The opinion is strongly prevalent that Cobalts are a good buy now, especially in the cheaper stocks. There are more buying than selling orders, but most of them have a limit, and many good investments are stopped by the inability of the broker to go even 1-4 above the price set. The market will be firmer from now on till fall, and buyers have good opportunities for profitable speculation.

Foster was again very active yesterday, going to 68, but selling off again and closing at 65 3-4. La Rose was also in demand, advancing to 8.22 and closing at 8.19, a gain of over ten points over the previous day. On the Toronto Stock Peakers it sold at 8.28 with a strong BRADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW

Montreal—There has been but little change in conditions during the past week. Fall stocks are moving well and the outlook for future business continues exceedingly bright. There is still some sorting trade in summer drygoods. The continued excellence of Western crop conditions seem to be encouraging retailers throughout that country and they are showing a tendency to order more liberally than they have heretofor done.

Toronto—The movement of fall goods continues brisk and the general tendency to trade is towards a greater volume. Crop reports from all parts of the western provinces. Manufacturers here state that this year's business will far exceed that of last and in some cases they are inclined to believe the total business will compare well with that of 1957. Winnipeg wholesale merchants there in all lines report an excellent volume of business during the past week. Vancouver and Victoria reports throughout the province continues good in all lines report an excellent volume of business during the past week. The demand for wholesale trade, orders to hand are for immediate wants.

ambition happened to point toward base-ball success, wouldn't you?

You'd sort of wonder if a job as receiving teller on a street ear at 25 cents an hour and a good run wasn't better than being a bush league failure. Yes? What!

But Kusel didn't. It might be all right for Sweeney to give up because he had been used rough, he told some sympathetic friend, but he intended to make another try, and still another if necessary. He did. When released by one team he turned temporarily to independent baseball, and between games collected nickles and ran the jingler on a street ear.

It was after he had pitched for semi-professional teams, Sharon, in the O. and P. League, and Akron, in the same organization, that Kusel, in 1906, was given a trial by Cleveland. After the Naps released the youngster he played independent ball until the fall of 1908, when he was signed by Saginaw, of Joe Jackson's Southern Michigan League.

In 1908 Kusel didn't show much class, chiefly because he was not well, it is said, but when the spring of 1909 rolled around, as spring have a habit of doing, he showed upin splendid condition.

Losing his first game through poor support, Kusel started a string of victories which continued until he had won twelve straight, a league record.

In his thirteenth game, a twelve-inning affair, Kusel was beaten when the Saginaw shortstop threw the ball into the bleachers on an easy chance. The game was only played for seven innings, on account of darkness descending. There was a short dispute, in which the Emeralds' manager claimed that he agreed to play nine innings, but the matter was promptly settled by President Dresback deciding that seven innings were enough. Mr. Dresback's decision met with the approval of all, and was the only reasonable one, in view of the circumstances. The teams should call a meeting and settle this matter definitely. The days are becoming shorter, and if the teams want to play a full game they should start at 6.30. Most of the games won lately have been in the last inning, and the losing teams attribute their defeat to the cause already mentioned.

There was a change last evening in the unpires. Jack Anderson has retired and claims that he cannot satisfy all the teams. Mr. Anderson's decisions recently did not meet with the approval of the crowd. He has a wide knowledge of the game, and, regardless of his personal interests, which every true sport is bound to have, he has faithfully erved the league. Mr. Anderson is a square, level-headed umpire, and it will be some time before they will fiftd one as good. Last night Mr. Northcote acted as the lumpire and Jack Lavis looked after the bases.

At Central School grounds last night the Western Thisties were defeated by the Young Dominions by a score of 11-7. McCormack, for the losers, pitched a fine game, and would have won but for errors by the outfield. Shepley pitched good ball for the Dominions, but was hit very hard, but not at opportune times. Martin brothers showed fine form, as also did Pabst. Batteries: McCormack and Slater; Shepley and Male.

BEACH LEAGUE.

Another good game of ball was dished up in the Beach League last night before a large crowd at Dynes', when Station 26 and Station 4 crossed bats. From the start the result was always in doubt, but in the last inning Station 26 found its eye and batted the ball for winning runs. The final score was 0—7 in favor of Station 26. The line-up was as follows:
