

AGRICULTURAL COMMISSION IN GLOUCESTER COUNTY

A few farmers gathered at the Temperance Hall, Stonehaven, to meet the Agricultural Commissioners on Monday afternoon. As the day was fine and nearly everyone was busy with their grain harvest the attendance was not large. N. R. Ritchie presided, and among others present were Howard Good, Horace Hornbrook, Edward Jennings, Wallace Dailey, Gordon Reed, Isaac Chamberlain, and some ladies. No vacant farms were known to exist in the district. There was some land available for settlement back from the shore and the construction of a road from Canobie Settlement to the Black Rock Settlement was urged. Howard Good thought the back country was rather frosty for profitable farming, others present, however, pointed out that the settlers already there were raising good crops. The Agricultural Society of this district has made an especially good record in impugning stock, devoting all their funds to this purpose. The result was that there was some very good young stock now in the district. The pastures at the rear of the present farms were good and stock did well on the commons. The Society only had fifty members and did the best they could. Some years ago it devoted the holding of an annual exhibition to devote all its attention to stock improvement, and there was unanimous opinion that a larger grant could be given to the Society if it would be of great benefit to the district. Sheep were found a very profitable stock, although sometimes dogs were destructive. It was the opinion of the meeting that the government should take some action in regard to the better protection of sheep from dogs. Leicester was the breed preferred and some rams were urgently needed at the present time. The market for farm produce, outside of butter, was good, and it was thought that if a cream-gathering factory could be established at Bathurst a considerable amount of cream could be shipped there. There was need also of more pure bred heavy stallions in the district, and some good heavy fillies could be brought in they would find ready purchasers. Fruit raising was not carried on to any extent; apple trees needed a shelter and when given proper attention did very well. The Illustration Orchard, planted about a mile back from the shore, about two years ago, was doing very well. No fertilizers were imported in the district, most of the farmers adding to their manure supply by gathering sea weed, herring spawn, and herring.

THE GRAND ANSE MEETING.

There was a large gathering of farmers in the Church Hall at Grand Anse to meet the Commission. Rev. Fr. Doucet presided. Hon. Dr. Landry spoke at some length in French and there was an animated discussion upon the various questions which were brought up. With the exception of potatoes and oats, this district only raised enough produce to supply its own needs, as since labour had got high farming operations had been considerably restricted. The need of a potato market was impressed upon the Commission. Up till two years ago J. W. Dumas had conducted a starch factory. He had, however, to cease operations on account of the small supply of potatoes and the low price of starch. The market, however, had improved a little and he now thought that if he could be assured of 10,000 barrels of potatoes, he could open his factory and pay 50 cents per barrel for potatoes as they came from the field. He thought that this price was as good as 70 cents per barrel for marketable potatoes. Several of the farmers said that they could not produce potatoes at a profit for 50 cents, but that had they a steady market at 70 cents for marketable potatoes they would largely increase the business. It was pointed out by Commissioner Hubbard that with the help of improved machinery potatoes could now be produced much more cheaply than formerly. Hand labor, except for picking up, could now be dispensed with. So far as reaching the western markets was concerned it was felt by the meeting that the extra freight over the Caranquet Railway placed the shippers at a serious disadvantage compared with those along the line of the I. C. R. The Agricultural Society had not lately been active but by almost unanimous resolution of the meeting it was determined to reorganize the Society and put it upon a good footing.

Farmers Institute Work.

The meeting was divided as to the desirability of abandoning the Farmers' Institute work, some maintaining that the addresses of well-qualified instructors were of great benefit, others claimed that if the money that this service cost was given to the societies it would be of greater good to the district. A. J. H. Stewart here, as well as at the previous meetings, urged the farmers to get their Agricultural Society on a good footing, and to hold meetings at least once a month for the discussion of their business, and instructing their secretary to submit the result of these discussions and any consideration the Society needed to the Department of Agriculture at Fredericton. He felt the Department could not know the needs of the people unless they received information from time to time and he was sure that those societies which showed the most interest and were most willing to help themselves would necessarily receive the most consideration from the Department. At all the meetings votes of thanks were unanimously passed to the members of the Commission and much satisfaction expressed by the French-speaking people that one of their number had been chosen to preside over the important Department of Agriculture. The Commissioners expressed themselves as much impressed with the agricultural capabilities of Gloucester County and look for a large development in its agricultural production in the near future.

Unquestionably a Force To Be Reckoned With In the Public Life.

(From the Toronto Globe, Feb 1, '02)

"Rich men as a rule, do not voluntarily come out from the seclusion of their clubs to enter the storm and stress of public life with the definite objective of becoming a recognized force, either in municipal or national politics.

The rich men who are in public life today have nearly all entered reluctantly at the behest of party politics. Mr. Herbert B. Ames, M. P. for the St. Antoine division of Montreal, is a conspicuous exception to the rule. He has, of his own free will, forsaken decidedly busy. But he has for years of the rich for the glaring limelight of the politician.

First, because he has the virtue of being ambitious, and second because he believes he can be of service to the public.

As a young man he inherited an ample fortune from his father, who was the head of the Ames, Holden Co. of Montreal. His business interests have been all along sufficient to keep him decidedly busy. But he has for a major portion of his time and energy to public life.

He began with that most thankless of tasks, the reforming of municipal politics. In order to become an ally of the French language thoroughly, going to France for that purpose. In 1898 he was elected to the council and with Mayor Laporte, conducted a vigorous campaign for the cleaning up of the municipal government of Montreal.

His work brought him many enemies, but it was undoubtedly effective. After serving three years in the council he turned his attention to federal politics. The manner in which he organized his forces in the electoral riding which he now represents, and the elaborate detail with which every part of the campaign was worked out now serve as a model to political organizations. It was the campaign of a business man working on clean business principles, and it resulted in a conspicuous victory.

Coming to the federal house in 1901 Mr. Ames has, as might be expected, been one of the most painstaking and diligent members among the ranks of the opposition.

He believes in hard work and a definite objective.

His special objective so far has been to make himself chief opposition critic of the interior department.

The alleged scandals connected with western lands, etc., which have been ventilated in the commons during the past two sessions, have emanated from Mr. Ames' microscopic scrutiny of every departmental action.

In like manner he has undertaken lengthy journeys in Canada during recent summers for the purpose of personally inspecting public works under construction. His present PROMINENCE IN THE COMMONS, as the mover of the long debated resolution calling on the government to acknowledge the absolute right of any member of the house to personally examine any public records in the departmental files is the result of his unique activity in looking after the department of the opposition's work to which he has been assigned.

He is unquestionably a force to be reckoned with in the public life of Canada.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and herbs in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, and strengthening agent. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its early stages. It will cure very severe obstinate, hang-over chronic coughs, bronchitis and throat troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-over coughs, or those standing even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon indigestion, disordered stomach, especially if it is a secretion of catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach) consumption, efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.
