Tr. waterworks officials say it will not be necessary to uphol the sand sucker to repair it. The leak has been discovered and plugged and the work of repair can be hustled along.

Ald. Allen was at the City Hall this morning with fire in his eye. He was down at the Beach on Saturday and was disgusted to find that nothing had been done in the way of repairing the sand-sucker except the ironwork. Ald. Allen intimated that there was going to be one big row unless City Engineer Barrow decided the contractors along. Mr. Barrow was at the Beach to-day and at the City Hall it was reported that all the contractors were at work.

Hon. J. S. Hendrie has notified Secretary R. H. Foster of the Board of Education that Premier Whitney will receive the Board's special committee re technical school this week, at Toronto, and arrangements are being made to go on Wednesday. When interviewed before the best that the deputing could ever get was the promise that "Hamilton would suffer no injustice." Hamilton has suffered a monstrous injustice at the hands of the Tory Government.

Toronto and the Board of Education has gone on record as so declaring. Whitney has made no move, as far as can be learned to give this city the slightest return for robbing it of the Ontario Normal College to boost Toronto.

It is high time he showed some sign of making good his promise. To stir the Government up the Board appointed the strongest Tory committee it could get out of the Tory Board. The committee includes Messrs. Wm. Bell, J. Orr Callaghan, J. W. Lamoreaux, Geo. Armstrong, Dr. Carr, J. E. Wodell, Geo. R. Allen, W. J. Grant and Alfred Ward.

CONSUMPTION—ITS CURE. For every dollar spent on the cure of this disease ten ought to be spent along the line of prevention, if the statement made by England's greatest physician be true. He said "ninety consumptive cases out of ten could be prevented if proper attention had been given to developing the chest and lungs."

Mr. Barton, at his lecture on health, strength and longevity, in Y. M. C. A. Hall, next Thursday and Friday, November 7 and 8, will illustrate how weak lungs can be made strong; also proper way to breathe and many other helpful hints on scientific training of the body. Reserved seat plan now open at Nordheim's, King street west.

The Clothing Business is Peculiar. Advances in prices are well known, however, because of our relation with certain of the best manufacturers, who give us first opportunities to secure special lines, we are able to make attractive price reductions on goods which are in demand. Boys' overcoats at $3.50. Men's overcoats $12.00. From where we get these look dollars better than any where else.—Fralick & Co., 13 and 15 James street north.

A good many professions of religion are set up on the theory that people believe in them rather than their eyes.

SKATING RACE.

The match race between Elmer Hawkes and G. Riggs, to take place on Thursday evening at the Alexandra rink, is creating a good deal of excitement among their many friends, as both young men are training hard for the contest, and each seems determined to win.

The winner is likely to be challenged by some of the other fast boys, and also by one of Toronto's fastest skaters. They both wish to uphold the honor of Hamilton, if the match is arranged.

D., at the earliest possible moment, the command led by Des Moines last night, Col. Frank West, of the Second Cavalry, will command the expedition. He is an old time Indian fighter.

Y. says: Fire which broke out in the Olmstead Excelsior Works at Washburn and Exchange streets early to-day resulted in the destruction of that building, the five-story mills of the Franklin Milling Co., across the street. FINDING ONE'S WAY IN CHINA.

It is no easy matter to find one's way about in China, even if one knows the language. So, at least, says W. J. Garnett, the third secretary of the British Legation at Peking, who returned a little while ago from a journey through the Provinces of Shantung and Kiangsu.

There are, he says, villages every few miles, but the inhabitants seem very ignorant of the places in their own neighborhood.

As a sample of the conversation that took place when he asked the way from one village to another he records the following: "Is this the way to Tsouhsien?"

"Are you going to Tsouhsien?" "Is this the way?" "Oh, you are going to Tsouhsien, are you? Where do you come from?" "From Chingchow. Please is this the way to Tsouhsien?" "Oh, you've come from Chingchow, have you? Are you going into the city walls of Tsouhsien?" Finally the native would admit that he did not know the way to Tsouhsien.

At the entrance to another village an ancient villager was asked what the name of the place was. After asking in turn who Mr. Garnett was, where he had come from, where he was going and why he wanted an inn, he considered the patient inquirer, and finally closed the conversation by saying, "How should I know? I am not a learned man."—Manchester Guardian.

London Without Butterflies.

Scarcely a butterfly has been seen in London this summer, and even in their favorite resorts, such as the New Forest, there is complaint of great dearth of all the finer sorts. The reason is the more conspicuous since our trees have been devastated by caterpillars.

So far as London is concerned the reason can be stated. The authorities have recently made great efforts to fill the parks with admirals and marbled whites, but for some reason nearly all the chrysalides (and there were many) were found eaten out by a small parasite.

When first the experiment was made in Battersea Park some years ago not one survived, and the same parasite seems this year to have been busy in country places.

The result of it is that the rarer and more splendid sorts suffer most. Cabbage whites, common blues, meadow browns and heaths are always common enough, but of the red admiral—splendid, if not uncommon—and of the large tortoiseshell the autumn records seem to be largely bereft; and the silver-marbled fritillaries, so conspicuously associated with blackberry bushes, are among the victims. The purple emperor, which generally appears in considerable quantities in the southern counties, also missed his July appearance in several favorite haunts.—From the London Daily Mail.

"Sovereign Brand" garments are full of it and priced at $12 to $30 for Suit or Overcoat.
