

THE DREAM.

I sit in my chair by the blazing fire,
And dream away my life,
And the laughing flames rise higher and higher,
As I dream of a little while,
On my shoulder I feel a pressure sweet,
And seem like the dove - O white -
About my neck in a warm clasp meet,
And the flames flash brighter and brighter,
As I dream of gold pour over my face,
As I dream of her bosom's pillow
Sit down in a cloud of perfumed lace,
That leaves like foam on the billow;
And I hear her warm hair's quickening heat,
And her eyes grow bright as fire,
As my lips are covered with kisses sweet,
And the flames leap higher and higher,
A soft cheek presses close to my own,
And the sweet smile of her divine;
Like a butterfly on a calm lake thrown
Her pulses the smiles efface;
A low-like laugh and her breathing breast
Heaves joyous - higher and higher;
How happy my lot, and how sweet my rest,
With a wife in the fire!

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TREUMSETH DIVISION.

GENTLEMEN, - In the ordinary course of events, you would now have been called upon to exercise the highest privilege of citizenship by determining who should be the exponent of your opinions and the guardian of your interests in the Legislative Council of Canada. The period for which you elected me has expired, and my intention was again to present myself to your notice, with the view of inviting your judgment upon my parliamentary conduct, and soliciting a renewal of your confidence.

The approaching change in the constitutional relations and the government of the Province has occasioned an alteration in the law under which this privilege and this duty would have returned. In anticipation of the modification by the Imperial and Provincial authorities of the scheme of Confederation, I have been deputed to represent the Province in the Legislative Council of Canada, my own feeling and judgment were to return to the old principle of nomination by the Crown. I have so much faith in the judgment as well as the integrity of the people in their impulses as well as in their more deliberate purpose - that I should have desired to see both bodies of our confederate legislature elective. The various provisions, however, were opposed to an elective Upper House; and to secure harmony and perfect a plan on which just action might be invoked, the representatives of Canada in the Quebec Conference yielded the point. It was one of a series of compromises, of which individually we may not approve, but the necessity of which we must consider to have been apparent to those in whose hands the interests of Canada were entrusted.

I have the satisfaction of knowing, moreover, that if the scheme as it now stands shall be hereafter found not to regulate the wishes of the people, a change will for a time be practicable. The whole will for a time stand in the light of an experiment, the working of every part of which will be watched carefully, anxiously, and perhaps even jealously. Should experience dictate a reform in the constitution of the Upper House, the legislature of the United Province arrive at the conclusion that the principle of Crown nomination is unsuitable to the size or the circumstances - I know of nothing which will prevent the adoption of the elective principle. Then as now - in this matter as in others - the will of the people will make or unmake without other hindrances than those which spring from the more forms of law.

I trust that you have known me long enough, and well enough, to be assured that though I am not returned to solicit your voice I shall endeavor to maintain the close and cordial relations with you, which have happily existed during the last eight years. I shall still consider myself one of your representatives, and as such shall be ready, to the extent of my ability, to promote your interests, and to give effect to the principles which I hold in common with a large majority of yourselves. In this I shall be stimulated by a remembrance of your favoring kindness, and the strong sense of gratitude which your confidence has inspired.

I have the honor to be,
Your most obedient servant,
DONALD McDONALD,
18th September, 1866.
