a couple of old atlases, published in the years 1833 and 1824, were found. These contain maps showing the location of the boundary line between Russian America, as Alaska was then called, and British America, as Canada was then known. A point worthy of note in connection with these maps is that Lynn canal is shown as being in British America. This canal is at present claimed by the United States government as a portion of Alaskan territory. The boundary line between the two countries is well defined in the maps, which have been taken to Ottawa for further scrutiny on the part of those supervising the Canadian claims. Another map, dated 1860, was also found, giving the boundaries of Alaska seven years before it passed into the hands of the United States. Mr. Pope obtained permission from the Chateau authorities to take these documents to Ottawa, where the maps will be photographed. They may be of service to the Canadian commissioners in the coming conference with the United States.

Advocating and adhering in practice in questions concerning itself to the respect to international arbitration in settlements of controversies not adjustable by the ordinary methods of diplomatic negotiation, the government of the United States would always be glad to see the questions of the justice of claims by one state against another growing out of individual wrongs or national obligations as well as the guarantees for the execution of whatever award may be made, left to the decision of an impartial arbitration tribunal, before which the litigant nations, weak and strong alike, may stand as equals in the eye of international law and mutual duty.

Upgradation.—On the strength of your recommendation I lent Tilcombe $5 the other day, and now I find he's a confirmed deadbeat that never pays his debts. You told me he was a man of established reputation.

Arctic Explorers Have New Scheme

Will Now Endeavor to Reach South Pole—Committee's Suggestion

Special to the Daily Nugget. Paris, April 22.—Dr. Jean Charest, on the suggestion of the committee of patronage for his proposed polar expedition, has decided to change his plans and instead of exploring the Arctic ocean intends to proceed to the Antarctic.

Had a Pull

Hon. W. C. Edwards of Ottawa, one of the newly appointed senators, is a lumberman who operated far up the Gatineau river, and he tells this story of a shantymen who had spent a couple of seasons working for him in the bush, and was coming out again shortly after the death of Queen Victoria.

At Maniwaki the shantymen made his first stop on the way down, and in a chat with the hotelkeeper asked what was the news since he had gone to the woods.

"Oh, there's nothing much new I suppose you heard up there that the queen was dead?"

"No, you don't tote me de queen was dead. I'm sorry I hear dat, I'm sorry. She was a good woman, de queen, an' a good queen, too. Well, we'll all de some tam, even de queen."

After a short, respectful pause, he asked, "An' who's got de job now?"

Who's de head now?"

"Oh, Edwards' de king now. It's King Edwards for the last three months."

"Edwards' de king? Well, well, you don't tote me Edwards' de king? He's a beg man in de lumber business, but I never expect to hear of him be de king? What a pull dat man Edwards must have wit Laurie!"—Toronto Globe.

Honesty in Perfection. A good story about F. Pierpont Morgan has just come to light.

At the notable dinner that P. A. B. Widener gave to Mr. Morgan last winter in Philadelphia, it happened by some unfortunate oversight that the guest of honor had no oyster fork in commenting good-naturedly on this accident, Mr. Morgan said:

"I am reminded of an anecdote my father used to tell about a certain Mrs. Murphy. Mrs. Murphy, it seems, was dining out, and had no salt spoon. The hostess called her butler's attention to this fact.

"William," she said, Mrs. Murphy has no salt spoon.

"Madam," William answered gravely, "the last time Mrs. Murphy dined here, we lost a salt spoon."—New York Mail and Express.

PROTEST FILED

Well Known Actress Named as a Co-Defendant.

John Blount has filed a protest against J. W. Boyle and Florence Broeze over the title to the lower half of 10 above discovery on Gold Bottom. Blount alleges that he is a free miner living in Dawson and that from November 17, 1901, to the same date 1902, the defendants held a placer grant to 10 above on Gold Bottom. On February 17 he claims all their right and title ceased and the claim on that date became vacant Dominion ground. March 18 he staked the lower half of the claim, applied for record and tendered the required fee. On April 15 a renewal grant was issued to the whole claim to the defendants. Blount claims the ground was vacant when he staked it and demands judgment declaring the renewal grant void. He also asks that an order issue to the mining recorder to issue to him a grant to the lower half of the claim, and for the costs that he has been put to in bringing the present action.

The secretary of the meeting announced that 20,000 farm laborers had joined the party. Senor Salmeron, in a speech, declared his intention to begin the work of establishing a republic in Spain immediately. The meeting was followed by a great Republican demonstration.

Finance Minister Villaverde has resigned. There have been discussions within the cabinet over the budget for some time past. Both the war and marine ministers insisted, on important increases in the credits for their services to which the finance minister was opposed. Senor Rodriguez Sah Pedro, a Conservative and a lawyer, has been appointed to succeed Villaverde.
